VOTE OUT KELLY MACHINE RULE, GREEN DEMANDS

City Election Vital, Governor Warns.

Charging that Mayor Edward J. Kelly "is the apostle of meddling, muddling and bungling and the proconsul in Chicago of the burocrats," Gov. Dwight H. Green last night told a Republican rally in the Hotel Sherman that "the Kelly city hall gang is the last bulwark of the political machines" in this country and must be destroyed.

Several thousand Republican precinct captains and workers jammed into the grand ballroom of the hotel to hear Gov. Green; Sen. Albert W. Hawkes [R., N. J.], the man who beat the Frank Hague New Jersey machine last November; Former State Representative Richard J. Lyons and others speak in behalf of George B. McKibbin for mayor.

Gov. Green described the coming mayoral election as the most vitally important election ever held in Chicago.

Election "Vitally Important."

"It is the most vitally important," he said, "because the citizens of this great city will decide whether they will continue to live under the blight of the most ruthless political machine within our memory, or whether they will free themselves from the shackles of boss control."

Gov. Green told the gathering that he spoke "as a fellow citizen of Illinois, and as one of your co-workers who is intensely interested in rescuing our city from the clutches of an oligarchy of graft, greed, and spoils politics."

"It is not necessary for me now to recite the details of the evils which the Kelly machine has inflicted upon Chicago during its 10 year orgy of misrule," Gov. Green said.

"We are all too familiar with the prostitution of our public education system to political aggrandizement—with the complete breakdown of civil service—with the ignoring of the community districts of the city so that Kelly can talk about that very tragic phrase which we have come to know as 'Kelly's follies.'

Cites "Kelly's Follies."

"Those are the follies which promise to bring you down to the State street which Kelly has provided in the loop, and those are the follies which Kelly has emphasized when he talks about Chicago's skyline and Chicago's mythical subway.

"But those same follies, just as we expect the follies of stage fame to present a true picture of life, present only what Kelly likes to talk about and do not convey the slightest presentation of the neglected schools, the unpaved streets, the dirty alleys, the neglected parks, and the utter contempt of the Kelly city hall organization for the benefit of the individual people who live in Chicago."

Gov. Green called attention to the fact that more than 600,000 Illinois boys and young men have gone into the nation's military forces, and that of these, probably half are from Chicago.

Demands End of Bungling.

"They will march home victoriously," he said, "but when they do come they should find even a better life than the one which they risked their lives to defend—freedom from the present bungling, meddling, and interfering with the private lives, the private interests, and the private enterprises of those who stood behind them on the home front while they were fighting on the battle fronts.

"I am telling you now that there isn't a man or woman in this gathering who can't go forth and frankly tell every friend and every neighbor that until the bungling of burocracy is ended we shall have no victory on the home front."

Gov. Green said the Kelly city hall gang "is the last bulwark of the political machines."

"In New York, New Jersey, Kansas City, their power has been destroyed," he continued. "Chicago still remains the sole citadel of shameful politics where boss control of the lives of individual people still exists. Cloaking themselves under those things that have been prescribed by the burocracy which has muddled and confused na-

PASSES REBUKE TO PRESIDENT BY 268-131 TALLY

Measure Now Goes to Senate.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The house today voted repeal of the Roosevelt administration's $25,000 salary limitation which was imposed last year by executive decree.

Calling for return to government by law within the limits of the Constitution, the chamber approved the history making measure by a margin of better than 2 to 1, thus ending two days of some of the bitterest debate in modern congressional history.

The action came just a week after President Roosevelt began his 11th year in the White House and, according to congressional circles, marked the most severe blow dealt his prestige since he assumed office.

Ranks with Court Defeat.

The only other setback approaching it in scope, according to congressional leaders, was the defeat of his court packing scheme in 1937 and this, it was remarked, was pigeonholed before it ever came to an actual showdown.

Besides repealing his salary limiting order, the measure also provided for an increase of the national debt limit to 210 billion dollars. The legislation was adopted on a roll call by a vote of 268 to 131.

It now goes to the senate and if adopted in its present form will have to be accepted in its entirety by Mr. Roosevelt. If he approves of the debt limit increase, he will also have to accept the congressional rebuke for his issuance of the salary edict. If he refuses to accept the rebuke, he will also have to veto the new limit on borrowing power asked by the treasury for war financing.

Establishes Salary Ceiling.

Specifically, the repeal measure, introduced by Rep. Wesley E. Disney [D., Okla.] would establish a salary ceiling in place of the Presidential order. Under his proposition, those who were making more than $25,000 a year before Pearl Harbor could continue to receive these salaries but could receive no increases whatever. Those who were making less could receive increases up to $25,000 but no more, subject to various other controls in existing law.

A shrewd parliamentary maneuver by the G. O. P. leadership in the final tense moments of the session forestalled an administration coup which conceivably might have upset the revolt and certainly would have forced a separate roll call on the repealer.

It had been evident that, all else failing, the Democratic leadership would seek to recommit the measure with instructions to the ways and means committee to strike out the Disney proposal. But when the time came for the recommittal motion, just before the question on the bill, Rep. Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], who led the administration fight, and Rep. Jesse Wolcott [R., Mich.] sprang to their feet at the same time.

Speaker Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.] was forced under house rules to rec-

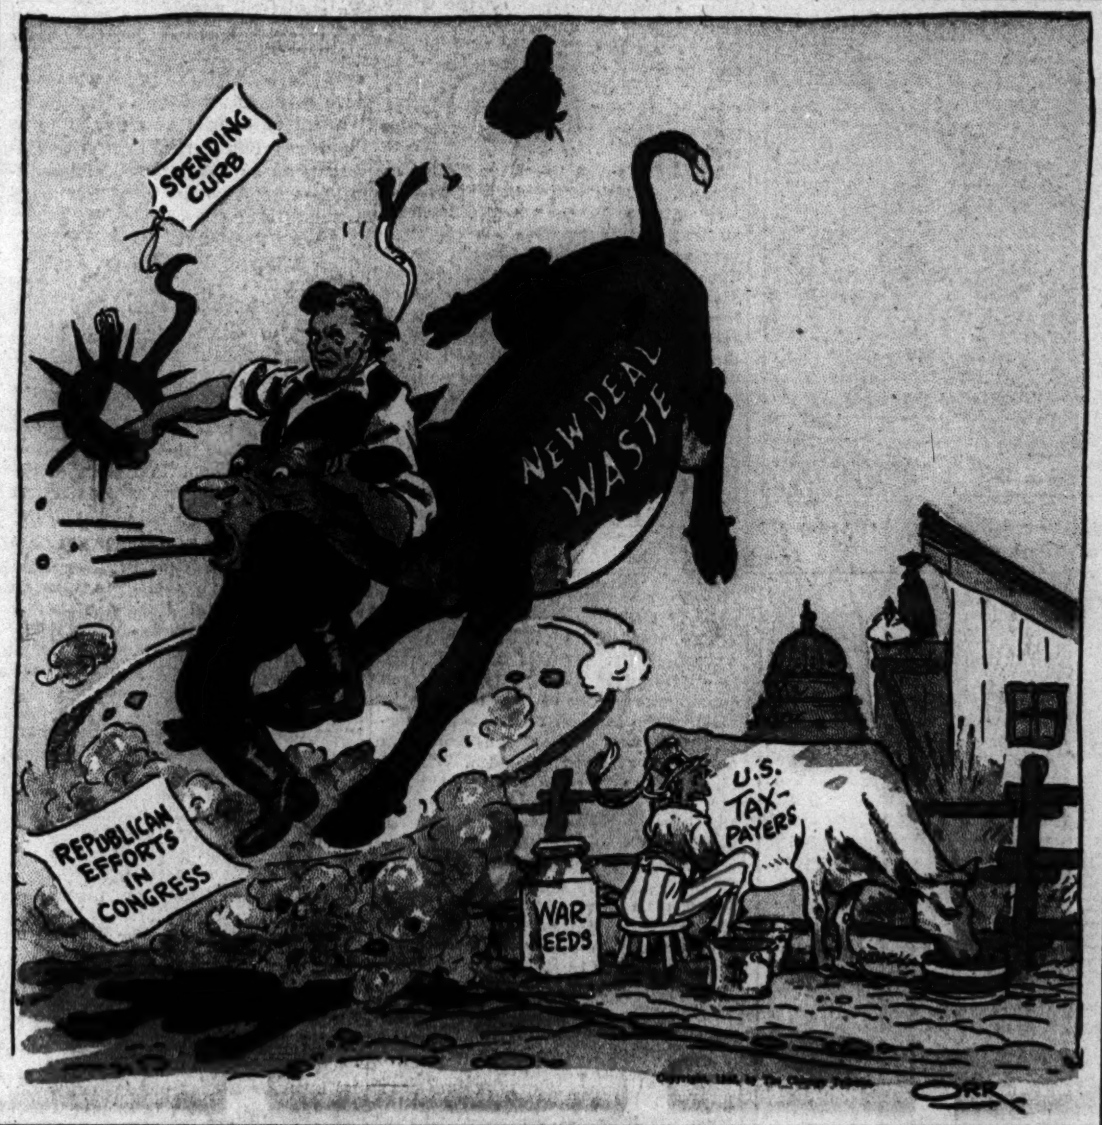
PUSSY WILLOWS ARE FLOWERS, COURT FINDS, SO OWNER IS FINED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—Noah Gardiner of West Croydon brought some pussy willows with him to Charing Cross station, London, on the train. He was arrested and charged with "conveying on a train a bunch of decorative foliage contrary to the transport of flowers order," which is designed to save railway transport for something more essential. Gardiner was arraigned in Bow Street court. He insisted the pussy willows were not foliage and Magistrate McKenna consulted the dictionary. The dictionary disclosed that foliage meant not only cluster leaves, but also flowers. As pussy willows are catkins, and therefore flowers, Magistrate McKenna said that seemed to cover the case. He imposed a fine of 2 shillings [about 40 cents].

THE JOB OF WEANING THAT 10 YEAR OLD CALF



LION WAITS 12 YEARS FOR A FIANCEE; GETS 3, BUT 20 DAYS TOO LATE

MADRID, Spain, March 12 (AP).—Precioso, the lion, an unwilling victim of the war and a fast which lasted almost as long as Gandhi's, breathed his last yesterday at the side of three grief-stricken fiancées for whom he had waited 12 years.

Captured in Portuguese Africa when he was a cub, Precioso was the darling of the Lisbon zoo for 12 years but each spring he became more and more restless and mournful until zoo experts decided his celibate life was ruining his health. The Spanish lion tamer, Dola, whose three lionesses likewise were pining away in Madrid, finally purchased Precioso.

At some railway siding along the way to Madrid Precioso was abandoned for important war freight. When his freight car was finally traced, Precioso was a mere shadow of himself and hardly strong enough to eat food after a 20 day fast. When he arrived in Madrid yesterday and staggered into the cage beside the sympathetic lionesses, he looked at them, sighed, and died.

M'ARTHUR'S AIR CHIEF TO CONFER WITH PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., March 12 [Special].—President Roosevelt disclosed at his press conference today that within the next two or three days he will confer with Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of allied air forces in the southwest Pacific and hero of the great victory of the Bismarck sea.

It is common belief here that Gen. Kenney and his staff came here for two main purposes: First, to urge in Gen. MacArthur's name that more planes be rushed to that area, and, second, to map out future stategy for the increasingly important southwest Pacific theater.

There have been warnings from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, repeated here yesterday by Secretary of War Henry Stimson, that the Japanese are reinforcing their air strength in that area, where they have numerous bases. Both MacArthur's headquarters and Stimson have predicted that bitter fighting is in store.

Rejected by Army, Says He Can Lick Brother Who's In

Des Moines, Ia., March 12 (AP).—State selective service officials today received a letter from a rejected man who protested against a ruling declaring him unfit for service. "Now that you have turned me down," the letter said, you, in all fairness, must discharge my brother from the service. I never saw the day that I couldn't lick him." State officials said the brother was overseas.

Vichy's Police Hunt Fleeing Youths in Alps

BERNE, Switzerland, March 12 (AP).—The Vichy government was reported by the Geneva Tribune to have sent 800 police guards in armored cars into the Haute Savoie region of the Alps tonight in an effort to subdue well armed guerrillas whose ranks were swelled by French youths seeking to escape compulsory labor in Germany.

The Tribune reported from Lyons that all youths between 20 and 23 were being drafted for factories and sent immediately behind the German lines in Russia to work on fortifications and the like.

The Tribune said Vichy decrees ordering general mobilization has caused consternation and that the atmosphere was charged with the same tension that accompanied the outbreak of the war.

Led by French Officers.

The newspaper said the situation in the Haute Savoie, where Italian occupation troops have replaced Germans sent to the Russian front, was becoming more and more strained. The fugitives who have taken their place in the Romme plateau above Cluse, Araches, and elsewhere already number several thousand.

The youths for the most part are "very well armed and firmly resolved to defend themselves," the newspaper said. Some had 75 mm. cannon as well as machine guns. Officers of all grades headed them and they were said to have the moral support of many priests who also are fugitives.

The Vichy government of Pierre Laval intervened with arms in an endeavor to meet German demands for an additional 250,000 workers to help keep German war industry running at full blast.

Border Closed to Officials.

Mobile Republican guards and mobile units of the state police were reported dispatched into the forest wilds and refuge heights to subdue the young French.

During the last two days no French official has been permitted to cross the frontier.

Vichy was silent on a London story that the patriots had killed about 300 Germans last month. Berlin curtly denied the report.

La Suisse of Geneva said workers called up for Germany prefer to quit their jobs for the mountain fastnesses where "veritable" resistance is being organized. The newspaper said 500 men under orders of Gen. Cartier and officers of the 27th regiment of Annecy were quartered in the mountains next to the Swiss border.

Refuged in the mountains and high plateaus and forests, the guerrilla units are fed by French people.

NAZIS WILL CLOSE OR MERGE MORE THAN 900 PAPERS, PERIODICALS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

More than 100 German daily newspapers and more than 800 periodicals will be closed or be merged with other publications to release man power and material for war purposes, the Berlin radio said yesterday.

A new measure provides that German cities with less than 100,000 population may have only one newspaper and that outside Berlin there will be no Sunday sports sections and no papers on Monday.

The radio estimated that one-sixth of Germany's 750 newspapers would disappear for the duration of the war. Party and official organs, however, will not come under the order.

ONE IN EVERY 20 LETTERS GOES TO TAX COLLECTOR

One of every 20 letters handled by the Chicago postoffice yesterday went to the collector of internal revenue, making him the biggest postoffice customer in the city's history.

With only two business days left for filing income tax returns, the collector's office estimated it received 150,000 letters yesterday. Most of them contained checks. A continued flood was expected today and bureau employés were ordered to work tomorrow, altho the offices will be closed to the public.

The number of persons seeking assistance in filling out tax forms fell slightly yesterday, from a peak of 5,500 last Saturday and 4,800 on Thursday to about 4,200. At noon, however, the four abreast line stretched thru the block long building. About 7,500 passed thru another line to make their payments. Somewhere in it was a man who handed over a check for $7,500,000—the quarterly payment on a corporation's 30 million dollar tax bill. The identity of the biggest taxpayer to show up so far was kept a secret.

The collector's office said more than 10,000 persons appeared at branch offices.

Gorilla's Priority Brings Sugar from Cuba by Plane

HAVANA, Cuba, March 12.—Fifty pounds of brown sugar left Havana by plane today, under special authorization from Washington, D. C., en route to Sarasota, Fla., for Toto, female gorilla raised in Cuba. Toto's ration card failed to provide sufficient sugar to keep her in good health. She will continue to receive sugar from Cuba.

LONDON, March 13 [Saturday]—(AP).—The Russians early today announced another withdrawal in the critical third battle for Kharkov, which the Germans said was the scene of bitter street fighting. This soviet retreat was the second in as many days west of the embattled Ukraine bastion.

However, the midnight Moscow communique said that on the south side of the Ukraine stronghold eight waves of attacking Nazis were beaten down, with the enemy losing 23 tanks and 800 men.

The German high command had announced earlier that its troops had broken into the city. Accounts from both sides made it clear the battle was approaching the magnitude of the fight for Stalingrad. The Russians stressed that their troops were combatting "numerically superior" forces, reënforced by reserves from western Europe.

Axis Version of Battle.

Late last night the house-to-house struggle still was going on, German radio reports said. Rome's station quoted Berlin dispatches as saying Nazi troops "occupy the northern and western parts of the town."

One Berlin propaganda agency earlier had been quoted by the German radio as saying Kharkov was recaptured, but this later was qualified to acknowledge "extremely fierce fighting is still in progress in south Kharkov."

The Russians were under assault not only at Kharkov, but on a long line running southeast of the city into the Donetz basin. In the Izyum sector, 75 miles southeast of Kharkov, the midnight communique said one soviet unit killed 300 Germans and destroyed 11 tanks in repulsing a German attack.

A company of enemy troops also was knocked out in another sector in this area, said the bulletin recorded by the soviet monitor here.

Vyazma Taken by Storm.

Altho hard pressed in the Ukraine, the Russians' situation was brighter on the front west of Moscow, where they recaptured the important base of Vyazma yesterday after killing 9,000 Germans. Altho the Germans earlier had said they had abandoned Vyazma, the Russians asserted it fell only after a "determined assault" as the Red army pushed westward toward Smolensk, 100 miles away.

Smolensk was threatened by other Russian troops striking down from the Bely sector, 80 miles to the northeast, and auxiliary Red army formations fanning out between Vyazma and Bely in the Sychevka sector.

Counter Peril at Kharkov.

Military observers here said the Russian reverses near Kharkov were counterbalanced by the capture of Vyazma, the last Hitlerian strong point between Moscow and Smolensk.

The only other major action reported on the Russian front was a raid by Russian planes on the Nazi airdrome at Orel, hinge of the central and southern fronts. Fifteen planes were destroyed and 20 damaged, the communique said.

The Moscow radio asserted last night that the Germans had shot or poisoned 15,000 to 18,000 men, women, and children during their occupation of Rostov.

BRITISH FOREIGN CHIEF TO TREAT ON ALLIED AIMS

Russian Problem Set as Chief Topic.

Friend of Soviets

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The Anglo-American conversations which are opening with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's arrival in Washington are regarded as of the highest importance here in ironing out differences among the allied nations, particularly those regarding a future understanding of Russia's sphere of influence and her frontiers in Europe when the allied victory is won. Eden has been the main exponent of the theory that Britain and Europe have nothing to fear from a powerful Russia and has said that this is assuredly a guarantee of the future peace of Europe instead of being a danger. He also negotiated the Anglo-Russian pact of friendship and collaboration which will extend for 20 years beyond the war.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Anthony Eden, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, has arrived in Washington as a guest of the government, the White House announced tonight.

Eden is here for important discussions on the joint operations of the allies in prosecuting the war and to get a first-hand view of the American war program.

According to dispatches from London tonight, Eden will discuss primarily Russia's rôle in the war, and apparently in the peace to follow, because his conversations with American officials are to cover a wide range of political and diplomatic issues, with Russia foremost, according to London sources.

Official Announcement.

Official comment here was restricted to the White House announcement, which said:

"Mr. Anthony Eden, secretary of state for foreign affairs, has arrived in Washington on the invitation of the United States government. The purpose of his visit is to undertake a general exchange of views with the United States government on all aspects of the war situation, and to discuss the most effective method of preparing for meetings between the governments of all united nations to consider questions arising out of the war. Mr. Eden will also wish to see at first hand something of the great war effort of the United States."

Eden flew to the United States in the same American Liberator bomber in which British Prime Minister Winston Churchill traveled to the Casablanca conference, it was dis-

Poles Wire Protest to F. D. R.

Activities of a rival "Free Poland" group in Moscow are causing alarm among officials of the Polish government in exile in Washington. Details on Page 2.

Chicago's Poles have sent stern warnings to President Roosevelt on soviet Russia's claims to the eastern areas of Poland, it became known last night. The texts of the protests await release at the White House.

The protests are an expression of the 5,000,000 members of the Council of Poles in America, according to Francis Swietlik, dean of the law school at Marquette university, Milwaukee, Wis., and president of the organization. In a telegram upon which the council agreed, Swietlik protested the recent announcement of soviet Russia that eastern Poland is to become a part of Russia in any post-war settlement.

Based on Three Points.

The protest set forth three points:

1. That Poles consider the attitude on Poland's territory a new partition of Poland, contrary to the aims of the World war.

2. That the Polish government is justified in resenting the newly stated Russian position because it is contrary to all aims of the Atlantic Charter.

3. That Stalin's present stand on Poland is in complete agreement with the attitude of Hitler in that they both are engaged in the conquest of other nationals.

Other members of the Polish council uniting in the protest are: Bishop N. Woznicki of Detroit, Mich.; K. Mickwicz, representing 300,000 members of the Polish National alliance; Mrs. H. Wolowska, chairman of the Polish Women's Alliance in America; John Olejniczak, president of the Polish Roman Catholic union, with 100,000 members.

New Polish Leader Presented.

The Polish stand was reflected last night at a farewell reception given at 120 East Bellevue place by Joseph P. Junosza, director of the Polish Information center, who has been transferred to New York and placed in charge of all information services in the United States for the Polish government. Junosza presented his successor, Janusz L. Stamirowski, formerly an industrialist in Poland.

To the representatives of Chicago's many Polish organizations Junosza also introduced a Polish veteran, Sergt. Paul Prokopieni, a hero of the Polish colony. Prokopieni, known as the "hero of Tobruk," sang Polish airs.

SEEK TO EXPORT IDEAS TO RUSSIA AS LEND-LEASE

Urge Trading of Shortcuts in Production.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Discussions are under way with lend-lease officials in an effort to find a systematic way of making available to Russia the ideas as well as the tangible output of the American war worker.

This was disclosed in one government quarter today while lend-lease officials reported that the United States and Russia already are exchanging information on methods as well as models of new death dealing machines.

Latest evidence of this is the information just brought back from Russia by an American mission which studied soviet synthetic rubber production methods. Also, it was learned Russia has sent two of its best tanks here for testing at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds.

WPB Unit Pushes Plan.

The news that attempts are being made to find a supplemental channel for exchanging ideas with the Russians was released by officials of the war production drive, a WPB unit charged with making merit awards to war workers who make valuable suggestions.

A board for individual awards, composed of 12 engineers and union representatives, is sitting here now grading 250 worker ideas for citations.

Suggestions regarded as suitable for more than one plant are made available to all American manufacturers and, thru the British supply service, to Great Britain. Canada and South American nations are benefiting, too.

The production drive office has taken up the matter of getting such information to Russia with lend-lease officials. It has been suggested a channel may be found thru the soviet embassy or soviet information bureau.

232 Awards Issued.

The board already has issued 232 awards, 71 certificates, and 154 honorable mentions. Labor-management committees have made 40,000 citations locally.

Meanwhile, Washington interest in lend-lease to Russia was spurred by the first official revelation that large quantities of aid are moving to Russia via the Pacific.

The lend-lease administration said that in the last year lend-lease shipments went to Russia by both air and water from the Pacific coast.

Route Goes to Siberia.

A map accompanying the report to congress showed various approximate routes. One line extended from the west coast to Siberia, another from the east coast to the Murmansk-Archangel area, and a third to the Persian gulf-Iran route to Russia.

Shipments across the Pacific to Siberia necessarily would move close to Japanese territory. Russia and this country are allies in the war against Germany, but Russia and Japan are at peace and have a nonaggression agreement. It was regarded by some as probable that Japan had full knowledge of shipments via the Pacific and did not interfere.

PROTESTS ON U. S. WASTE OF PAPER READ TO SENATE

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Characterizing much of government publicity as "absolutely silly," Sen. Rufus Holman [R., Ore.] read to the senate today letters from two newspaper editors attributing reduced newsprint supplies chiefly to government waste.

Robert W. Sawyer of the Bend [Ore.] Bulletin wrote Holman that "our dealer tells us that government demands make it impossible to fill certain printer orders."

Holman also read a letter from C. E. Ingalls, editor of the Corvallis [Ore.] Gazette-Times, to the Portland, Ore., war bond office urging that organization to "cut out 90 per cent of the propaganda and expensive mats that come from the treasury department in reference to bond drives.

"If I get this stuff," he added, "I presume every other newspaper in the United States does also. I have never seen any of them printed.

"I notice by today's dispatches that the government will use 2 billion pounds of paper this year. That, I guess, would print all the newspapers on the Pacific coast."

DE GAULLE ASKS UNITY; WARNS TIME IS SHORT

LONDON, March 13 [Saturday]—(AP).—The Fighting French leader, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, on the eve of negotiations with the Giraud group in North Africa, last night broadcast an appeal to Frenchmen for immediate unity, declaring "time is short and the war is reaching its climax."

"The French nation seeks to retain and organize her forces for the supreme effort of tomorrow," and demands that a unified effort "be concentrated and directed by a single organism in which she can discern her will and dignity and from which she knows that she will have nothing to fear for the future of her sovereign rights," De Gaulle said.

Mayor La Guardia Ill with Throat Infection

New York, March 12 (AP).—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, who has been absent from his city hall office for a week, will be confined to his home for another two days at least with a streptococcus infection of the throat, his secretary, Lester B. Stone, announced today. La Guardia's illness was announced, Stone said, to set aside rumors regarding the mayor's plans. It has been mentioned that he might accept a military post which would take him to North Africa.

Action Flares Along Russian Front

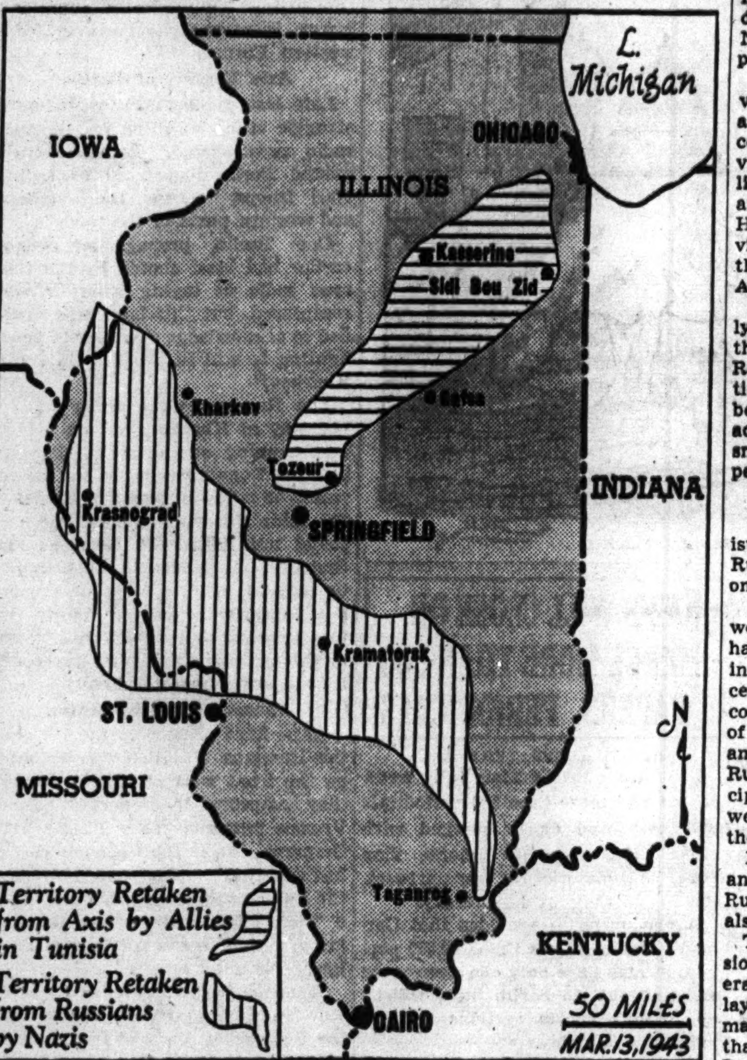
While the Russians were advancing toward Smolensk yesterday the axis forces were beating at the doors of Kharkov.



Superimposed on map of several central western states are the areas regained in central Tunisia (upper right) by the allies since the axis drive last month, and by the Germans in the Donetz basin region in Russia (lower left) since the start of their recent offensive which has carried them to Kharkov.

EX-GLAMOR BOY EDEN SEASONED DIPLOMAT NOW

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Anthony Eden developed from a diplomatic glamor boy of the middle thirties into a seasoned foreign secretary for the second World war.

Today at the age of 45, after being "in and out" of the pre-war cabinet, he is back in the limelight as one of Britain's strong men in politics. His once black hair now is tinged with grey, and the lines in his face are deeper, but he's still dapper as in the days of old when he was the "White Knight of Geneva."

Admitted to the cabinet and privy council when he was only 37, Eden rose quickly to the distinguished rank foreign secretary, but resigned in 1938 after a split with the late Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. He was brought back into the cabinet on the fateful Sept. 3, 1939, as dominions secretary when Chamberlain sought to gain unity after his appeasement program had collapsed and the second World war was on.

Eden's second rise to the foreign secretaryship came on Dec. 23, 1940. Eden, educated at Eton and Oxford, served brilliantly in the first World war to win the rank of brigade major at the age of 21. He was decorated—and later discovered he once fought in a trench opposite Corp. Adolf Hitler.

Asserts Illegal Operation Preceded Daughter's Death

Mrs. Doris Morris, 20 years old, died yesterday in the Edgewater hospital a short time after she had been taken there from her home at 2577 Montrose avenue. Her father, Arthur Ernst, of the same address, said Mrs. Morris had submitted to an illegal operation Feb. 28. Mrs. Morris was the wife of Sherwin Morris, 23, a soldier stationed at a Madison, Wis., airfield.

closed by the British information service.

The dapper, youthful member of the British war cabinet—he is only 45 years old—went immediately to the British embassy upon arrival. He is sheduled to confer with President Roosevelt as soon as he has had an opportunity to rest, probably tomorrow.

Greeted by Welles.

The handsome diplomat was greeted by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, British ambassador Halifax, John Dickerson, chief of the state department's European division, and George Summerlin, chief of protocol for the state department.

In the meantime, Secretary of State Cordell Hull terminated a Florida vacation for a swift trip back to the capital.

In Eden's party were William Strang, British assistant undersecretary of state in charge of European affairs; Oliver Charles Harvey, private secretary to Eden; Robin James Cruikshank, director of the American division of the British ministry of information; Gladwyn Jebb, British foreign office economic reconstruction director, and Michael Wright, who is joining the British embassy here as first secretary.

Visited U. S. in 1938.

This is Eden's first visit to the United States since the war began. His last visit here was in 1938 and was considered a private one, as he was not then secretary of state for foreign affairs, having resigned in a difference of opinion with the late Neville Chamberlain over Britain's policy on the dictatorships.

That the No. 1 topic on Eden's conversation list here will be Russia, as disclosed in London tonight, was considered highly significant here in view of the diplomatic bombshell earlier this week when the American ambassador to Russia, Adm. William H. Standley, bluntly accused the soviet government of withholding from the Russian people the extent of American war aid sent to them.

Altho the state department promptly disowned the statement as unauthorized, and there were denials of Russian concealment from administration leaders in congress, widespread belief prevailed in the capital that the accusation was made deliberately to smoke out Josef Stalin's war and peace plans.

Admit Russia Secretive.

Even in rebuking Standley, administration leaders admitted that the Russians have been highly secretive on their war operations and policies.

Eden's close relations with Russia were regarded by some observers as having more than passing significance in connection with his visit. As recently as Feb. 21 Eden, in a speech commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Red army, told an English audience that Britain and Russia are agreed on the broad principles of collaboration for peace as well as on the utter destruction of the axis.

Eden talked with Premier Stalin and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia in the latter part of 1941 and also visited behind the Russian lines.

The London reports on Eden's mission declared that it will open a new era of American-British relations and lay the foundation for solution of many post-war problems. It was said that the whole question of where Russia fits into the picture will be discussed and talked to an agreement if possible, during Eden's presence here.

Eden is slated to meet with representatives of other allies, including the Russian ambassador, Maxim Litvinov, and possibly Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese generalissimo. It was reported in London by the Press association that Stalin had been informed in advance of Eden's visit and that "there is reason to believe he heard of it with pleasure."

Important stress was placed upon the description of the prospective conversations as "diplomatic and political" rather than military, the primary nature of the earlier discussions between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Eden also is expected to deal frankly with such points of potential Anglo-American conflict as post-war civil aviation, other London dispatches said.

Another important problem expected to demand attention is that of feeding and rehabilitating Europe to prevent chaos there after victory.

Inclusion of Jebb in Eden's official party lent significance to this report.

Bases To Be Discussed.

Other subjects believed likely to be aired include those of security bases each nation is expected to want in the Atlantic and Pacific after the war; Britain's attitude on reconstruction in its far eastern empire, including Hongkong, what plans it holds for India, and the disposition of former Italian territory in Africa; what place the Netherlands East Indies will hold when freed from the Japanese, and a means of meeting the nationalistic desires of both victorious and beaten European nations without sowing the seeds of another war.

It was emphasized in London that while all these subjects might be considered quite fully the discussions would be purely exploratory and certainly not result in any treaties or hard and fast territorial bargains.

It was indicated that little is likely to be made public concerning some of these discussions, except as agreements may be reached.

Expected to Speak.

Plans for Eden's engagements during his visit, which is to last several weeks, were not definitely set, altho tentatively the program calls for him to spend a few days in Washington talks and then visit some war factories and perhaps some military establishments before returning to Washington. No speech dates were made but the possibility of an address or two was not ruled out.

The trip, London reports said, had been planned for several months but had been held up, first by the allied landings in North Africa, then by Eden's taking over commons leadership for the government, and later by the illness of Churchill. United States Ambassador John G. Winant prolonged his visit in this country in order to be here during Eden's visit, and may return to London with him. It is understood he will visit Ottawa, Canada, before returning to London.

POLES ALARMED BY A RIVAL 'FREE' REGIME IN RUSSIA

Ambassador to U. S. Says Reds Run New Group.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Activities of a "Free Poland" group in Moscow aroused anxiety in Polish circles and diplomatic concern in other quarters today for fear that competing governments-in-exile might spring up under opposing sponsorship within the allied nations.

Jan Ciechanowski.

Underlining Vice President Henry A. Wallace's appeal for a satisfactory understanding between Russia and the western democracies was the expressed fear of officials that both Communist and democratic "free" groups might be variously recognized by the soviets and the democracies as the official governments-in-exile for nations now dominated by the axis.

A formal statement issued yesterday by Polish Ambassador Jan Ciechanowski referred specifically to the Moscow newspaper Free Poland, which recently repudiated Polish claims to eastern areas taken over by Russia in 1939 and denounced the "imperialist tendencies" of Polish circles in Britain and the United States. The ambassador said the newly established paper was the mouthpiece of "a group of Communists from Poland who are soviet citizens," and, therefore, was not qualified to express Polish opinions.

Red Secretary in Group.

The "group of Communists" to which the ambassador referred includes Wanda Wasilewska, general secretary of the Communist party of Poland. In 1939—the Communist party having been outlawed in Poland—she was living in the soviet union. When the Red army occupied eastern Poland that September, Wanda Wasilewska and other Communists of the Polish group in Russia went along to Lwow and established the newspaper New Horizons, under the new soviet régime in that area.

When German troops overran the country and drove out the new soviet régime, New Horizons and its staff withdrew eastward and continued publication. That the same group now should come out with a new newspaper bearing the provocative title Free Poland has aroused apprehension in Polish quarters here and in England.

Fear Rival Exile Régime.

Some expressed fear that the group headed by Wanda Wasilewska may at any moment arise as a Polish government-in-exile, rivaling the Polish government-in-exile in London. Polish sources, who asked not to be quoted, explained this fear by referring to the Polish soviet government established in 1920 by Karl Radek and others, during the Polish-Russian war of that year.

At that time Warsaw seemed on the verge of falling into the hands of the Red army. However, almost overnight, the Red troops were driven back, the organization of a soviet Poland was dropped, and Radek and his Polish Communist colleagues withdrew into Russia—where most of them eventually were liquidated as Trotskyists.

ASSERTS JAPAN MUST BE BOMBED FROM SIBERIA

Writer Calls on U. S. to Seek Russian Bases.

Soviet Russia must yield bases for air attack on Japan if the United States is to strike swift and effective blows at that enemy nation, Henry C. Wolfe, writer on Asiatic affairs, told the Executives club in Hotel Sherman yesterday.

Wolfe, author of "The German Octopus," quit Japan in June, 1941. He said he was persuaded then that the war with the United States started when the United States placed an embargo on materials, such as oil and scrap metal, to Japan.

He praised Col. Carlos P. Romulo, President Quezon of the Philippines as outstanding figures waging war against the Japanese influence and warlike aims and cited the move of Emilio Aguinaldo in joining the Japanese as an example of the far reaching effect of the fifth columns in the far east.

America Fooled by Japs.

Wolfe's theme was that the Japs begged their case, citing their needs for vital materials and pleading their weakness. This course, he said, caught the United States unaware.

Sketching the background of the war in the Pacific, he asserted that the Japs had been guided at all times by the Nazis' most skilful propaganda agents. He blamed the British as "idiots" in their conduct with natives in Burma and asserted the Dutch were just as stupid in the East Indies.

"The east Asia co-prosperity sphere movement set in motion by the Japanese may develop into the greatest empire ever known in history," said Wolfe. "There are all the needs of oil, tin, every material for war and one million colored peoples to back it up. The greatest danger we can face is to fall into the belief that island to island conquest will defeat Japan.

Urges Smashing Jap Cities.

"To beat the Pan-Asia idea we must destroy the great industrial centers as soon as possible. They are exposed if we get the bases in Siberia and those cities must be destroyed if we are to defeat the Japanese empire.

"If we allow the Japs to consolidate their great conquests, we have lost the war. But if we destroy by bombs and fire the great cities of Tokio, Osaka, Kioto, Nagasaki, Kobe, and Yokohama, we shall extinguish their power and their centers. That is their great fear, too.

"That is why I say our statesmen should be able to get the bases in Siberia from which we can launch such attacks. Surely we can get that for our lend-lease aid to Russia. Especially is this true when we recognize that the Russians are aware that should they falter the Japs will strike them on the instant.

"If this were done and done at once we might well expect an end to the war in the Pacific before the end of the war in the Atlantic and in Europe."

PRESS TELLS RUSSIANS OF WALLACE'S FEAR OF ANOTHER WORLD WAR

MOSCOW, March 12 (AP).—The soviet press today published for the first time an account of the address made by Vice President Henry A. Wallace last Monday in which he expressed his fear that another World war was inevitable "unless the western democracies and Russia come to a satisfactory understanding before the war ends."

The Russian people also were informed thru the press of a statement by Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius Jr. detailing aid sent to Russia by the United States. The statement already had been broadcast. Tass news agency listed the material as follows: "Hundreds of telephones, hundreds of thousands of miles of telephone wire, 99,000 transport machines and tanks, not included among which were 72,000 trucks, 7,700 motorcycles, 1,300 war tractors as well as almost 3,000,000 pairs of army boots and 18,000 tons of hide for shoe soles."

Publication of the two statements followed by four days American Ambassador William H. Standley's assertion that the Russian people were not being told the full story of lend-lease help.

ANTI-4TH TERM BILLS VOTED IN 2 LEGISLATURES

Iowa House and Michigan Senate Take Action.

Action seeking to limit the tenure of Presidents of the United States to two terms was taken yesterday in legislative chambers of two states. The movement among state legislatures for a fourth term ban originated in Illinois with a resolution passed Wednesday by the state senate. Here are details of yesterday's actions:

Des Moines, Ia., March 12 [Special].—The Iowa house of representatives went on record today as opposed to more than two terms in office for the President of the United States. It adopted, 88 to 8, a resolution petitioning congress to move to limit the Presidential tenure and sent the legislation to the state senate.

The 88 aye voters were Republicans; dissenters were Democrats.

The resolution, introduced by 52 representatives, was taken up this morning under a suspension of rules which normally prevent consideration of any resolution on the day it is introduced.

Offers Alternative Plans.

The resolution suggests either that congress adopt a proposed constitutional amendment and submit it to the states for ratification or that it call a constitutional convention and have the suggested amendment submitted.

Rep. A. L. Doud Jr. [Douds], chief sponsor of the resolution, told the house that "no man, no matter how great he may think he is, should disregard the historic precedents of Washington and Jefferson."

"Now that the rumbles of even a fourth term are being heard and the Roosevelt lieutenants already have started the fourth term bandwagon, this legislature should again call the people's attention to the historic precedent that no man until Roosevelt had the temerity to break.

Cites Mrs. F. D. R.'s Words.

"Mrs. Roosevelt herself has written in her daily newspaper column that this talk of a fourth term is detrimental to the war effort.

"We might suggest to Mrs. Roosevelt that it might serve well if she would tell her husband instead of merely writing it in her newspaper column."

A Democratic member, Rep. William Johannes [Osceola] spoke against the resolution, saying:

"I am willing to go along with the majority sentiment of the people and the majority are satisfied, and this resolution won't do any good anyway."

The resolution called for a copy to be sent to President Roosevelt.

TAKE MICHIGAN ACTION

Lansing, Mich., March 12 [Special].—The Michigan senate today adopted, without record vote, a concurrent resolution memorializing congress to submit to a constitutional convention a proposed amendment limiting the Presidential tenure of office to two four-year terms.

The measure, sponsored by Senators Joseph A. Baldwin [Albion] and Audley Rawson [Cass City], both Republicans, cited the "sound traiditional limitation of two terms for any one person, first suggested and subscribed to by George Washington."

It declared "the traditional limitation has been surely demonstrated to the people of the United States by the first breach thereof . . . and should be translated into a positive mandate of the people by action."

The resolution further stated that it constitutes "a continuing application for the call of a convention."

Congress was asked to "provide by resolution that this application be presented to each succeeding congress until two-thirds of the states have made similar application."

The seven senate Democrats did not demand that their votes against the resolution be recorded.

The house referred the resolution to its rules and resolutions committe and was expected to approve it shortly in view of the Republican predominance in that chamber.

Praises Tribune for Effort to Add to Alcohol Supply

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—E. M. Mills, president of Rayonier, Inc., one of America's largest lumber and wood pulp producers, this afternoon complimented THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S construction of a sulphite liquor alcohol plant as an act of patriotism. He referred to a plant nearing completion at Thorold, Canada, which will produce alcohol, needed for synthetic rubber and explosives, from sulphite liquor, which is a nuisance waste at wood pulp mills.

"We are ready to follow this example," said Mr. Mills, "at any time the government requests it. However, our studies to date indicate that we wouldn't be justified in spending stockholders' money for sulphite liquor salvage for alcohol. When the submarine menace is abated and imports of molasses are resumed, the sulphite liquor product will not be able to compete in price with alcohol from this normal peacetime source.

Willing to Coöperate.

"I'm sure THE TRIBUNE company was aware of this economic situation when it launched its alcohol project. That's why I'm sure it was motivated by patriotism and not by prospects of profits.

"If the government decides that national interests require alcohol production from sulphite liquor—if it should decide the food shortage must curtail distillation of grains and if it should decide the drain on oil reserves prohibited synthetic alcohol production from petroleum—then, of course, Rayonier will be glad to coöperate.

"Our company is continuing its research into processes for sulphite liquor utilization and its study of the economic feasibility of alcohol production from this source. First we are faced with man power and material shortages to build the plants. And secondly, we are faced with costs of sulphite liquor alcohol higher than the costs of alcohol from other sources, especially the low cost black molasses. Furthermore, by the time enough plants could be built for sulphite liquor to contribute substantially to war requirements for alcohol, the war may be over."

First in America.

The Thorold project, owned by the Ontario Paper company, THE TRIBUNE'S paper making subsidiary, is the first modern sulphite liquor plant to be built in the western hemisphere. Refinements in the process incorporated in its Canadian installation have been made available to the entire industry as a contribution by this newspaper to the war resources of the United States and Canada.

It is estimated that 90 million gallons of alcohol a year could be produced by processing all of the 9 billion gallons of sulphite liquor annually dumped in lakes, streams, and oceans by American wood pulp mills, 90 million gallons of alcohol without tapping national reserves of foodstuffs and petroleum.

ASSERTS TRANSIT MERGER HEADING FOR BANKRUPTCY

Oral arguments on the proposed 179 million dollar traction unification were continued yesterday noon by the Illinois Commerce commission, soon after Asst. Atty. Gen. William R. Morgan had started a long speech opposing the consolidation. Morgan, assigned as counsel for the commission by Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, will have an opportunity to resume his argument Monday afternoon.

In his opening paragraphs Morgan said the plan as presented was "destined for grief" and would leave Chicago with an obsolete transportation system sure to slide back into bankruptcy.

At the start of the session Commissioner William Parrillo asked William H. Sexton, attorney for the city, what stand he and the city took toward the plan as outlined. Sexton refused to give any opinion on the plan as a whole, asserting that the ordinance incorporated in it was plain, and that his duty was to the ordinance only. When Parrillo said this didn't show where the city stood Sexton retorted: "That baby is in your lap."

OWI SEEKS TO OPEN BUREAU IN MOSCOW; SOVIET O. K. AWAITED

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The office of war information is considering establishing an outpost bureau in Moscow, OWI officials said today, but the plan has not received final approval.

Presumably the project is being explained to the soviet government thru diplomatic channels. Officials said no formal announcement will be made until these negotiations have been completed.

OWI already operates 28 bureaus thruout the world. They distribute information regarding the American war effort.

TELLS 'TERRIBLE' FOOD CONDITIONS AT MARTINIQUE

Fugitive Unable Even to Feed Baby.

CASTRIES, Saint Lucia, B. W. I., March 12 (AP).—Conditions on the Island of Martinique, are described as "too terrible" by George Lardaux, a former citizen of the French possession who has just reached here with his wife and baby.

Lardaux said he and his family fled Martinique chiefly because of the infant, for whom it was impossible to obtain adequate food. They sailed at night across the 24 mile Martinique channel to reach here.

Many persons have come here recently from Martinique—some in fishing canoes—to escape from what they described as an island of "misery and sadness." They say there is a shortage of essentials of every kind.

[Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles said Monday that food shipments from the United States to Martinique were suspended in November. The move was believed designed to force a showdown over the status of some 170,000 tons of French merchant shipping in the Caribbean. Adm. Georges Robert, high commissioner of Martinique, apparently has remained loyal to the Vichy government despite agreements with the United States.]

Nazi Radio Hails Robert.

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP).—The German radio in Paris expressed "relief and joy" last night because Adm. Georges Robert, French high commissioner at Martinique, "did not budge an inch" in negotiations with the United States.

"We knew that Sumner Welles [United States undersecretary of state] took the decision not to send any more food to Martinique as long as this stubborn officer would not give in," the broadcast said.

It added that Robert had refused requests for coöperation with Adm. Jean Darlan and Gen. Henri Giraud.

CLEVELAND WAR WORKERS REBEL ON TAX RETURNS

Thousands Refuse to File, Says Collector.

Cleveland, O., March 12 (AP).—Thousands of war plant workers in the Cleveland area are assuming a "come and get me" attitude toward the income tax collector, Frank F. Gentsch, collector of internal revenue, said today.

With the number of returns showing a decrease of 30 per cent from the corresponding period last year, Gentsch said lawyers touring war plants to help workers fill out income tax forms reported a rebellious undercurrent.

Jail Terms Threatened.

"They tell me that thousands of workers, approached on the matter of making out returns, have refused point blank," he said. "They have replied: 'Let the government come and get me.'

"There is only one thing left to us in those cases. That is to gather up the evidence and take it to the United States attorney. Those who wilfully refuse to file returns or who wilfully fail to pay their taxes are liable to a fine up to $10,000 or imprisonment from 1 to 10 years, or both. Besides, we can place a lien against their property and their wages and collect.

No Alternative, Says Collector.

"We are not anxious to put people in jail, but if they will not obey the law there is no alternative."

Gentsch said in an interview that his information had come from attorneys for industrial concerns whom war plants asked to help employés make out tax forms. Gentsch said he knew of no reason for the workers' attitude.

Latest figures in the Cleveland office show 277,365 returns received up to Wednesday, a decrease of 119,106 from the comparable 1942 period.

U. S. VESSEL SUNK BY SUBMARINE IN MID-ATLANTIC

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The navy announced today that a medium size United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed and sunk by a submarine in mid-Atlantic late in January. Survivors have now been landed at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Miami, Fla. The sinking brought to 622 the number of vessels lost in the Atlantic area since Pearl Harbor, according to an unofficial tabulation by the Associated Press.

80 More Norwegians Held by Nazis, Stockholm Hears

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 12 (AP).—The Nazi Gestapo has arrested at least 80 more Norwegians in new raids on several towns in Norway, reports reaching here from Oslo state. More than 50 arrests were made at Trondheim, while approximately 30 were made at Lillestrom.

EVANSTON'S 200 TAXICABS HALTED IN MILEAGE ROW

Drivers Resist Fines by Two Companies.

Evanston's transportation system was disrupted yesterday when 200 cabs stopped rolling as the result of a dispute between the drivers and cab companies. Efforts of a drivers' committee to confer with the companies were fruitless.

The dispute developed after the Evanston Cab company, 1718 Church street, with 150 cabs, and the Jitney Cab company, 620 Madison street, with 50 cabs, both in Evanston, announced that drivers would be assessed 5 cents for each mile driven over 75 miles in a 12 hour shift.

Rent Cabs from Companies.

The drivers are not hired by the companies, but rent the cabs from the companies for $3.75 for a 12 hour shift, plus 25 cents bond. The drivers must purchase gasoline, but the companies furnish oil, repairs, and other services.

George Hardy, president of the Evanston Cab, and William Clause, president of Jitney Cab, explained that the 5 cent fine was imposed to curtail cab mileage in compliance with orders of the office of defense transportation.

Drivers Seek Parley.

The self-employed drivers conferred at 7515 North Clark street, and later decided to refrain from renting the companies' cabs until the 5 cent fine was revoked. Edgar G. Sirles, 2157 Evergreen avenue, a driver, headed a committee that invited Hardy and Clause to confer in the Evanshire hotel. Neither of the cab company heads appeared.

"We can do nothing about the 5 cent fine," Clause said. "It's the only way we can meet the ODT order."

Merrill B. Knox, regional ODT consultant, said the Evanston cab firms had been directed to cut their mileage to about 10 per cent below 1941 levels to save tires and equipment.

Robert E. Nau, regional liaison representative of the ODT local transport division, said the ODT was not interested in the methods by which tire conservation was accomplished and would take no action in the Evanston dispute, but that neither side had appealed for assistance.

BEST STOP SIGN IS PILE OF MEAT, POLICEMAN FINDS

P. W. Jorgensen of park district police was directing traffic at Jackson boulevard and Laramie avenue yesterday when two barrels of meat tumbled from a passing truck. He stacked the meat, which included pork loins, livers, and sausage, neatly on the corner and notified his superiors.

Then came customers. Motorists, attracted by the pile of meat, stopped and offered Jorgensen "any amount," he said, for his meat. "I had a hard time convincing some I was not operating a black market," he said.

Meanwhile the owner, Frank Moules of 5831 Roosevelt road, had been located, and the "black market" faded when he claimed his meat.

YANKS LEARNING NEW LESSON, HOW TO MASTER MINES

War in Africa 'Laboratory' Teaches Many Things.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED FIELD HDQ., North Africa, March 12 [Passed by Military Censor].—In the course of winning its degree in battle, the American army is learning many things. One of these, which may sound unromantic to the uninformed, is the speedy removal of mine fields.

The Germans have discovered they can conserve their troops while retreating by sowing mines liberally to slow up enemy pressure. Mines, which will blow up unwary vehicles or troops whether on or off the roads, have a marked tendency to develop the utmost caution among the pursuing forces.

Impeded Progress at Kasserine.

It was this practice, for example, which impeded our progress down the Kasserine valley as Marshal Erwin Rommel withdrew, having found his venture too costly for the time and equipment he had available. If it had not been for the extensive construction of wide mine fields and the liberal scattering of booby traps, the American forces and their British support might have been able to cut off the bulk of the enemy forces at narrow Kasserine gap.

Rommel, who had taken a gamble and almost won, must have known this. He was in a wide valley which is perfect for tank maneuvering, but his rear exit was still thru a relatively narrow gap onto the broader plain leading back to the next natural defense line, the Faid mountains, Maknassy, and Gafsa.

Rommel's withdrawal, once he started, was speedy, some of his troops even abandoning their guns, while he was forced to burn many precious stores—he acquired almost nothing by conquest. And all the while his engineers were busy planting mines along the route the allies must follow if they were to catch "The Desert Fox."

Allies Slowed Down.

Rommel was successful. Almost his entire force withdrew, with few losses, to the next line. While the Germans were retreating, the allied advance was forced down to a snail's pace by the need to remove the expertly placed mines.

But the Americans were learning again. It has been the observation of this reporter that our troops need to see the light only once. Next time these men will know the enemy's tricks and probably will be able to meet and stop them.

Hitherto we have always considered it strictly an engineer's job to plant and remove mines. But if the opportunity to move swiftly and envelop the enemy is to be seized, it will be necessary to instruct the infantry also in the art of removing mine fields quickly and without injury. This is definitely an art, but one not too difficult to be taught to doughboys.

Learning Many Lessons.

We are learning many lessons in this "laboratory," but one fact should never be forgotten. It is a fact attested to by an eyewitness, this reporter.

It was the American troops, green and unseasoned tho they were, who, when the chips were down, stayed and slugged it out in Kasserine valley after their initial beating.

2 New Volcano Craters Spew Lava on Mexico

URUAPAN, Mexico, March 12 (AP).—A government geological commission reported today that the Parangaricutiro volcano had blasted open two new craters in the 700 foot cone formed last month. The new activity, accompanied by lava flows, began yesterday and followed two weeks of comparative calm. Ezequiel Ordonez, a member of the commission, said lava now covered a 6,000 square yard area to a depth of 6 feet.

R.A.F. SMASHES 2D ROMMEL BLOW AT MARETH LINE RING

Knock Out 21 Tanks and Seven Guns.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, March 12 (AP).—Marshal Erwin Rommel's second attempt to beat back the allied ring tightening around his axis troops in Tunisia has failed under sweeping low level aerial attacks by the R. A. F. which forced his armored units to withdraw from Ksar Rhilane, 40 miles south of the Mareth line, leaving 21 wrecked vehicles and 7 guns on the battlefield.

The R. A. F. reported its western desert force ripped at axis ground forces thruout the day.

Rommel's futile attempt to break the allied ring was coupled with three fruitless local assaults by Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim's axis troops in the Sedjenane sector of northern Tunisia.

French in 'Strong Raid.'

A French high command communique reported a detachment of French infantry and allied armored cars made a "strong raid" east of Ousseltia in central Tunisia, capturing German prisoners and returning to the allied lines without loss.

The communique also disclosed that Brig. Gen. Jacques Le Clerc's Fighting French forces participated in the fighting at Ksar Rhilane.

There was no confirmation from this headquarters of a German communique report of an allied tank attack, which it said was "thrown back."

It was possible that this referred to the Ksar Rhilane fighting, put in "reverse." There the allied force threatened the German flank, but did not attack it.

During the withdrawal of German forces in the recent abortive attack on the British 8th army at Medenine, fighters and fighter bombers gave Rommel's retreating panzers [armored forces] a severe pounding, destroying a large number of armored vehicles.

Down Four Axis Planes.

In yesterday's attack, a 27 year old wing commander, referring to the assault at Ksar Rhilane, declared fighters and bombers knocked out eight vehicles in the first sweep, two in the second, and 11 in the third.

A Canadian pilot said the greatest threat to the allied planes was the danger of colliding with each other because there were so many of them in the air.

Allied aerial squadrons protecting ground troops near Ksar Rhilane were reported to have shot down four axis planes.

While the R. A. F. was blasting German armored forces, United States bombers and fighters attacked axis sea lanes, destroying 12 enemy planes and losing seven of their own.

B-26 Marauders and P-38 Lightning escorts attacked a convoy of axis motor barges in the Sicilian strait. They blew up one barge and damaged two others.

STEAL JEWELS AND FUR COAT.

Jewelry valued at $825, a $400 Persian lamb coat, and a pistol were taken by burglars from the home of Robert B. Harbison, 7144 Jeffery avenue, he told police yesterday.

Union Forbids CIO Seamen to Sail Ships Bound for Spain

New York, March 12 [Special].—The Communist controled CIO National Maritime union today began an unparalleled war time boycott of a neutral nation after adopting a resolution denouncing the state department for "appeasement" in its relations with Spain.

The NMU leaders declared the resolution, which forbids the 50,000 members of the union from shipping on any vessel carrying supplies to Spain, was the beginning of a showdown on "whether American labor is to be used to supply a Fascist power."

What effect the boycott will have on supplies for Spain could not be determined immediately. Spain is reported to have enough ships to transport its own purchases.

Suggest Hiring Japs.

A delegation from New York and Baltimore was sent to Washington to inform Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles of the union's action.

"The state department can hire Japanese, Germans, or Italians to take our places," said a resolution unanimously approved by 2,100 members of the union.

"Some sections of the state department," the resolution said, "have been flirting with notorious Fascists and seem intent upon losing the peace while thousands of seamen and soldiers are dying to win the war against fascism." It continued:

"The old policy of appeasing Japan with scrap iron and oil while sympathizing with China brought death not only to millions of Chinese but also to thousands of our soldiers, sailors, marines, and merchant seamen.

"A similar policy of suicide is being pursued in our dealings with Franco Spain, this in spite of the fact that high government officials belatedly have agreed that a mistake was made by Britain and the United States in not supporting Loyalist Spain in its fight against Franco and his Fascist allies.

"It is well known that Franco Spain is stooging for Nazi Germany. We feel that diverting valuable ships for Franco Spain is the same as diverting them for Hitler Germany.

"We, therefore, condemn this appeasement policy of the state department as inimical to the best interests of the American people and the united nations."

Oil Shipments Revealed.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Shipments of petroleum products from the United States to Spain during the last two years, the house was informed today, totaled 245,118 metric tons [roughly 1,942,000 barrels] and were made with the understanding the products would not leave Spanish territory.

This information was in a letter from Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles to Rep. Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.], chairman of the foreign affairs committee, in response to a resolution seeking to determine how foreign petroleum shipments affected the domestic supply, especially on the eastern seaboard.

Exports of petroleum products to Spain were 227,347 metric tons [about 1,800,000 barrels] in 1941 and 17,771 metric tons [about 142,000 barrels] in 1942, Welles said, the last bulk shipment having been on Feb. 19, 1942.

NAZI AIR FORCE STILL TOUGH, BUT NOT FORMIDABLE

Believed Down to 5,000 First Line Planes.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The far famed German air force, with which Adolf Hitler once terrorized Europe, is not what it used to be, in the opinion of capital military and air experts.

It has suffered large plane and pilot losses. The need for maximum production is believed to have tended to freeze existing and in some cases obsolete models, so that performance superiority is being lost to the latest allied models.

At the outbreak of the war the strength of the luftwaffe was variously estimated at between 6,000 and 10,000 planes. Most experts feel that 8,000 planes is what Hitler had when the war began.

This force was three to four times larger than any combination of air power which could be brought to battle Germany. Most of it was concentrated on the western front, after the fall of Poland.

Believed Down to 5,000 Planes.

Today the first line strength of the Luftwaffe is believed to be no more than 5,000 planes. The British air ministry has estimated Germany lost 10,573 planes from the outbreak of the war thru 1942.

Heaviest losses were suffered in Russia, where at times the soviets claimed to be knocking German planes out of the air at the rate of 100 a day. Exact figures on losses are unobtainable. Military experts here say the British figures are probably conservative.

The strength of the royal air force alone is said to be greater than that of Germany. The R. A. F., like the luftwaffe, is dispersed. But it and the American air force are growing steadily while German aviation is believed to be producing less, so the Luftwaffe is losing from all causes.

Loss of Pilots Is Hard Blow.

The German losses have been heavy because they have been fighting two enemies, the weather as well as opposing air forces. While the loss of planes has been hard to swallow, the loss of experienced pilots and air crews have been even harder to bear because they have impaired the efficiency of the luftwaffe which does not have the training facilities of the allies.

The 5,000 planes in the luftwaffe would constitute a formidable force if they were all based near points where an invasion may be launched in France or the Low Countries. But they are scattered in fighting and guard duty on two fronts.

German fighters are guarding the whole perimeter of occupied Europe, from Kirkenes in the Arctic ocean in Norway to the Dodecanese Island off Turkey. In addition, some are stationed in Africa. Many are guarding vital German industrial areas.

35 Per Cent on Eastern Front.

Military experts estimate that 35 per cent of the luftwaffe is engaged on the eastern front. Fifty per cent of the fighters are concentrated in western Europe to intercept British-American raiding bombers.

It is estimated that the Germans have some 900 planes in France and 700 night fighters occupied in defending German cities. Others are stretched about Europe.

Experts do not believe the Germans have more than 300 planes, chiefly fighters and dive bombers, in Tunisia, altho some 700 other planes are based in Sicily and southern Italy where they are readily available for African duty.

The best available estimates are that Germany is producing about 2,500 planes a month at present and losing more than that amount on all fronts. The United States alone produced 5,500 planes in January and is steadily moving the production goal upward.

Change Bombers to Fighters.

The tightness of German production has been evidenced, according to military experts, by the conversion of a considerable number of light bombers into night fighters. Experts admit the converted craft have functioned with considerable success, but emphasize that if German industry could stop to retool, it would build new models rather than convert older ones.

There have been reports that the luftwaffe has been dodging fights whenever they could be avoided and have been refusing to retaliate for the heavy bombing raids on German industrial centers. The luftwaffe has been making only token reprisals even for raids on Berlin.

What uninformed commentators describe as fear is nothing more than common sense, military experts said. German flyers are conserving their strength by refusing to go into action unless they hold tactical or numerical superiority.

Fuel Lacking in Africa.

Experts do not believe the fuel problem of the luftwaffe is acute, altho they believe it has at times become critical on isolated fronts.

The luftwaffe is using its fuel with great efficiency. Planes are enabled to take off with maximum loads thru the use of rocket propulsion, jet propulsion or booster fuels. The latter are fuels of high power used only for take-offs.

As a result of these practices the German air force has been able to operate with great success with lower octane fuels than used in allied planes.

The thinning out of the luftwaffe is believed to have contributed to the falling off of the German submarine campaign, as noted by the navy department. Experts said that in all probability planes which have been coöperating with subs in European waters have been withdrawn for defensive purposes.

This excessive conservation leads many military observers here to believe that the luftwaffe is husbanding as much of its strength as possible against the day when Europe is invaded by American forces.

SENATE REFUSES CASH FOR PUPILS' VICTORY CORPS

Votes 6 Billion Funds for 2,161 Ships.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—A coalition of Democratic and Republican senators today swamped administration efforts to get funds for a high school victory corps headed by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and for the care of children of working mothers. The coalition acted on the ground that congress had not authorized these projects.

The senate refused to include the funds in a 6 billion 280 million dollar deficiency bill which was amended, passed, and returned to the house. Funds for the maritime commission to build 2,161 cargo ships accounted for 98 per cent of the total.

Sen. Carl Hayden [D., Ariz.], managing the bill on the floor for the appropriations committee, met violent opposition when he tried to bring up two committee approved amendments carrying $3,182,000 to start the training corps rolling and $2,973,000 for grants to states to finance child care.

Both Beaten in House.

The house previously had rejected both proposals because they had not been authorized by congress. Senate Minority Leader Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.] registered the same objection, and Senators Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] and Peter G. Gerry [D., R. I.] jumped up to support him.

McNary declared it was "absurd" to say the child care program had to be approved today, adding that work could be carried out by the works projects administration.

The victory corps, with Rickenbacker as chairman of the policy committee, was announced last September by Paul V. McNutt, war man power chairman. It had the indorsement of the army and of the navy and commerce departments. It was designed to mobilize high school students for training for war service and for participation in community war efforts.

Moves to Set Aside Rules.

McNary urged Hayden to withdraw the amendments, but the latter, reportedly on White House request, moved to set aside the rules and consider them. He was in a shaky parliamentary situation because the deficiency bill was under consideration only by sufferance of the senate, which was holding up scheduled debate on the farmers draft deferment measure.

Hayden was beaten soundly on a standing test vote, and jumped gracefully down off the legislative teeter-totter, grinning, "I know when I'm licked." He withdrew the amendments and the senate wrote into the bill a $1,200,000 fund for the care of babies born to the wives of enlisted men in the army and navy. Then the measure was passed.

Other senate amendments provided an additional $2,175,000 for an investigation of bauxite and alunite ores and aluminum clays, and $400,000 for the Lugert-Altus reclamation project in Oklahoma.

Hayden later introduced the victory corps and child care proposals as separate bills, which would authorize the activities for the duration and would provide the same amount of funds for the remainder of the fiscal year as was carried in the amendments. Both were referred to the education and labor committee.

FORTRESSES POUR BOMBS OVER RAIL CENTER OF ROUEN

No American Planes Lost in Heavy Attack.

LONDON, March 13 [Saturday]—(AP).—American Flying Fortresses dealt a hard blow to Rouen, France, yesterday afternoon following the R. A. F.'s smashing attack Thursday night on Stuttgart, Germany, and last night the Nazis increased their counter-raids.

Last night R. A. F. bombers were over Germany for the ninth assault in the first 12 nights of March, it was announced today.

Enemy raiders attacked two towns in northeast Britain, following daylight stabs by others who got as far as the London suburbs, altho suffering heavy losses. The enemy severely hit New Castle, a mining town, where houses were wrecked. Several persons were trapped in a hotel cellar.

Following up the American daylight attack, speedy R. A. F. Mosquito bombers raided an engineering and armament works near Liege, Belgium, at dusk One bomber failed to return.

Pound Railway Yards.

The big American planes pounded oil tanks and railroad yards at Rouen in a thrust designed to wreck vital German rail communications leading to the coast.

No American planes were lost and the swarm of escorting Spitfire fighters destroyed three enemy fighters.

Pilots reported direct hits on a concentration of 1,000 freight cars and fires bursting from large oil tanks. They said the results of the Rouen raid were "especially good."

Raids Kill 252 in February.

The attack came only a few hours after a heavy concentration of British bombers had plowed a path of death and destruction thru Stuttgart. Eleven bombers failed to get back from the raid, the eighth blasting of Germany in 11 nights this month.

The German communique acknowledged "great damage" and casualties at Stuttgart.

The ministry of home security announced that civilian air raid casualties in Britain during February totaled 252 killed or missing and 347 injured.

Spain Plans to Ration Diners-Out This Summer

MADRID, March 12 (AP).—Lavish restaurant meals in Spain will disappear in July when a new system of individual ration cards will be issued, it was announced today. All patrons must use the rationing cards, which will be punched just as are those presented by housewives at stores. Foreigners will get their cards when they enter the country.

GINSBURG CASE BRINGS PROBE OF SLACKERS IN OPA

House Group to Seek Deferment List.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Obviously irked over disclosure that David Ginsburg, 30 year old draft deferred general counsel of the office of price administration, is being considered for commissioning as an army officer, a congressional committee decided today to make a thoro investigation of OPA's worker deferment practices.

Chairman John M. Costello [D., Cal.] of a house military subcommittee before which the Ginsburg case was discussed at length yesterday, said the group would request OPA officials to present records showing the number of draft age employés, the number deferred because of essentiality, and the exact reason for the deferments.

"Great Service" Claimed.

Meanwhile, from OPA Chief Prentiss M. Brown came the assertion that Ginsburg "performed a great service for his country" in his capacity as adviser to the former chief, Leon Henderson.

Brown said the general counsel had offered his resignation when the new chief took over, but that it was not accepted "because I considered him the best informed man in the office of price administration." Ginsburg later expressed fear that differences of opinion might arise over new policies and at his request Brown wrote his draft board, advising it that he would release Ginsburg from OPA, the administrator said.

Other Bureaus Queried.

Hearings on the worker deferment probe will be resumed as soon as the requested information is obtained, Costello said, adding that similar data has been requested from all other government agencies.

The Californian, whose committee is investigating draft deferment practices of federal employés, said he hoped its studies would be instrumental in "putting some of these able bodied young government employés in army uniforms."

Costello, in a statement subscribed to by other committee members, said indications were that "a great injustice had been committed in the Ginsburg case and that the selective service had been abused.

Hear He's to Be a Colonel.

Ginsburg's name figured in the committee hearing following published reports that the OPA general counsel was to be commissioned a colonel.

Col. Albert J. Browning told the committee, however, that Ginsburg was being considered for a commission as captain or lieutenant to serve as assistant secretary to the joint purchasing board in London.

Ginsburg, the committee was told, was given a 3-B classification at the request of Henderson, who informed Ginsburg's draft board here that the attorney was "not replaceable" and "a serious blow to OPA would be struck if he were to leave."

There was no comment from Ginsburg.

PRESS CHEERS PEACE TIME AIR PLANS OF BRITAIN

'Important to Empire as Navy,' Editors Say.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 12.—The government's decision to take immediate steps to insure Britain's "rightful place in world civil aviation routes when the war ends" was given the chief play on the front pages of this morning's newspapers.

Editorial consensus seemed to be, and the conviction was permeating the entire nation, that air power has become as important to the empire as the navy in the past.

The Daily Mail said the decision of the government is particularly gratifying because "it recognizes that adequate and efficient service by the air lines is of paramount interest in the British empire."

The News Chronicle said the formation of an R. A. F. transport command, announced yesterday by Air Secretary Archibald Sinclair, "is a logical corollary of the existing situation under which we must, on the one hand, completely subordinate civil aviation to military necessity, while on the other we must bear in mind the need for civilian air transportation once the war is over."

Peace and War Aviation Linked.

The newspaper emphasized that "civil aviation cannot be divorced from military aviation. Whoever has the factories and equipment required for construction of transport planes is in a position, should occasion require, to produce military planes. If then another world war is to be avoided, air transportation after the war should from the outset be the subject of international regulation."

The Daily Express was more interested in the possibilities of transport planes helping to open a second front than in the implications in post-war aviation, saying:

"Air power can be the means of transporting vast armies.

"It can strike at the strategic reserves of the enemy just as the Russians showed how to strike behind the German lines at the railways."

Paper Criticizes Bomb Protests.

The Daily Herald criticized Richard Stokes, Laborite member of parliament, for protesting against the destruction of German cities and said: "It is not the Nuremburg of the meistersingers we are bombing, but the Nuremburg of Julius Streicher" [Germany's leading anti-Semite].

It is a task, the Daily Worker contended, for the allied nations to see that never again will aviation "become the weapon of Hitler" and therefore welcomed Sinclair's declaration that "some form of international collaboration is essential."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph referred to the criticism frequently heard here that "wartime aircraft industries in the two countries [the United States and Great Britain] will have very different peacetime value," but stressed the fact that the debates in parliament yesterday "showed a refusal to believe that either country would take improper advantage in peace of wartime legacies which would handicap the other and a general desire that an amicable agreement about the future of civil aviation should be discussed between the countries concerned before the end of the war."

PROBATION WON IN JANUARY ENDS WITH NEW THEFT

On the tearful plea of his mother, Ray Derucki, 15 years old, was placed on probation Jan. 26 by Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court on charges of robbery and auto theft. The mother pleaded her son had been in bad company.

Yesterday Derucki was brought back for stealing and wrecking another car last Monday. In Auto court, Judge Frank Donoghue sentenced him to six months in the Bridewell. When Judge Sbarbaro heard that Derucki had been brought to court again, he ordered the prisoner to appear before him.

"I thought I gave you a chance only a month ago," Judge Sbarbaro said. "You didn't take it. You're not a fit subject to walk the streets." The court revoked the probation and sentenced Derucki to 1 to 20 years in prison on the original charges of robbery and auto theft.

MARINES' LEADER EXTOLS PLANES' AID IN PACIFIC

Colonel Tells of Lesson Learned from Japs.

United States soldiers, sailors, and marines fighting the Japs in the southwest Pacific are learning to combat the enemy the hard way, but not without profit in military lessons learned, Col. Gerald C. Thomas, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of marines in the area, told members of the Sigma Chi fraternity at a luncheon yesterday in the La Salle hotel.

Col. Thomas, a native of Missouri, was educated at Illinois Wesleyan university and calls Bloomington his home. He served in World War I. with the 6th marines, 2d division. Members of Sigma Chi gave Col. Thomas a life membership in the fraternity yesterday. He came to Chicago from Washington, where he had received the distinguished service medal and after a few days in Bloomington will return to his command.

Japs' Failure a Lesson.

The principal lesson learned on Guadalcanal, Col. Thomas said, is the absolute necessity of air power for successful operation against the enemy. The Japs, he said, tried to operate against Americans on the island without destroying the air force and as a result were driven off. That is a lesson American forces have not disregarded, he added.

"I can't find words," said Col. Thomas, "to express my admiration for the American flyers who flew at Guadalcanal under almost impossible conditions. They were superb—and so are all the Americans.

"When we first landed on the island, the most important in the southwest Pacific, there were soldiers, sailors, marines, and coast guardsmen fighting side by side. One could not tell them apart, because all wore similar uniforms—the combat dress of the marine corps.

Air Support Turns Tide.

"Between Aug. 8, the day we landed, and Aug. 22 we were without air support and had to defend Henderson field the best we could. The Americans withstood bombing after bombing. After we got air support on Aug. 22, it was a different story.

"In August and Semptember, the Japanese worked ceaselessly to land troops on Guadalcanal under cover of darkness and did manage to get several thousand on the beach and into the jungle. During September, fighting for Henderson field was heavy and at times the lines were only 50 to 100 yards apart.

"Late in October, the Japanese managed to get a dozen 18 ton tanks on the beach and threatened Henderson field. The Americans stopped that attack, and the shattered remains of the 12 tanks still are scattered over a narrow neck of land that is one of the few possible approaches to the field."

Praises Tribune Correspondent.

Col. Thomas said American war correspondents, including Robert Cromie of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, had done an excellent job in telling the story of the fight for Guadalcanal.

Pvt. Ted Polmen, 23 years old, 5920 South Maplewood avenue, a marine who enlisted in Chicago Jan. 9, 1942, came home yesterday to recuperate from a foot injury received on the Island of Tulagi in the Solomons. Polmen brought with him a Japanese colonel's sword, a rising sun emblem from a Jap Zero plane, and a steel rule taken from a dead Jap mechanic.

Jungle Veteran Credits Life to God and the Army Medics

Battle Creek, Mich., March 12 (AP).—"God and the medics" were thanked solemnly today by an infantry lieutenant who lived thru the hell of New Guinea by virtue of what army medical officers describe as "one of those miracles."

And the officer, Lt. Burnham L. Peters, 22 years old, of Menomonie, Wis., praised the civilians who supply blood plasma and the army nurses who watch over war casualties in the jungles.

Lt. Peters is one of 275 casualties from the Pacific area who arrived Wednesday at Percy Jones hospital from San Francisco, Cal.

Shot Thru Eye by Sniper.

Peters was moving thru the New Guinea jungles after 28 days of action when a Japanese sniper fired a bullet into his left eye. The bullet lodged near the base of the brain. The eye was removed in a field hospital and the bullet was extracted at Port Moresby.

"That's when I first thanked God and the medics," Peters said. "But for the two of them, I shouldn't be here. And, believe me, those sulfa drugs and blood plasma are worth a million to the boys out there. The same goes for those little army nurses who have become so brave in caring for the fellows that they don't even get under cover in a bombing raid."

Lt. Lakin Bowman, 26, of Manchester, O., an infantry officer, told of experiences at Guadalcanal. Bowman is recovering from a bullet wound in the right foot.

Blasted by Machine Gun Fire.

"I took a scouting party out ahead of our lines to look the situation over, and our own artillery on the hill was holding fire until we returned," he said.

"It was damned quiet, and then I heard Japs talking. Right ahead of us, directly in our path, was a Jap machine gun nest. Boy, we struck for cover in a hurry, but they opened up on us. A sergeant and another man in my outfit got it there, but the rest of us managed to get back."

Airmen, too, found the Japs fanatical fighters, according to 1st Lt. Edward M. Hulst, 25, of Worcester, N.Y., bombardier on a Flying Fortress, and Sergt. Raymond Ferguson of Jeannette, Pa. Both suffered foot injuries, Hulst from a bullet fired from a Jap Zero as his plane attempted to bomb two destroyers and a freighter.

SOLDIERS TELL DETAILS OF HESS' HOP TO BRITAIN

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—Soldier guards said they asked Rudolf Hess, former No. 2 deputy to Adolf Hitler, soon after he parachuted to earth in Scotland May 10, 1941, if he would like to return to Germany and Hess shouted:

"No, no, no, no!"

This and other details of Hess' flight to Britain were told for the first time in "Roof Over Britain," the official story of Britain's anti-aircraft defenses, published today. Hess is now a prisoner of war.

Two anti-aircraft signalmen found the parachutist with an injured ankle, sitting in an airchair in a farmer's house. He extended his hands to show they were empty and said:

"Ah, British soldiers—no guns, no bombs."

In his pockets he had two hypodermic syringes, a phial of some liquid and two bottles of white tablets.

YANKS POUR TONS OF BOMBS ON JAP AIRPORT IN BURMA

NEW DELHI, India, March 12 (AP).—Continuing their destructive assaults against Japanese installations in Burma, heavy four-motored bombers of the 10th United States air force poured "many tons" of explosives on the enemy airfield at Mingaladon, north of Rangoon, and then shot down three Zero fighters in a 40 minute running air battle on Wednesday, an American communique said today.

The big bombers were reported to have scored hits on airport buildings, protective revetments, and runways before a dozen Zeros swarmed up to attack.

Without loss to themselves, the heavily armored American planes proceeded to shoot down three enemy fighters, to damage three others, and to leave an additional four "probably damaged," the communique said.

ADMITS HORSES, NOT HOLDUP MAN, TOOK HER $2,200

Mrs. Evelyn Killian, 4222 Cermak road, admitted last night that $2,200 she had reported stolen from her by a holdup man had been spent in bets on horse races, said Sergt. Fred Valenta of the Lawndale police.

Mrs. Killian and her husband, Bernard, 41 years old, who is employed in a war plant, are joint owners of a tavern at the Cermak road address. They live in an apartment in the rear.

The woman reported to police that a Negro came into the tavern yesterday, ransacked the living quarters, and took the $2,200 from a secret compartment in a chest of drawers.

Under questioning, however, she admitted that over a period of several weeks she had given the money to customers to bet on horses for her, Valenta said.

Carlson's Contest Against Ald. Duffy Vote Dismissed

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday dismissed the contest brought by Harry A. Carlson in the Feb. 23 aldermanic election in the 19th ward, which was won by Ald. John J. Duffy. Judge Jarecki announced the recount gave Duffy 12,953 votes, Carlson 10,490, Sidney J. Williams 1,586, and Gordon Edward Townsend 136, with Duffy polling 370 more than the minimum of 12,583 he needed to win. The court overruled Carlson's contention that 450 spoiled ballots should have been counted in computing the majority a winner must exceed in a council election.

TWO DRIVERS ROBBED.

Edward Mathews, 1253 Roscoe street, a laundry truck driver, gave up $32 to a robber yesterday at 612 Deming place. William Wright, 642 North Spaulding avenue, a driver for a towel supply company, was robbed of $61 by another bandit at Aberdeen street and Ogden avenue.

LATEST RUMOR ON HITLER'S HEALTH FAILS TO STIR U. S.

Welles Hears Fuehrer Has Complete Breakdown.

Quits Command, Report

LONDON, March 13 [Saturday] (AP).—The London Daily Mail today printed an Istanbul dispatch which quoted "Budapest reports" saying Hitler had relinquished command of the German military forces and had appointed a triumvirate composed of Field Marshals Ewald von Kleist and Erwin Rommel, and Adm. Karl Doenitz, supreme naval commander. Morning newspapers here displayed stories that Hitler usually made an address on "Heroes day" celebrated each year thruout Germany, but that no talk by him had been announced for today's anniversary.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—World-wide curiosity about what has happened to Adolph Hitler went up another notch today when Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, said the state department had received unconfirmed reports that the fuehrer was suffering from a complete breakdown.

Welles did not imply the department attached much importance to these reports. In answer to questions at a press conference, he simply said that unconfirmed reports had been received similar to those recently published in various quarters.

One of the most recent of the published reports had Hitler recuperating in seclusion at Berchtesgaden, where a closely-guarded mountain top retreat provides seclusion.

Only One of Many Rumors.

If the fuehrer is in fact recovering from a nervous collapse, no better spot could be found for his convalescence than Berchtesgaden, where the snow-clad Bavarian Alps form a setting of rare beauty and idyllic peace.

The complete breakdown report is only one of a large assortment of reports and rumors which have circulated in various capitals since Hitler on Jan. 30 failed to appear personally at the annual Nazi celebration of his rise to power. Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, contributed to these some weeks ago the suggestion that Hitler might be dead. Others speculated that the army high command had clapped him into an asylum.

Once Believed Cancer Victim.

Years ago, before the fuehrer's armies swept across Europe, the favorite Hitler rumor used to be that he was slowly dying of cancer of the throat. Such a rumor usually was followed by an unconfirmed report that a Jewish surgeon from Vienna—the only surgeon in whom Hitler had sufficient confidence—had been rushed by airplane to perform an operation to save his life.

During the period of Hitler's great victories the rumors died away until it almost seemed the world had forgotten he was only a human being after all. The last thing any one seemed to expect was that death might come to Hitler as to any other man. Now all is changed.

Regardless of the accuracy of any particular rumor, the fact is that Hitler once again is regarded as merely human, quite as likely to have a complete breakdown as any ordinary reader of the war news, and quite as likely to be struck down by disease as any man, provided some one does not shoot him first.

TUGWELL PULLS A LA GUARDIA ON NEWSPAPER MEN

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 12 (AP).—Asked whether there was a possibility he would become United States ambassador to Russia, Gov. Rexford Guy Tugwell replied:

"I will repeat what [Mayor Fiorello] LaGuardia once said in a similar case—Cordell Hull will look after the foreign relations."

The San Juan World Journal, the island's only English language newspaper, suggested satirically yesterday that Tugwell would make an ideal ambassador to Russia.

M'ARTHUR'S AIRMEN BLAST 3 JAP SHIPS; KNOCK OUT SIX PLANES

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, March 13 [Saturday]—(AP).—Allied airmen scored a direct hit on a 7,000 ton Japanese merchant ship, damaged two smaller vessels, and shot out of action six enemy fighters without the loss of a plane, a communique said today.

The 7,000 ton ship was caught with a 500 pound bomb dropped by an American Liberator over Ambon harbor, Amboina Island, despite intense anti-aircraft fire. In a running fight with eight Japanese fighters four of the enemy were knocked out, and returning airmen said at least two of them were destroyed. Heavy clouds prevented observation of the full results of the raid.

The other two Japanese fighters shot out of action attempted to stop a raid on Lautem on Timor Island where two smaller ships—a 300 ton motor vessel and a lugger—were strafed. Parked enemy aircraft also were damaged at a Timor airdrome.

American, Dutch, and Australian flyers kept the Japanese busy over a wide area. Another main assault was a predawn blast at Lakunai airdrome, the Japanese aerial nest at Rabaul in New Britain. Approximately 500 demolition and fragmentation bombs fell in the target area, the communique said. All allied planes returned.

EX-STATE CLERK GETS 30 DAYS IN $558 FRAUD CASE

Neil Mustain, alias Kent, a former clerk in a north side branch office of the state unemployment compensation division, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Felony court to 30 days in the county jail on a charge of defrauding the state of $558.

Leslie Curtis, assistant state's attorney, said evidence showed that Mustain obtained the money by filing false claims in other persons' names. Mustain made restitution but his plea for probation was denied after Judge Hermes was told that in 1928 Mustain had been placed on probation for burglary and that previously in 1926 he had received probation in a bad check case.

Mustain, a professional bridge player, lives at 1225 South Austin boulevard.

YANKS RIP JAP GUN POSITIONS ON KISKA ISLE

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—American bombers and fighters blasted Japanese gun positions and buildings on Kiska Island in the Aleutians, the navy announced today, in two attacks last Wednesday morning. "Anti-aircraft batteries were bombed and strafed at low level and hits were scored," the communique said. "Three buildings in the camp area were damaged by heavy bomb hits. Anti-aircraft fire was encountered, but all United States planes returned."

The Kiska raid was one of the heaviest delivered by the Aleutians air command in several weeks, altho the Japanese base has been repeatedly pounded whenever weather permitted. It has been the target of five reported raids so far this month, counting the two new actions.

Reporting on air activities in the Solomons, the communique said that on Thursday morning Liberator heavy bombers carried out minor bombing attacks on Japanese positions at Kahili and Ballale in the Shortland Island area and at Vila in the central Solomons. All of the American planes also returned from these raids, the communique added.

REPORT BROTHER OF JAP EMPEROR HELD IN TOKIO

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—Prince Chichibu, brother of Emperor Hirohito of Japan, has been under house arrest in Japan for 15 months on charges of being "sympathetic to enemy powers," the Daily Express said today in a dispatch from Istanbul. It said this information was given by an unidentified person who has just reached Istanbul from Tokio.

Prince Chichibu.

SURPRISING, IF TRUE.

There was no confirmation of this report and such a development would be surprising in the light of what is known of Prince Chichibu's position and inclinations.

The 40 year old prince, oldest of the emperor's three brothers, has been considered the member of the imperial family closest to the army, now in control of imperial policy. He has been an army officer for more than 20 years.

There have been rumors that the most extreme Nationalist element of the army would like to see Chichibu on the throne instead of his brother.

On the other hand the prince spent two years at an English university and married the American educated daughter of Tsuneo Matsudaira, former ambassador to Washington, D. C., and London. According to latest information, Matsudaira retained high office as minister of the imperial household in Tokio.

Leathernecks Trimmed by Women Barbers Now

San Diego, Cal., March 12 (AP).—Women all over the nation want to get in the marines' hair at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton. Many applications are under consideration. Recently camp officers announced women would operate a barber shop at the camp. It opened with three, now has five women clipping locks. Fourteen will have chairs next week and the goal is 50.

Another passenger being assisted.

Thirteen persons were injured and several score were shaken yesterday when an eastbound three car local Lake street elevated train ran thru an open switch and turned into the Wacker drive [Market street] stub, where it crashed into an empty train.

The motorman, Stephen Odell, 65 year old, 212 North Kilbourn avenue, who was trapped in his splintered cab, was the most seriously hurt. He was taken to Henrotin hospital with five other injured persons. Of the five, only one was kept at the hospital, Miss Frances Colby, 38, of 420 North Trumbull avenue.

Seven victims were taken to St. Luke's hospital. Among them, the following were held for observation: Mrs. Mary Pointer, 5812 South Park avenue; Mrs. Catherine Dally, 1431 North Lockwood avenue; Mrs. Wanda Hoyne, 2233 Shakespeare avenue, and Joseph Hamburg, 5845 Irving Park road.

Officials of the company explained that the switch leading to the stub was left open by workmen who were repairing the track, and that Motorman Odell ran thru the warning signal.

7 CHICAGOLAND NAMES ON NAVY CASUALTY LIST

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The navy today announced 35 casualties—4 dead, 1 wounded, and 30 missing. This brings to 24,305 the total of navy, marine corps, and coast guard casualties reported to next of kin since Dec. 7, 1941. The grand total includes 6,730 dead, 4,611 wounded, and 12,964 missing.

Casualties announced today [those listed are navy and noncommissioned personnel unless otherwise specified] included these from the Chicagoland area:

ILLINOIS.

Assert Nazis Kill 1,250 Serb Hostages in Belgrade

LONDON, March 12 (AP).—The Jugo-Slav government in exile today said the Germans had executed 1,250 Serb hostages in Belgrade in two recent massacres. A church dignitary, Archpriest Makarije Miletic, 71 years old, and a noted writer, Dr. Milovoj Popovic, were listed among the slain.

POST-WAR PLAN CONTROLS VOTED BY WARY SENATE

Rebuff of New Deal Nips Fancy Ideas.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Acting to retain in congress the determination of post-war economic policies, the senate today created a special committee to investigate and make recommendations on national policy to follow the war.

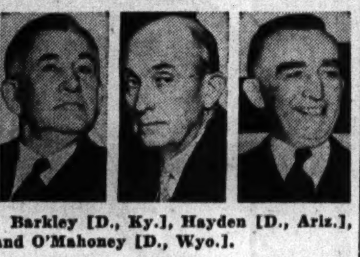
Sen. Walter F. George.

The action was a rebuff to administration planners, such as Vice President Henry A. Wallace and the national resources planning board, headed by the President's uncle, Frederic A. Delano, who have been making elaborate post-war plans of their own for the nation.

The resolution for creation of the special committee was introduced by Sen. Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the finance committee and a conservative southern Democrat. It was adopted by a voice vote after the senate audit and control committee allowed $50,000 for expenses of the committee.

Ten on Committee.

Six Democrats and four Republicans constitute the committee, headed by George as chairman and including Senators Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], the majority leader; Carl Hayden [D., Ariz.]; Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.]; Claude Pepper [D., Fla.]; Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.]; Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], minority leader; Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.]; Robert A. Taft [R., O.]; and Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.].



Barkley [D., Ky.], Hayden [D., Ariz.], and O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.].

The elaborate plans by the national resources planning board for cradle-to-grave social security and increased government control over business, as sent to congress the other day by the President, undoubtedly will be referred to the new committee, which from the first indications will not be disposed to treat them kindly. Congressional reaction has put a chill on the contemplated expansion of the New Deal. In fact, the resources planning board already has been repudiated by congress, the house refusing to vote funds for its continuance.

House Plans Pending.

There are also pending in the house numerous proposals for creation of congressional planning committees similar to that created by the senate.

Pepper [D., Fla.], Lucas [D., Ill.], and McNary [R., Ore.].

The senate committee is directed to "investigate all matters relating to post-war economic policy and problems; to gather information, plans, and suggestions from informed sources with respect to such problems; to study the plans and suggestions received; to report to the congress from time to time the results of findings made and conclusions reached.

At his morning press conference the President took congress to task for not appropriating for the national resources planning board. It was up to congress, he said, whether the nation would have completed plans for public works ready when the war ends, or would face a great delay in providing jobs for the millions demobilized from the military services and war industries.

Vandenberg [R., Mich.], Taft [R., O.], and Austin [R., Vt.].

Mr. Roosevelt said the matter of post-war planning for employment came down to a question of real jobs or paper ones. The jobs will be only on paper, he said, unless plans for public works are completed in detail before the war ends.

6 Billion Spending Planned.

The President said the resources board had drafted specifications for about $1,000,000,000 of public works, but he remarked that this sum would not employ many people. The board has about $6,000,000,000 additional in projects listed, he added, but specifications for them have not been drawn.

Mr. Roosevelt limited his discussion entirely to public works, not mentioning the resources board's recommendations for an expanded social security system.

When word of the President's remarks reached the capitol, Sen. Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] asserted the administration ought to disclose how it hopes to pay rapidly accumulating war debts before it "pours more millions into post-war job planning."

Rips Cradle to Grave Plan for Failure to Assure Rights

Providence, R. I., March 12 [Special].—Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown university, today scathingly attacked President Roosevelt's "cradle-to-grave" security program, as embodied in a national resources planning board report submitted Wednesday to congress.

Dr. Wriston presided over a discussion of the document's features at the 70th quarterly meeting of the New England council, an organization of industrial, business, and civic leaders. He scored the plan's general tone and "eloquent" omissions.

Wriston told 250 listeners that the document represents "the frustrations which come to those who almost achieve some great objective, but fall short." It emphasizes obligations of the state, rather than opportunities for the individual, and sets up requirements of state assistance and supervision which our forefathers would neither have suggested nor accepted, he contended.

Raps Silence on Religion.

"Its omissions are as eloquent as its professions," he said. "In a day when the church and the state are more bitterly at war than at any time in modern history, it is significant that the new Bill of Rights says nothing about freedom of religion. This modern declaration makes no reference to the profoundest of all man's experiences, that which our forefathers put in the very first clause of the 1st amendment to the Constitution, and without which that Constitution could not have survived."

Neither, he asserted, is there "any sturdy demand for civilian rights. . . . Nor is there any right to property except property in a job."

Warns of Press Curbs.

He contrasted the plan with the Bill of Rights, which he said had been conceived by "men who had known oppression," adding:

"The newer declaration is . . . cast in the mode of thought of a materialistic age, a time of pessimism, years of retreat, of minds hesitant and doubtful."

In another speech, Sevellon Brown, editor and publisher of the Providence Journal Bulletin, asserted that the right of free speech must mean the right to be served by free speech as well as the right to employ it. He said newspapers must serve the interests of the masses of their readers to remain strong.

"God forbid," he said, "that government burocracy should ever substitute its will, its self interest for the democratic basis on which your newspapers are today compelled by their self interest to serve you. . . . Believe us when we tell you that unless you keep your press free of government restraint and reasonably sound in its economic structure, you will not be able to protect the whole structure of the human freedom that is your American way of life."

James W. Hook, president of the Geometric Tool company, New Haven, Conn., warned of an American gestapo if neighbor is permitted to spy on neighbor, as has been urged under rationing plans.

Blasted as 'Utopian'

San Diego, Cal., March 12 [Special].—President Roosevelt's "cradle to the grave" security program was assailed today by Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, founder of Consolidated Aircraft corporation, as a "utopian scheme that called for men of courage to fight to preserve American principles of freedom and enterprise." The executive told the chamber of commerce board of directors that attempts to "force" equal distribution of wealth involved loose thinking. He added: "If all the money in the United States was distributed equally, all of us would have enough to last just 13 weeks."

CRADLE TO GRAVE ACT SEEN AS PERIL TO SOUND PLANS

Manufacturers Back Private Enterprise.

Practical post-war planning being done now by private industry is likely to be destroyed if congress enacts the "cradle to the grave" social program received from President Roosevelt, James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, said yesterday.

Donnelly pointed out that one feature of the plan is to have the government retain "partnership" in major industries after the war. Hurried expansion of the aluminum, magnesium, shipbuilding, aircraft, and other industries brought federal money into the financial structure of many companies.

"Private industry is now engaged in comprehensive post-war planning, with the hope that jobs in private business will in fact be available when the war is over, for those who want to work," Donnelly said.

"Should Encourage Thrift."

"The best way for government to coöperate is to advocate and conform to policies designed to stimulate individual initiative. Government should encourage thrift, self-reliance, equality of opportunity, and development of our American private enterprise system.

"But any government post-war program based upon political expedience, which is calculated to further socialize industry, will jeopardize and perhaps destroy the sound plans of private enterprise for real and permanent post-war construction."

Wants Management to Manage.

A veteran of the industrial scene, Donnelly declared that there should be no unreasonable interference with the right of management to manage.

"The 'cradle to the grave' scheme threatens to place additional tremendous tax burdens upon all taxpayers," he said. "It puts the spotlight on the danger of concentrating control of the federal government to rule the lives and peace time activities of American citizens and business."

Holman D. Pettibone, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said that the plan will be considered by a committee on post-war planning which was launched several weeks ago.

Attitude of Resignation.

Rodney Brandon, state director of public welfare, expressed an attitude of resignation toward the plan. His department has jurisdiction over old age assistance and aid to dependent children, which is based upon state-federal contributions.

"The plan enunciates worthy philosophies which are fine if they can be worked out on a practical basis," Brandon said. "The people should become students of, and partners in, social changes. There has been a steady movement in one direction ever since the Lloyd George laws of England 25 years ago, without pressure being exerted. The movement seems to be toward socialization of our entire life, and I see no opposition."

DEATH FOLLOWS FREEZING.

Lora Brown, 55 years old, Negro, 5834 Prairie avenue, who was found at the rear of 215 West Marquette road on Feb. 14 with her hands and feet frozen, died yesterday in County hospital.

U-BOATS SINK 11 ALLIED SHIPS IN A DAY, SAY NAZIS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The German high command reported yesterday that 11 allied freighters totaling 75,000 tons had been sunk by German submarines within the last 24 hours in the Mediterranean, the Arctic, and the Atlantic.

The report was without confirmation from any allied source. The communique said four other ships had been torpedoed in the period.

In the last three days, the communique said, German submarines had sunk 47 allied ships, totaling 282,000 tons.

TAX COMMITTEE PROPOSES 4 PCT. DISCOUNT OFFER

Only Incentive to Go on Pay-as-Go Plan

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Discounts ranging up to 4 per cent for prompt payment of taxes on the current year's income would be offered the nation in plans approved by the house ways and means committee today. The system, a new wrinkle in tax collection procedure, was adopted as a device to encourage as many individuals as are able to go voluntarily on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The committee has abandoned hope of agreeing on legislation to put taxpayers on a current basis in meeting their obligations, rejecting several plans which were designed for this purpose. One of the proposals voted down was the Ruml plan calling for complete forgiveness of 1942 obligations to bring every one up to date at once.

Agree on Novel Program.

After a six weeks' huddle, the group was able to agree on a novel collection program providing for a 20 per cent withholding tax for wage and salary earners, starting July 1, to pay off what remains of the 1942 taxes after payment of the regular instalments which are due March 15 and June 15 as usual.

Next year the withholding tax would run the full year but amounts withheld again will go to pay off the bill for the prior year.

This reply by the committee to the widespread demand for up-to-date taxes has brought warnings of a house revolt when the matter reaches the floor. Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. [R., Mass.] has predicted that an overwhelming majority of the Republican membership will vote for adoption of the Ruml plan, including the feature of total forgiveness of last year's levies. If joined by a sufficient number of Democrats, they admittedly would be able to secure house adoption of the plan despite administration objections.

Roosevelt Opposes Ruml Plan.

At his press conference today, President Roosevelt took cognizance of the growing sentiment in favor of Ruml's idea when he came out flatly against it. He said the method of income tax payments is squarely up to congress but the fact remains that individual income tax payers would save a great deal of money in their obligations to the government from last year if 1942 levies were abated.

In other words, he continued, the individual taxpayer will pay less taxes to the government under the Ruml plan.

Administration spokesmen, including treasury officials, have opposed the skip-a-year measure on the ground that it would mean a loss to the government of 10 billion dollars in anticipated revenue from 1942 income and would unjustly favor wealthy persons who probably have saved their taxes anyway.

Proponents of the plan insist, on the other hand, that it will actually result in a gain to the treasury because of increased revenue that would be collected this year on levies against national income increased thru war spending.

Here's Committee Plan.

Under the committee's plan for a voluntary pay-as-you-go system, taxpayers paying all of this year's taxes based on an estimate by March 15, in addition to beginning payment on last year's, would be entitled to a 4 per cent discount on their 1943 tax bills. If he paid up for 1943 by June 15, his discount would be 3 per cent; by Sept. 15, 2 per cent, and Dec. 15, 1 per cent.

The plan does not permit any discount on payment of 1942 taxes since the full face value of this liability has been due since Jan. 1. The discount plan also would apply to any one trying to catch up next year.

Making the scheme not a whit easier to understand is the added possibility that the withholding tax in the last half of this year might exceed the amount due in the last two instalments on 1942 obligations and that the 1943 taxes in certain cases might also have been paid in advance. It was explained that in such a case the extra amount would be credited against the next year's taxes.

Congressional leaders who examined the plan immediately assailed it as an attempt by a Democratic controled committee to sidestep the onus of legislation forcing a doubling up which would pile new burdens on the present record breaking tax load in the interest of creating a current collection system. They noted that the excuse for rejecting the Ruml plan was that it would favor the wealthy and then asked who beside taxpayers of means will be able to pay two years taxes in one year to take advantage of the discounts.

Wins Damages of $20,000 in Suit Against Railroad

Rene Rauner, 50 years old, 10821 Ewing avenue, was awarded a $20,000 judgment against the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday by a jury in the Superior court of Judge John C. Lewe, for personal injuries suffered Feb. 20, 1942. Rauner's suit, filed by Atty. R. N. Wyckoff, had asked for $50,000, and charged that the plaintiff's back was broken when a string of freight cars was backed against a crane on which he was working on the grounds of the General Chemical company, 122d street and Carondolet avenue.

20 Civil Air Patrol Flyers Lost, Senate Group Told

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The civil air patrol has flown 16 million miles over water and has lost 20 pilots in doing so, Maj. Earle L. Johnson, CAP national commander, testified today in urging government compensation for death or injury of the civilian flyers. Sen. Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.], chairman of the senate finance subcommittee which heard Johnson, praised the work of the patrol.

Laurence C. Buskett and Harry T. Harlow, who went to the war from positions as classified advertising salesmen for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, have been promoted to captains, according to word received yesterday.

Capt. Buskett, in the far Pacific is company commander in an all-Chicago regiment which made history in the last days of fighting on Guadalcanal. He entered active service in February, 1941, as a second lieutenant. His wife lives at 599 Central avenue, Highland Park.

Capt. Harlow is now with a quartermaster regiment at Camp Lee, Virginia. He entered active service also in February, 1941, with the rank of second lieutenant. His father is chief passenger agent of the Erie railroad.

HOUSE GETS NEW DEMAND TO TAX FIELD'S ESTATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.] renewed his demand in the house today for congress to act promptly to prevent the Marshall Field estate, which he estimated at 200 million dollars in value, from escaping estate and income taxes.

Rankin urged passage of his bill, now being considered by the ways and means committee, to make old estates liable to the present revenue laws, even tho the founder of such estates died before the laws went into effect.

"The Marshall Field estate is being wasted in the publication of a radical newspaper in New York," Rankin told the house. "The estate will fall into the hands of Marshall Field III. [publisher of PM in New York] in September. Unless this bill is passed that estate, which has grown to probably 200 million dollars, will absolutely escape all estate and income taxes.

"I say it is an outrage—while we are taxing the masses of the American people and drafting our boys and sending them to die all over the world in our country's cause—to permit this estate, thru the manipulation of certain lawyers, to escape taxes altogether. It is an outrage to pour that wealth into certain hands to be used by a radical group for the purpose of undermining and destroying confidence in the congress of the United States."

FEARS DISASTER IN FARM PARITY PRICE SPIRALING

Springfield, Ill., March 12 (AP).—Declaring opposition to the Pace bill in congress to revise the farm parity price formula, Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, said today it would have the effect of further raising commodity prices and throwing the nation's economy "into an inflationary spiral that could be disastrous."

Smith said the I. A. A. and the Iowa Farm Bureau federation "do not favor passage" of the Pace measure, which is backed by the American Farm Bureau federation and some other farm groups. He spoke before about 1,800 farm bureau leaders at the regular spring meeting of the State Agricultural association.

Farm labor cost increases are covered in the present parity formula, Smith contended, pointing out that the parity price of corn had gone up from 71.4 cents to more than $1 per bushel.

CHINA PARADES PRICE VIOLATORS THRU STREETS

CHUNGKING, China, March 12 (AP).—Price ceiling violators were paraded thru the flag decorated streets of Chungking today and confiscated opium paraphernalia was burned in a public bonfire as an austerity keynote was sounded in a celebration of the 18th anniversary of the death of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Chinese republic's first president.

It was also the fourth anniversary of the founding of the national spiritual mobilization movement, and the Chinese press echoed Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's call for austere war time living, stressing the need for a greater war effort both by the nation and by individuals.

Authorities were considering new regulations, including the closing of big restaurants and the impending rationing of meat on the basis of one pound every five days for a family of five.

COURT REBUKES CLAIM AGAINST ARIANI ASSETS

Archie Cohen, federal referee in bankruptcy, denied yesterday the claims of Ben H. Molner of Glencoe to $81,000 in assets of Saverio Ariani, convicted president of the defunct First Italian State bank, and made the assets available, instead, to Fred E. Hummel as trustee in bankruptcy in the case.

"You're trying to get rich quick on a meager investment," said Referee Cohen, referring to Molner's purchase of $150,000 worth of bank claims for a reported $330.

The $81,000, including $10,000 in gold, will be used by Hummel to pay partially 13 major creditors having more than $300,000 in claims against Ariani. It was a compromise offer made by Ariani thru his lawyer, Abe Marovitz. Ariani was recently sentenced to a year and a day in prison by Judge Michael L. Igoe in federal District court.

CANADA HAS 'OPA' BUT FEW CURBS BURDEN CITIZENS

Food and Hotel Menus Lush as Ever.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 12.—Most important authority influencing the life of the average citizen in Canada today is the wartime prices and trade board, the writer discovered on a recent trip from Montreal to Toronto.

The WPTB is like our own OPA, only it has greater powers. It fixes the maximum rental for hotel rooms and regulates fair selling prices on food and other commodities.

One rule recently promulgated requires restaurants to charge 5 cents extra for any kind of beverage served with a table d'hôte meal.

One Cup of Coffee.

You may have one cup of coffee or one bag of tea. To the price quoted on the menu you will find the nickel added when you receive your bill. I asked the proprietor of one restaurant why he thought the rule had been adopted.

"I have never been able to figure it out," he said. "Maybe it's to make the customers more appreciative."

You get one pat of butter when you dine out in Canada. And you won't get that unless you ask for it. The waiter brings the sugar in person. You are limited to four lumps.

While sugar, tea, and coffee are rationed, other items on the bill of fare are not. An epicure would find great delight patronizing the better eating places in wartime Canada today.

A Typical Dinner.

Here, for example, is a typical table d'hote dinner offered by the Normandie roof, one of Montreal's swankier cafés, at $2.25 per person plus two taxes—25 per cent for amusement and an additional 5 per cent for the hospital fund:

Hard Egg Peter
Apple or Tomato Juice
Celery Radishes
Consommé Mirette Cream Velours
Choice:
Halibut Saute Meuniere with Tomato
Broiled Salmon Mirabeau
Broiled Sliced Mignon of Beef with Mushrooms
Minced Sweetbread Philadelphia
Cold Cuts, Potato and Vegetable Salad
Roast Brome Lake Duckling, Apple Sauce
Marquise of Hashed in Cream Potatoes
Peas à l'Etuvee or Creamed White Turnips
Lettuce Salad, French Dressing
Choice:
Pouding Caroline, Strawberry Jello
Apple Turnover Blueberry Pie
Maple Custard Ice Cream
Stewed Apples Café Parfait
Sherbet Apple Farmer's Cream Cheese
Tea, Coffee, Milk, or Chocolate, 5 Cents Extra

One restaurant chain [Murray's] which operates in Montreal, Toronto, and Ottawa features "grilled special bacon, eight pieces," on its supper list.

Twelve Desserts Offered.

Drury's, located in Montreal and said to be one of the oldest chop houses in the dominion, has an à la carte menu offering caviar, canape of anchovy, chateaubriand, pork chops, mutton chops, filet mignon, lamb cutlets, planked and sirloin steaks all in one breath, along with 12 desserts and more than 100 other different items.

Breakfast and luncheon are similar gastronomic poems in Canada. You may have either bacon or sausages with your restaurant griddle cakes. Then at noon if you care to toy with a bill of fare such as the one offered by the Venetian café of the Royal York hotel in Toronto, you can take your pick among 12 different main courses. The latter on March 5 included grilled sausages, fish, breaded lamb chop, and pickled ham, along with soup, fruit cup or fruit juice, butterscotch pie, raspberry sherbet, fruit pudding, and stewed rhubarb.

Coffee, sugar, and tea coupons under Canada's present rationing program are cumulative in value. They do not become invalid even tho not used. Unlike rationing tickets in this country they have no expiration date. A new rationing book issued by the dominion March 1, contains sheets of "spare" A, B, and C coupons. Presumably these have been added in anticipation to take care of whatever other commodities may be rationed in the future.

Plenty of Prunes.

There are plenty of prunes and raisins in the stores. These are high point value foods in the United States. One Canadian dealer recently was fined $100 for selling California seedless raisins beyond a "fair and reasonable price."

In several Canadian stores I found such delicacies as South African oranges, snails, and dehydrated bananas. Liquor, however, is scarce, and there is considerable grumbling because of shortened beer rations which have been in effect for some time. In some towns bootleggers are reported doing a thriving business. But as one Canadian said philosophically: "We can't expect to have everything."

Americans leaving Canada have tried to take some foods back with them but have been stopped at the border. One American was denied permission to cross the international line at Niagara Falls unless he left behind two bottles of Canadian catsup for which the American customs inspector demanded ration coupons.

No Canned Goods Rationing.

There is no official rationing of canned goods as yet. Some stores limit purchases to two cans of any one kind of food. Others have no limit.

Shoes are not rationed either, but most stores won't sell you more than two pairs at a time.

The typewriter section of one large Montreal store offered to sell me a brand new portable of standard make and guaranteed I could obtain official permission from the Canadian government to take it back with me to the United States. You also can buy a standard model machine if it is more than 10 years old. Rentals are not forbidden as in the United States.

There are plenty of sewing machines available in the dominion. Most are of the electric cabinet type. Stoves, both electric and gas, can be had upon application. Mechanical refrigerators, all brand new, can also be had, and all you need to buy one is the money.

Rubbers and heavy rubber soled hunting boots are plentiful. So are bicycles and brand new bicycle tires. The tires were on sale at $1.45 and $1.95 each. I asked the clerk if they were made of reclaimed rubber. "No," he said, "We haven't had to come to that, yet."

Suspenders with real elastic zip in them are available. So are garters having the same rubber stretching qualities. In the girdle section of one large Montreal store a clerk told me that if I were to buy a girdle for my wife it would be almost identical in rubber content with similar products sold before the war.

Imports from England.

Other stores feature spring wardrobes, "tailored in England," topcoats from both Britain and Ireland, imported sweaters, imported caps and ties "made of pure silk," also imported from England and selling three for $10.

Sliced bread is on the verboten list, as it was in this country until March 8. It is easier to get a new car than it is to get sliced bread. I learned this from a representative of the Car-U-Drive service in Montreal. He told me that had I been in his showroom only 48 hours previously I could have bought a brand new Nash sedan for $2,400. All I would have needed was the money, he said. The car, he explained, was not included in what is known as the government pool. No priority governed its sale. No official permission was required to buy or sell it. Not many such unencumbered cars are available, he told me. But they do exist, he said.

Pleasure driving is not permitted nor would much be possible under the 3 gallon a week ration.

Senate Is Warned of Famine Because of Draft Bungling

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sen. Sheridan Downey.

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Charges that the administration, from the President down, has bungled the man power program and that there is danger of a complete breakdown of the civilian economy were made on the senate floor today during debate on the Bankhead farmer deferment bill.

The senate also had before it an amendment by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] to exempt fathers from the draft, but at the request of the majority and minority leaders Wheeler agreed to withdraw his amendment from immediate consideration on condition it will receive early attention.

He accepted the assurances of Sen. Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the military affairs committee, that it will be given prompt and thoro consideration by the committee thru hearings. If not, Wheeler warned, he will bring it up on the floor again.

Fails to Untangle Bill.

Withdrawal of the Wheeler bill, however, failed to untangle the Bankhead measure, as Sen. Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.], shouting that "our entire civilian economy is breaking down," served notice he will demand deferment of transportation workers in critical areas thru an amendment to the Bankhead bill.

Downey said it will make no difference if farm workers are deferred and left on the farms to produce foods because in California, for example, there is insufficient help to maintain the transportation systems and farm products thus cannot reach the market.

"We are heading toward food riots and famine in fertile California," said Downey, who has just returned from a survey on the Pacific coast. He said that in two weeks California will be without transportation to carry farm products unless immediate action is taken.

Freight Delay Told.

Downey said freight, including war supplies, is piled up on the west coast and that no adequate facilities exist for moving it to ports or other distributing points. Truck drivers are working 75 and 100 hours a week, "dying at the wheels and passing out on their jobs," he declared.

"I am going to tell this senate and this rarefied atmosphere what is going on, and what I will say will take the rest of the day," said Downey, his face flushed and his voice ringing thru the chamber. This ended all hopes of leaders to get action today on the Bankhead bill.

Downey introduced his amendment to defer transportation workers, but didn't get to speak on it, as Wheeler consumed most of the time until the senate recessed. Downey's amendment will be the first order of business when the senate meets Tuesday.

Administration Gets Drubbing.

Administration officials took a drubbing from aroused senators on the man power and food programs. Wheeler said ordinarily he would not ask blanket deferment or exemption of any group, but declared the draft law has not been carried out as intended. He said fathers are being taken from their families while single men still are available, including many hiding in the government.

"There are young, single men in the state department—young men with handkerchiefs up their sleeves," Wheeler said. "If some of them went out to Montana the cowboys there wouldn't know whether to kiss them or kick them. Aren't there older men who can speak foreign languages and let some of these husky young single men go into the armed forces?

"What I'm asking today is that we not leave it up to the government departments any more. We're saying that a muddle has been made of the man power problem. I'm not saying it was Mr. McNutt's fault. [Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war man power commission.] The fault lies higher than Mr. McNutt."

Senators Attack Haidling.

Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Robert M. La Follette [P., Wis.], also attacked the administration handling of the program.

Vandenberg said he found himself "utterly and totally perplexed" in trying to deal with just one sector of the man power problem without adequate information or opportunity to deal with the problem as a whole.

"It seems to me that months and months and months ago the President of the United States should have called Adm. King and Gen. Marshall and Director McNutt and Secretary Wickard, and Gen. Hershey, and Mr. Nelson into one meeting at the White House and put them in a room, and told them not to come out until they could agree on how the available man power of this country should be allocated," said Vandenberg.

Calls for Unified Plan.

"Instead of that, we get what is described as a war cabinet meeting on the subject, the war cabinet consisting of such gentlemen as Judge Rosenman and Harry Hopkins.

"I am in the same perplexity today that I am going to be a month from today, until the high administrative responsible head of this government calls those immediately responsible to him for man power together and presents the country and the congress with a unified recommendation which covers all the necessities in all these directions."

Sen. La Follette said he doesn't like legislation such as the Bankhead bill for blanket deferment of any group and considers it a dangerous step, but felt forced to embrace it "to avert a catastrophe on the food front."

"I'm not an alarmist, but I've had more apprehension as to the failure to produce sufficient food than I've had over any other problem confronting us," La Follette asserted.

CICERO SCHOOL'S HEAD DISAVOWS BUSINESS DEALS

George A. Schwebel, superintendent of Cicero school district 99 for the last 17 years, testified yesterday that he has had no connection with business affairs of the school district since 1937, when a business manager was appointed. Schwebel is on trial with nine members of the school board and a school supplies dealer on charges of conspiracy, in the Criminal court of Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

Schwebel testified that he knew nothing of a transaction involving the purchase of desks, which has been attacked by the state, until he read of it in a Cicero newspaper last April. Defendant members of the school board also took the stand to deny the conspiracy charges. No session of the trial will be held today. The state will present rebuttal testimony Monday and the case is expected to go to the jury Tuesday.

$25,000 SALARY LIMIT REPEAL IS VOTED BY HOUSE

Rebuff to President Is Passed, 268 to 131.

ognize Wolcott, the member of the minority party. His motion was for the ways and means committee to be instructed to make the new debt limit 200 billions rather than 210 and he grinned broadly as the chamber shouted it down. Only one such motion is in order and Cooper therefore was prevented from taking his last fling at the other part of the bill, the part that Republican forces were safeguarding.

Opponents of the legislation, administration Democrats and a handful of Republicans, argued thruout the debate that the measure will favor salaried persons over wage earners and take off all limits on salary increases up to the $25,000.

The proponents, led by Disney and the G. O. P. leaders denied this vehemently. Ordinary business acumen, they asserted, will prevent undue pay roll boosts. But if this fails, they continued, there are other powers possessed by the government which will safeguard the wage and salary control structure.

Cite Other Controls.

They said, for example, there is the renegotiation of government contracts thru which departments can deduct unreasonable salaries from the cost of any project; the secretaries of war and navy can control salaries of contractor-employés with whom they deal, and the treasury has authority to deduct unreasonable compensation from the business expense of any firm for tax assessing purposes.

The frenzied battle was climaxed near the end when Rep. J. William Ditter [R., Pa.] arose charging that the administration was seeking to uphold a plank in the 1928 Communist party platform which advocated the shrinking of all salaries to a $25,000 top. He spoke in reply to Rep. Cooper, who had introduced an amendment seeking to kill the Disney proposal entirely.

"The gentleman from Tennessee [Cooper] champions the cause of executive fiat," Ditter asserted. "It is his theory that the President has the power to determine what the talents of every American may be worth. The salary limit was championed by the Communist party as an attractive weapon for social revolution."

Shouts Down His Words.

Cooper was on his feet in an instant, his deep voice booming:

"You're saying something that is not true."

The rest of his words, spoken out of order, were lost in a bedlam of shouts from the G. O. P. side.

A moment later Majority Leader John W. McCormack [D., Mass.] was recognized and spoke impassionately in defense of Cooper.

"The gentleman from Tennessee [Cooper] served with honorable distinction in the last war. My friend from Pennsylvania [Ditter] ought to bow his head in shame at the unfair attack upon this great legislator. But I forgive him for his impulsive utterances."

Then it was Ditter's turn to interject himself in the proceedings out of order.

"No forgiveness is sought," he roared as the Democratic side shouted him down.

Adding to the confusion was the introduction of a varied assortment of amendments as substitutes to the Disney measure. Each was voted down but not until the members registered their complaints over the parliamentary situation.

"I am utterly at sea," declared Rep. John H. Folger [D., N. C.]. "I don't know now what it's all about."

No one volunteered to help him.

HOW FIVE STATES VOTED ON REPEAL OF SALARY LIMIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Chicagoland representatives voted overwhelmingly today in favor of the house bill to raise the national debt limitation which contained a provision to repeal the President's $25,000 salary limitation. Congressmen from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin voted 53 to 13 for the bill. This is better than a 4 to 1 margin on a measure which passed by a vote slightly higher than 2 to 1. The Chicagoland vote:

ILLINOIS.

REPUBLICANS: FOR — Allen, Arends, Bishop, Busbey, Chiperfield, Church, Day, Dewey, Heidinger, Howell, Anton Johnson, Reed, Simpson, Sumner, Vursell, and Wheat—16. AGAINST—Dirksen, Calvin Johnson, Mason—3.

JACK BRICKHOUSE with WGN Basketball Trophy

SPORTS FANS!

For the name of the most valuable basketball player in the Big Ten and winner of the famous WGN Basketball Trophy for 1943

TUNE IN WGN'S

"SPORTS REVIEW"

TONIGHT at 6:15

Ten men, representing the most valuable basketball players on each of the Big Ten teams, already are chosen. Which one of these stars will win the most coveted award of all—the third annual WGN actual size basketball trophy—denoting the most valuable player and highest individual honor in Western Conference basketball? For this important announcement and sports ceremony, including interviews with the trophy winner, league officials, coaches and other judges, hear WGN's "Sports Review," with Jack Brickhouse, tonight at 6:15. This popular program may be heard every weekday, Monday thru Saturday, at this same time.

MEAT RATIONING LIMITS BUYING TO 16 POINTS A WEEK

Values to Be Fixed Later; No Sales Freeze.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 12.—Approximately half the total food purchases by housewives will be made thru the use of ration coupons starting March 29, when meats, canned fish, cheese, butter, and edible fats and oils will be added to the rationed list, government officials estimated today in announcing details of the new program.

The meat-butter-cheese rationing ordered yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard will cover about 35 per cent of the average housewife's food bill, according to government estimates. When included with sugar, coffee, and canned goods already being rationed, the total amount of the family larder brought under coupon restrictions in less than a year will amount to about 50 per cent, it was estimated.

Red Coupons to Be Used.

Details of the new program as announced today by the office of price administration include the following:

1. Housewives will start Monday, March 29, to spend red coupons in ration book No. 2 for the newly rationed foods. No consumer declarations will be required.

2. Each person, regardless of age, will be allowed 64 points until May 1 to spend for these foods. Sixteen points will be made valid each week, but the validity of all these coupons will extend until April 30.

Announce Values Later.

3. There is no distinction made in the use of red stamps as among meats, cheese, butter, and other rationed foods. Consumers may spend most or all of their coupons for any one item, or split up their purchases any way they wish.

4. The official list of point values for all the foods included will be made public sometime during the week of March 22. The point values, including those for more than 150 meat items, will be stated on a per pound basis with differences in value according to supplies and consumer preferences.

Meat Sales Won't be Frozen.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said that there will be no "freezing" of meat sales before March 29, but that whether sales of butter, cheese, fats, and oils will be frozen depends on the restraint of the public in making purchases during the next two weeks.

All poultry and game, whether fresh, frozen, or in containers, was excluded from the ration program. Also exempt are fresh, frozen, smoked, pickled, and salt fish, pure olive oil, salad dressing, and mayonnaise. Soft or perishable cheese, such as cream and cottage, are also exempt, as are cheese spreads made with a base of nonrationed cheese, and products containing less than 30 per cent of rationed cheese.

Consumption Cut 12 to 15 Per Cent.

Consumption of meat, butter, cheese, fats, and oils will be reduced 12 to 15 per cent below the 1942 level by rationing, according to estimates by Wickard. The meat allotment thru consumer ration coupons will average about 2 pounds a week per person and will total 2¼ pounds, including sales in restaurants and institutions and consumption by farmers who slaughter their own meat ration free.

Other weekly allowances will average as follow: ¼ pound of butter, 1.7 ounces of cheese; 3 ounces of shortening, ¼ pound of lard, and 1.2 ounce of margarine.

Altho farmers will receive ration books and will not be limited in the consumption of meat and other rationed foods which they produce themselves, Brown urged them to voluntarily curtail consumption to about the same level as city dwellers.

Restaurants Curtailed.

Restaurants, hotels, and other institutions will be allotted supplies of rationed foods on a basis that will reduce their use to about the same level as householders, Brown said. These institutions are required to register for ration allotments starting March 29 and will be required to turn in ration points for purchases after that date.

Similarly, the amounts of foods allotted to industrial users will be controlled. The army, navy, and lend-lease administration will also be required to make their purchases thru the use of ration certificates, but they will be given rations to as much as they need, Brown explained.

None of the rationed meats will be available for dog or other pet foods. Considerable quantities of horse meat and other products not usually consumed by humans are available for pet foods, officials said.

Change Can Be Given.

The new program permits retailers to give "change" in ration stamps to consumers where the customer does not have the exact amount of red stamps required. One point stamps of any valid series may be used for this purpose.

Meat cuts that have a large amount of bone and fat will in general have lower point values than cuts that are completely edible, OPA explained. Likewise, perishable meats, such as brains, kidneys, and hearts, will have relatively low point values.

Point values will be set, OPA said, on a basis that allows for a normal amount of trimming and waste. Butchers will be compensated for this trimming thru the use of a separate set of "trade" point values that will run up to 20 per cent less than consumer point values. These trade values will be used by retailers in making their purchases from suppliers. They may also be used by consumers if they choose to buy wholesale meat on an "untrimmed" basis.

Because meat cutting is inexact, point costs will be figured to the nearest full point. Thus, a steak which figured 10¼ points could be had for 10 points. But if it figures 10½ or larger fraction, it will cost 11 points.

In addition to 150 point values for various meats, the OPA is preparing a separate point chart for kosher stores, covering 60 different meat cuts.

During the first two weeks of rationing, March 29 thru April 10, retail stores will collect stamps from their customers but will not turn in points to wholesale suppliers. This "point holiday" applies to wholesalers and other meat suppliers. It is designed to permit wholesale and retail distributors to maintain inventories and to permit retailers to build up a working supply of points.

Dealers Start April 11.

Beginning Sunday, April 11, retailers and wholesalers must surrender points for any purchases. They are required to register with OPA local boards from May 3 to 14 inclusive, at which time they will be allotted allowable inventories stated in points. Industrial users of rationed foods may apply to OPA local boards for allotments from March 29 thru April 10.

HOUSING CHIEF PROMISES HELP FOR CHICAGOANS

Federal authorities are preparing a program to meet Chicago's demands for adequate housing for war workers, Mayor Kelly said yesterday after receiving a telegram from John B. Blandford Jr., head of the national housing administration. A Chicago delegation to Washington recently sought priorities for 30,000 homes. Blandford's telegram follows:

"Our office has been working closely with the war man power commission and the office of defense transportation toward a determination of labor and housing requirements for some of the major industrial plants in the Chicago area. The complexities of the Chicago labor and transportation system have presented several problems which are rapidly approaching a solution, and our regional representative in Chicago, Willard F. Day, informs me he expects to submit an integrated program which will assure the adequate staffing of these war industries."

Following receipt of the wire, Mayor Kelly said he expected to confer with Day.

DEALER TO FIGHT WPB POWER TO TAKE 11 TRUCKS

Authority of the war production board to requisition 11 new trucks from Edward P. Campbell, a dealer at 827 West 35th street, will be challenged in United States District court, Raymond F. Hayes, Campbell's attorney, said yesterday.

Hayes said he will sue for just compensation, asking $350 for each truck in addition to its original cost. He asserted the WPB violated the Constitution when it seized Campbell's property without "due process of law." The WPB requisitioned the trucks last Wednesday after Campbell refused to accept a government offer to buy them at his cost price. The WPB charged Campbell had neglected the trucks and permitted them to deteriorate in violation of a conservation order.

Hayes said he will institute proceedings after the Defense Supplies corporation, which is buying the trucks for the government, submits its offer based on an appraisal.

GALA OPERETTA, 'EILEEN,' FEATURE TONIGHT ON W-G-N

In an advance salute to St. Patrick's day, the Chicago Theater of the Air will present Victor Herbert's Irish flavored operetta, "Eileen," over W-G-N, W59C, and Mutual from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight.

Marion Claire will sing the title rôle and Mario Berini will sing the part of Barry O'Day. Laurette Fillbrandt and Marvin Mueller will take the two leading dramatic rôles.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak.

Other singing parts in the operetta will be taken by Virginia Sellers, Earl Wilkie, and Bruce Foote; other dramatic rôles by Elmira Roessler, Cliff Soubier, Charles Penman, and Bret Morrison.

All the familiar tunes of this Herbert favorite, including the title song, "Eileen," "Thine Alone," and "Great Day for the Irish," will be included in the presentation.

OPA SAYS CITY PANTRY HAS BIG CANNED SURPLUS

Suburbs Lead, However, in Excess Goods.

Chicago pantries last Feb. 21 held enough surplus canned goods to stock several large groceries, an analysis of consumer declaration forms filed during the mass registration for point rationing Feb. 23 thru 27 disclosed yesterday. Per capita holdings of excess canned goods were higher in the suburbs than in Chicago.

The declaration of excess supplies of coffee and canned goods was required in obtaining ration book No. 2, which became effective March 1 for the rationing of processed fruits and vegetables and which will be used after March 28 for rationing meats, butter, cheese, and related products.

Mulcahy Gives Figures.

Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area director of the office of price administration, reported the following statistics on the registration:

	Chicago.	Other.*
Number of consumers	3,362,394	1,023,153
Number of forms filed	1,136,021	221,368
Excess cans declared	2,285,173	1,737,313
Excess coffee, pounds	37,666	13,422

Mulcahy explained that consumers were required to declare all cans and bottles of food owned in excess of the 5 can allowance per person on Feb. 21, and all coffee held last Nov. 28 in excess of the one pound allowance for every person whose age was listed as 14 years or older on his ration book No. 1. Family groups could be registered on one form.

Why Suburbs Lead.

Larger holdings of canned goods in the suburban areas were explained by the traditional heavier pantry holdings in communities where single family residences predominate and food stores are not easily accessible.

Mulcahy said his statistical analysis did not determine how many of the registering families or individual consumers reported excess supplies. He noted, however, that the predominant majority of declaration forms showed no surplus cans, or just a few. Some families, on the other hand, reported as many as 800 or 900 excess cans.

In Chicago, 1,484,533 coupons of 8 point value each were removed from ration books to allow for an equal number of excess cans. In addition, 800,640 excess cans had to be charged against future ration books because some consumers reported more than 24 excess cans, which exhausted the twenty-four 8 point value coupons in their ration books.

More Deductions to Be Made.

Only one 8 point coupon was removed for each excess can, regardless of size, and if the consumer reported more than 24 surplus cans, the remainder was inscribed in the inside cover of his ration book to be deducted later.

In the remainder of the metropolitan area eight coupon stamps were removed for 1,146,412 excess cans and 590,801 excess cans were charged against future books.

Mulcahy said that total registrations generally were lower than those tallied last May 4 thru 7 when sugar rationing books were issued. In Chicago proper, the registrants dropped 116,587 from the May, 1942, total of 3,478,971.

50,000 Applications Pending.

He said that some of the discrepancy between the registration figures might be resolved by late registrations, which will start March 15. Already 50,000 late applications for No. 2 ration books are pending in Chicago, many filed in rooming house and hotel districts. Those without No. 1 books were ineligible for No. 2 books.

Raymond S. McKeough, regional OPA administrator, reported that 17,818,462 persons in the seven midwestern states of the Chicago region got No. 2 books. This compares with 18,693,534 who obtained sugar ration books last May, or a decline of 875,072. The region includes Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, and North and South Dakota. The drop was attributed to the absence of persons living in hotels and rooming houses and to withdrawals by the army and navy.

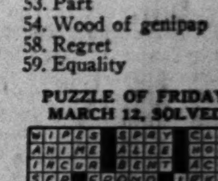
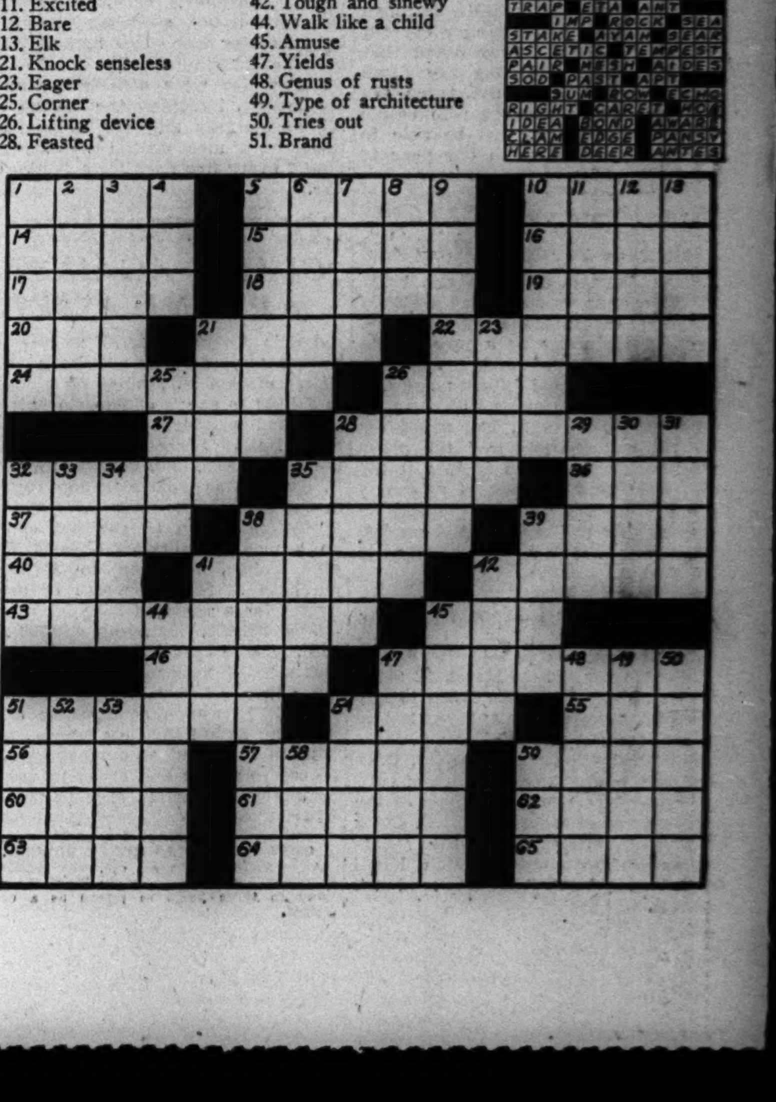
PUZZLE OF FRIDAY, MARCH 12, SOLVED





NEGROES WRITING A HEROIC PAGE IN HISTORY OF NAVY

5 Lost at Pearl Harbor, 4 Brothers Fight On.

BY JOHN A. MOROSO III.

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, March 12 (AP).—The hail of Japanese bombs and torpedoes that destroyed the battleship Arizona at Pearl Harbor also killed five brothers of the fighting Holden family—an orphaned group of nine Negro boys.

On Sept. 14, 1942, Warren Holden, 18 years old, of New York City, enlisted as an apprentice seaman.

"I'd like to get on a gun crew over there to get a few Japs for my brothers who didn't have a chance to defend themselves last December," he told recruiting officers.

Holden has three brothers in the army. His father served in the navy in the last war. Aunts and uncles reared the Holden boys after their parents died.

These youngsters, like many other Negroes, have been upholding the honor of their race in American forces in this war. Several have been decorated. I have heard many stories of their bravery in my travels with the fleet.

Leads Survivors in Song.

There was Tracy Marcus, 18, of Mullins, S. C., a messman aboard the seaplane tender Gannet. The Gannet was sunk by a U-boat off Bermuda last summer. She went down in four minutes but 50 seamen managed to get onto life rafts.

"Lord have mercy on us, on our souls. Save us from the sea," said a voice in the darkness.

Lt. Francis E. Neussle, skipper of the Gannet, knew it was Marcus praying and that Marcus could sing spirituals. He commanded the lad to sing and the air soon rang with song. The singing was infectious and everybody pitched in. They still were singing hours later when planes and rescue ships appeared.

Another Negro Hero.

The destroyer Gregory was converted into a transport and sent to Guadalcanal, where she was sunk by Jap warships. Her survivors plunged into the shark-infested sea.

A Negro lad named Fred French, 20, of Newark, N. J., was aboard one of the overcrowded life rafts. When he realized the raft was drifting away from shore, he tied a line around his waist and dived into the water with these words:

"I'm going to tow this old crate in."

Six hours later a barge picked up the men on the raft. French, exhausted, was still swimming.

Tries to Save Captain.

When the Arizona was sunk, a Negro messman, Dorie Miller, 22, of Waco, Tex., manned a machine gun, altho he never had had any formal training with the weapon. He fired at Jap planes until his ammunition was exhausted. He was trying to reload the gun when officers ordered him to abandon ship.

Miller was commended by the navy "for his distinguished devotion to duty, extraordinary courage and disregard for his own personal safety during the attack."

"While at the side of his captain on the bridge," the commendation read, "Miller, despite enemy strafing and bombing and in the face of a serious fire, assisted in moving his captain, who had been mortally wounded, to a place of greater safety and later manned and operated a machine gun until ordered to leave the bridge."

Miller is the son of share croppers.

They Passed the Ammunition.

I had a good chance to observe Negroes in the navy during the invasion of North Africa. I found them courageous and conscientious. It was the job of our messmen to pass the ammunition. They were assigned to the magazines deep in the bowels of the ship—a hazardous place. These boys sweated down there for almost eight hours. When the battle was over, they came topside and served us food, altho exhausted.

"Were you scared?" I asked one.

"Yes, sir," he replied.

"What did you do about it?" I asked.

"I was too busy to think much about it," he said.

Camp at Great Lakes.

Until last April the navy used Negroes only as messmen. They cooked, prepared, and served the meals. On April 8 the navy opened up all ratings to Negroes.

Camp Robert Smalls was constructed at Great Lakes, Ill., and a 16 week course was laid out. The camp was named after a Negro pilot who took the Confederate transport Planter out of Charleston harbor during the Civil war and delivered it to the Yankee forces. Smalls was made skipper of the craft and served with distinction.

Last September, a Negro captain, Hugh N. Mulzac of Brooklyn, N. Y., was named skipper of the 10,500 ton Liberty ship Booker T. Washington.

The navy has not enlisted Negroes in the WAVES and SPARS, but the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is pressing a campaign in that direction.

WALKS ALL NIGHT IN BLIZZARD; THEN DOES EXTRA SHIFT

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—A war worker who walked all night thru a blizzard in sub-zero weather to get to work and then put in an extra shift received congratulations today from Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board.

The worker, Loyd Converse, 42 years old, employed in the Massena, N. Y., plant of the Aluminum Corporation of America, left his home near Hopkington at 9 p. m. Sunday, walked 20 miles, and reached work at 8 a. m.

He worked his regular shift and remained an additional eight hours in place of an employé absent because of the storm.

RESTAURATEUR JOHN P. HARDING DIES IN HOSPITAL

Civil Service President Had Many Interests.

John P. Harding, 76 year old president of the civil service commission and for many years a Chicago restaurant owner, died yesterday in St. Francis' hospital, Evanston.

Stricken several weeks ago with aplastic anemia, or failure of the bone marrow to manufacture new blood cells, Mr. Harding had received numerous blood transfusions to bolster his strength, his physician, Dr. Adolph C. Held, said. The immediate cause of death was a heart attack.

Operated 12 Restaurants.

Born in Peru, Ill., in 1866, Mr. Harding entered the restaurant business in Chicago in 1891. Over the years his original restaurant grew into a downtown chain of 12.

He had served as president of the Hotel Planters company for 10 years; was head of the Harding Market company, dealers in wholesale meats; was manager of the Allerton Hotel corporation; a director of the Wilson Packing company, and a member of the Chicago Association of Commerce. His proudest boast was that he popularized the corned beef sandwich in Chicago.

In 1935 he headed a group of Chicagoans who took over the Washington Park race track, home of the American Derby, in a successful effort to increase interest in racing in Chicago.

Civil Service Head Twice.

He twice served as president of the Chicago Civil Service commission. He held the post from Aug. 1, 1934, to April 18, 1936, and resigned because of the pressure of his private business. On Nov. 6, 1942, he was reappointed by Mayor Kelly, and was president of the commission at the time of his death.

During both terms he served without pay. His political creed was expressed in the statement, made at the time of his second appointment, that, "I'm a Democrat, of course, but I never vote a straight ticket."

He was responsible for many innovations in the restaurant business. In 1934 he ordered the wives of his more than 200 married employés to accompany their husbands to work at least one day a month, and for some six months, bartenders, doormen, meat carvers, engineers, truck drivers, salesmen, and executives were accompanied to work by their wives on one day each month.

Seeks Tips from Wives.

"There are two reasons for the order," Mr. Harding explained at the time. "First, it will tend to increase domestic happiness by giving the wives first hand knowledge of their husband's daily problems, and second, there is the possibility the wives may have suggestions to improve the service."

He is survived by his widow, Annette L.; two sons, James and Martin, the latter a captain in the army, and a daughter, Mrs. William H. Lyman Jr. He made his home at 1050 Pratt boulevard.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday from the chapel at 25 East Erie street to St. Ignatius' church, 6559 Glenwood avenue, where requiem mass will be said at 10:30. The city hall will be closed until 1 p. m. Monday in respect to his memory.

WRIT IS DENIED IN TOUHY FIGHT ON INDICTMENTS

Judge James V. Bartley of Will county Circuit court yesterday dismissed a petition by Joseph Harrington, attorney for Roger Touhy, for a writ of habeas corpus to produce Edward Darlak and his brother, Casimir, as witnesses to support Harrington's motion to quash indictments charging Touhy with aiding in the escape of Edward Darlak from Stateville prison Oct. 9.

Harrington contended neither of the Darlaks had been allowed to testify before the grand jury which indicted Touhy on the charge, which grew out of the escape of Touhy, Edward Darlark, and five other long term convicts from Stateville.

Judge Bartley will hear Harrington's motion to quash the indictment against Touhy on March 16.

MORGAN FAILS TO SHOW GAIN, DOCTORS REPORT

Boca Grande, Fla., March 12 (AP).—Discouraging reports came today from the cottage where J. P. Morgan is ill of a heart ailment.

"Mr. Morgan's condition was not improved overnight," said a bulletin issued by the multi-millionaire's banking company at 23 Wall street, New York. It was learned here that the financier, who is 75 years old, had a bad night, and physicians brought in oxygen equipment to ease the strain on his heart. Three physicians and a corps of nurses are attending him.

Lt. Comm. Henry Sturgis Morgan, his younger son, reached Boca Grande after an airplane and speedboat trip today and joined his sister, Mrs. Paul G. Pennoyer, at Morgan's bedside.

Kimball-Homan Bus Plea Gets ODT Promise of Study

A promise of "careful study" has been given by Washington officialdom to Chicago's plea for the restoration of service on the Kimball-Homan avenue bus line, according to a telegram received yesterday by Mayor Kelly from Walter H. Buescher, chairman of a delegation which went to the capital to petition for the restoration. Abandonment of the bus line last December has caused considerable inconvenience to a score of war plants employing 12,000 workers.

WILLKIE PLEADS FOR CITIZENSHIP OF RED OFFICIAL

Fights Revocation in Supreme Court.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie argued before the Supreme court today that cancellation of the United States citizenship of an alien merely because he was a member of the Communist party would constitute "a drastic abridgment of freedom of political belief and thought as well as freedom of speech."

Speaking rapidly and vigorously, the 1940 Republican Presidential nominee protested the cancellation of citizenship obtained in 1927 by William Schneiderman, state secretary of the Communist party for California and a native of Russia.

"Congress alone can make active membership in the Communist party of America a bar to naturalization and congress has not done so," he asserted.

Willkie has announced that he is representing Schneiderman without compensation.

Overthrow of U. S. Advocated.

Opposing him was Solicitor General Charles Fahy, who contended that Schneiderman's citizenship should be canceled because both he and the Communist party in 1927 "believed in, advocated, and taught the overthrow of this government by force and violence."

This was the second Supreme court debate between the two men on the same question. The case was argued last Nov. 9, more than 15 months after it had been appealed to the tribunal. Then on Feb. 15, after Justice Wiley B. Rutledge had taken his seat, a reargument was ordered.

Only seven justices heard the previous argument. Justice Robert H. Jackson, attorney general when the case was before the justice department, considered himself disqualified. The reason for the reargument was not announced.

Sees "Astounding Result."

"If this court cancels the citizenship of Schneiderman," Willkie asserted, "we have this astounding result: An American born boy arriving at the age of 21 on the same day as Schneiderman could with propriety have been the president of the organization of which Schneiderman was a humble member, and such American born boy could in time have run with full sanction of the laws of the land for the Presidency of the United States as a candidate of that organization.

"Yet Schneiderman, 12 years after naturalization, is to be deprived of his citizenship because what was proper for this American born boy, to wit, membership in the Communist party, was held a disqualification for Schneiderman, the congress had not expressly so provided."

Schneiderman came to this country in 1908 at the age of 3, became an American citizen in 1927, and his citizenship was ordered canceled in 1940 by the District court at San Francisco on the ground that he had concealed his Communist connection.

AUTO VICTIM, 74, DIES IN HOSPITAL OF HIS INJURIES

Hugh Bannon, 74 years old, died yesterday in Evangelical hospital of injuries suffered March 1 when he was struck by an automobile at Western avenue and 63d street. He lived in Crete. The driver was Wesley Kenison, 37, of 6252 North Campbell avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 103 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 81 were killed in Chicago, where 2,606 were injured during the same period.

WARN NONVITAL BUSES TO STOP AFTER MONDAY

Sightseeing, charter, and other special service buses will be halted after Monday, the regional office of the local transport division of the office of defense transportation reminded operators yesterday. Only motor vehicles carrying 10 or more passengers are affected.

Included in the forbidden bus services are those used to transport school athletic teams; special buses to race tracks, beaches, golf clubs, riding academies, night clubs, state and county fairs, and amusement centers; special services for hotels and apartment buildings, orchestras, entertainments, and shopping centers.

Exempt from the order will be many buses serving airports, hospitals, sanitariums, institutions for crippled or blind, isolated resort hotels and summer camps that are served by no other transportation, and factories.

HELEN YATES, 77, EX-GOVERNOR'S WIDOW, IS DEAD

Springfield, Ill., March 12 (AP).—Mrs. Helen Wadsworth Yates, widow of former Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois, died last night in the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Pickering, in Pleasant Ridge, Mich., after a three week illness. She was 77 years old.

Mrs. Yates had been living in Michigan for about a year. Former Gov. Yates, who held office from 1901 to 1905, died here in 1936.

Mrs. Yates was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wadsworth, pioneer residents of Jacksonville, and attended the Illinois Women's college—now MacMurray college—in that city. She and Mr. Yates were married in 1888. Services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon in Pleasant Ridge and at 2 p. m. Sunday in Jacksonville.

Oil from Burst Pipe Line Ignited East of Steger

A Standard Oil company crude oil pipe line which runs from Texas to Whiting, Ind., burst last night in the section of the line that crosses the Lincolnshire Country club, east of Steger. Oil from the break poured into a ravine, and was ignited. Firemen from Chicago Heights shut off the flow of oil above the leak, and the break was repaired.

OBITUARIES

Witt K. Cochrane.

Witt K. Cochrane, retired Chicago advertising executive, died yesterday in Altadena, Cal., where he had made his home in recent years. He was about 75 years old and a native of West Virginia. Mr. Cochrane began his working career as a newspaper man on the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, then entered advertising, and eventually founded a company under his own name in Chicago. Mr. Cochrane, who lived in La Grange before moving to California, leaves his widow, Elsie; a son, Kenneth of Cleveland, O., and a daughter, Mrs. Jack Moore of Pasadena, Cal.

Mrs. Mary K. Kirchberg.

Mrs. Mary K. Kirchberg, 66 years old, of 908 Leonard parkway, Crystal Lake, wife of Edward Kirchberg, Chicago jeweler, died yesterday in Elgin. She is survived by eight sons, four of them in the fighting services, and two daughters. They are Lt. J. Michael, Ensign Donald B., and Francis J., all in the navy; Sergt. Robert J., Edward K., Philip J., Theodore P., Anton J., Katherine, and Mrs. Elizabeth Butler. She leaves two sisters and four brothers. Funeral services will be at 10:15 a. m. Monday from St. Thomas Catholic church at Crystal Lake.

Lawrence Crook.

Lawrence Crook, for 40 years publisher and editor of the Chicago Folke Vennen, a Scandinavian language religious newspaper, died Thursday in his home in Atascadero, Cal., according to word received yesterday by members of his family. The funeral will be tomorrow. Mr. Crook was 83 years old, a native of Denmark. He lived in Oak Park 40 years as one of its pioneer residents. He and his wife, Carrie, who died in 1937, moved to California 19 years ago. Mr. Crook leaves three sons and three daughters.

APPROVE THREE DOCKS ON RIVER FOR TAXI SERVICE

River taxi service moved nearer realization yesterday when the city council committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges approved a measure authorizing the Rodi Boat Storage and Service company, 2454 South Ashland avenue, to maintain docks at the Michigan avenue, Madison street, and Adams street bridges.

Clyde Erzinger, an official of the Rodi company, said that if the council approved the plan next week, boats would be in operation by May 1. Present plans call for six boats, fees to be 25 cents per person each trip, or 20 cents on a weekly ticket plan. Some further arrangements are yet to be made with the coast guard, but the company foresees no difficulty.

The council committee's order, if ultimately approved, will be effective for five years. The annual fee will be $200. The committee also approved a boat landing at Michigan avenue for Arthur Agra, 1356 Sunnyside avenue, to operate sight seeing boats.

SAUSAGE DEALER LOSES LICENSE; CALL MEAT UNFIT

Mayor Kelly yesterday revoked the license of the Lawndale Sausage company, 3617 27th street, on complaint of the board of health that 1,100 pounds of spoiled meat had been found in its plant.

The action was coincident with a meeting of the city council health committee on the subject of tainted meat. At the same time Alex Elson, regional attorney for the office of price administration, promised that the federal government would follow up all violations of that kind reported by the health authorities.

The board of health recommended the Lawndale Sausage company license revocation Thursday, but the action was not made public until yesterday when Paul Krueger, chief sanitary inspector for the board, informed the health committee. He quoted Peter Marecek, the owner, as saying he did not intend to use the meat. Soon afterward Mayor Kelly revoked the license.

NEW INDICTMENT VOTED AGAINST 2 LABOR LEADERS

Charges Extortion of $4,200 from Firm.

New York, March 12 (AP).—District Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced today that a superseding indictment had been returned against two Westchester county labor leaders charging them with extorting $4,200 from a Nebraska construction concern engaged in filling a Delaware aqueduct contract in 1937.

The two, William J. McGeory, 61 years old, president of the building and construction trades council of Westchester county, and Martin J. Parkinson, business agent of Westchester local 137, International Union of Operating Engineers, American Federation of Labor, were indicted previously on an attempted extortion charge involving threats against another company working on the aqueduct.

Free in $5,000 Bail Each.

McGeory and Parkinson, both of Yonkers, were released in $5,000 bail each after pleading innocent to the new indictment.

Hogan reported the superseding indictment, returned yesterday by a grand jury, included both the attempted extortion count and the new charge.

The previous indictment accused the pair of seeking to extort $100,000 from the Dravo corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., soon after it obtained an 11½ million dollar contract from New York City's board of water supply as its share of the 200 million dollar aqueduct project.

Charge Weekly Payments.

The superseding indictment charged the men with the extortion between Feb. 10, 1937, and March 19, 1937, of $4,200 in weekly $150 payments from executives of the W. E. Callahan Construction company of Nebraska.

Hogan said the pair approached Paul T. Grafe, official of the concern in New York, in 1937 and demanded payments on threats to stage strikes, damage machines, or sabotage the job.

WOMEN JURORS FREE CHICAGOAN OF BRIBE CHARGE

Detroit, Mich., March 12 [Special].—An all-woman jury in Recorder's court today found Maurice L. Bein, Chicago contractor, and two co-defendants not guilty of charges of conspiracy to bribe an alderman in connection with construction of the $8,200,000 Herman Gardens federal housing project.

Bein, an unsuccessful bidder on the work, was charged with plotting with Charles Carpenter, a sewer contractor, and Paul A. Fisher, a steel salesman, to buy the vote of former Councilman Robert G. Ewald. Bein's attorney argued that he was a victim of city hall politics and revenge on the part of Ewald and others.

Ewald testified he was offered $15,000 for his vote and that the offer later was raised to $25,000. He was returned for the trial from prison where he is serving a 3 to 10 year sentence for accepting a $5,000 bribe for voting for the successful bidders. Bein is still under indictment on a charge of attempting to bribe Ewald.

Bomber Skids on Runway; Damages Training Plane

A B-25 [Mitchell] army medium bomber plane, arriving at Chicago airport on a routine flight from Des Moines, Ia., yesterday, skidded on an icy spot on the runway and swerved into a training plane. The tail of the training plane was torn off and the bomber tipped on its nose. No one was hurt, army officers said.

GREEN DEMANDS KELLY'S DEFEAT TO KILL MACHINE

Mayoral Election Vital, Governor Asserts.

tional administration of civil affairs, the Kelly machine is shouting its own voice from the sewers for a fourth term.

"A vote for Kelly is a vote for four more years of domination and arrogant control of every individual effort and of throttling every attempt of free enterprise. I tell you now that if Ed Kelly is reëlected, within one week after the ballots are counted he will again raise the 'voice from the sewer' for four more years of burocratic control."

Citing McKibbin's slogan: "Win on the Home Front Too," as inspiring every activity and every thought to the cause of victory, Gov. Green offered another slogan, "a battle cry that you can shout in every ward and every precinct and carry into every home in Chicago."

"It is the battle cry that not only bespeaks the liberation of a decent city from the loathsome control of America's most notorious political machine, but also voices to all America that the great capital of an inland empire will no longer be subjected to the ruin of spoils politics.

"I will give you this slogan now: 'Good-by, Kelly, you're thru. The people of Chicago have had enough of you.'"

Work, Sen. Hawkes Urges.

Sen. Hawkes, a native of Chicago, who lived here 37 years, urged business men, industrialists, and others to become active in politics to help in organizing and to aid in campaign funds.

"A political machine can only survive if the people go to sleep on their duties as citizens," he said.

"We've tried to get rid of the idea that if a machine is in power nothing can put it out of power.

"I'm going to tell you how to beat the machine if you want to do it. You've got to have courage to stand in the limelight and take the consequences. The place where good government begins is where you live. The national character is a composite of all the citizens. Your representative in the city hall can be no greater than you gentlemen behind him making the fight. The price of victory against the machine is hard work. I urge you to work, work, work, and defeat bossism."

School Issue Emphasized.

Declaring that the most important issue in the campaign is the school issue, Mr. McKibbin said:

"We've had 10 years of Kelly and McCahey, whose term expires May 1. If Kelly is reëlected we'll get five more years of McCahey. If I am elected we'll have no more Kelly and no more McCahey.

"Kelly has been on the public payrolls for 49 years, and I am willing to match my few years of public life against Kelly's 49, which includes the 'whoopee era' of the sanitary district."

Promising the workers that he would "spoil Kelly's golden jubilee celebration next year," he added: "Kelly polled less than 25 per cent of the total vote registered in the primary election. That means you people have three out of every four voters in the city to work on."

Richard J. Lyons said that "the eyes of America are on Chicago in this election." He reviewed Republican history for the last 20 years and charged that the mayoral election of 1939 [when Gov. Green opposed Kelly] and the senatorial election of 1938, when Lyons himself was a candidate, "were stolen by the Kelly-Nash machine."

Aurora Boys Rescue Baby Who Fell Thru River Ice

Helen Salis, 2½ years old, 56 Ogden avenue, Aurora, was pulled from the Fox river yesterday by Willard Cooper, 13, of 1124 Prairie street, and Roy Day, 15, of 526 South River street. 26 MILLION FARM HELP FUND O.K.'D BY HOUSE GROUP

FSA Participation Is Forbidden.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Warning of possible "disastrous" effects unless adequate labor is supplied to produce food, the house appropriations committee today recommended an appropriation of $26,100,000 to recruit and place farm workers in needed areas under direction of state extension services.

The committee cast aside as excessive agriculture department requests for $65,075,000 to undertake the new program involving an estimated 3,500,000 workers — including foreigners, women and youths—and specified that the program not be handled by the farm security administration.

In taking this action it rejected a budget bureau suggestion that the secretary of agriculture be given authority to allocate the appropriation to whatever agencies he believed should handle the work.

Based on Labor Needs.

The program outlined by the committee provided that the funds be expended under direction of the agriculture extension service of the federal government in coöperation with state extension services.

Of the total recommended, $13,500,000 was earmarked for use in the various states and Puerto Rico on the basis of their farm labor needs, and $12,500,000 was set aside for use of the federal extension service in coöperation with state services and the United States employment service for recruitment and transportation of domestic and imported labor.

Testimony on the legislation disclosed that present plans call for the recruiting of approximately 350,000 migrant workers, including 50,000 Mexicans, for transportation to areas where they are needed, and local enrollment of 3,150,000 other persons to meet seasonal farm labor needs.

Union Contracts Forbidden.

Apparently as a result of sharp criticism of policies of the farm security administration, the committee wrote into the bill a prohibition against use any of the funds "to fix, regulate, or impose minimum wages or housing standards, to regulate hours of work, or to impose or enforce collective bargaining requirements or union membership."

The committee said it felt that prevailing wage rates for comparable work should be paid in each community where farm workers were sent.

In addition to the 50,000 Mexican workers the department plans to import, the committee said inquiries were being made into the possibility of obtaining labor from the Bahamas, and the use of from 10,000 to 20,000 Japanese.

LAWYERS SEEK WAY TO TEMPER TRAFFIC JUSTICE

The junior bar conference of the American Bar association, 1140 North Dearborn street, has appointed a committee designed to help improve the administration of justice in the nation's traffic courts. Nearly 5 million Americans appear in traffic courts each year and their experiences help shape their ideas of American justice, the announcement states, quoting Arthur T. Vanderbilt of Newark, N. J., former president of the A. B. A.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

S. N. G. asks: "Is it true that our government pays prisoners of war of Germany, Italy, and Japan?"

ANSWER: Under treaty agreements of July 27, 1929, to which Germany and Italy, but not Japan, were signatories, all prisoners our forces take will receive pay provided the three enemy governments pay the same rates. The army will pay its prisoners of war and enemy aliens, excepting officers, an allowance of $3 per month in lieu of free tobacco, toilet articles, etc., at the rate of 10 cents per day. Prisoners of this class who are employed on work, excepting maintenance of internment camps, receive an additional 80 cents per day. German and Italian officer prisoners equal to the rank of captain or higher in our army receive $40 per month; those holding the rank of captain in enemy armies receive $30. Jap officers above the rank of captain or equivalent get $25 a month; lieutenants and warrant officers, $15. These payments are not cash, but are in the form of canteen checks.

J. A. L. asks: "Why is a person who has perfect hearing rejected from military service merely because he has a perforated ear drum? I never knew I had one until I was rejected."

ANSWER: The opening indicates that at some time there has been an infection in the middle ear which might become active again. Then, too, the opening affords further opportunity for infection and also leaves the person unprotected in case of a gas attack because his mask would not protect him.

J. M. E. writes: "For months there has been quite a discussion here about why the stripes in the army and marines point up, while in the navy they point down. Nobody seems to have a good answer. Do you know the reason or could you find out?"

ANSWER: The heraldry of military insignia is an extremely fascinating subject, but so much that has been written is fiction that it is difficult to know when one has found the real explanation or origin of a particular insigne. In the instance of the chevron being used as a designation of authority, the earliest use is lost, but we do know from literature it was used in the middle ages by lords of the manor to mark the first in authority of a group of men employed on or about the estate. The roof rafter was used as the mark because of its simplicity and association. Naturally, the more rafters the man had on his sleeve or tunic, the more authority he had. When armies were organized and uniformed the idea was carried over and utilized to distinguish the ranks. However, the rafter mark was not appropriate for water forces, so the rafter mark was turned upside down to represent the ribs of the old sailing ships. The marines are "seagoing soldiers," hence they followed the pattern established by the land forces in pointing the chevron upward.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

THE QUESTION.

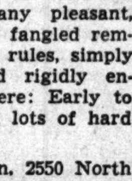
What was your grandmother's favorite remedy for spring fever?

WHERE ASKED.

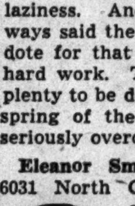
105 West Monroe building.

THE ANSWERS.

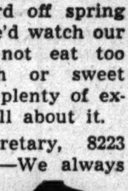
Ella Schmid, bookkeeper, 4951 North Wolcott avenue — My grandmother was a hard realist and also a little of what you might call old fashioned. She kept us well but not by any pleasant, easy, new fangled remedy. Her rules, simply made and rigidly enforced, were: Early to bed; early to rise, and lots of hard work.



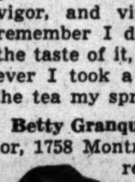
W. T. Dyon, salesman, 2550 North 72d court, Elmwood Park—My grandmother always denied the existence of spring fever and said that it was nothing but pure laziness. And she always said the best antidote for that was good hard work. There was plenty to be done in the spring of the year so I was never seriously overcome.



Eleanor Smithwick, stenographer, 6031 North Claremont avenue—My grandmother's favorite homemade preparation was a mixture of molasses and sulphur. That would ward off spring fever if we'd watch our diet and not eat too many rich or sweet foods, get plenty of exercise and just forget all about it.



Elfreda Rathje, secretary, 8223 South Sangamon street—We always used to have a lot of faith in catnip tea. It was supposed to thin the blood and make the patient feel full of vim, vigor, and vitality. I remember I didn't like the taste of it, so whenever I took a whiff of the tea my spring fever disappeared.



Betty Granquist, switchboard operator, 1758 Montrose avenue—The only remedy that I can recall and one that's been handed down for generations is a dose of sulphur and molasses. We added a pinch of cream of tartar for good measure. I don't remember the exact proportions of the formula but it was really supposed to work wonders.

J. E. Franwalt, telephone installer, 1855 Berenice avenue—The spring of the year is a good time to administer a good blood tonic — that is what my grandmother always contended. And her idea of a good blood tonic was a cup of hot and strong sassafras tea. We always gathered bits of the bark and roots and dried it so we'd have enough for many seasons.

UNIVERSITY JOB OFFICIALS HEAR WMC DIRECTOR

In order to put 10,700,000 men in the army and navy by December, as is now planned, 4,300,000 men will be forced to leave civilian life, including large numbers from industry and agriculture. Such a loss was described by Dean W. H. Spencer, formerly of the University of Chicago, now regional director of the war man power commission, before a conference of university placement directors last night in Scott hall, Northwestern university, Evanston.

Boards Ready to Receive Requests for Extra Oil

Fuel oil users suffering hardship of insufficient fuel will be allowed to apply after today for supplemental rations at their local rationing boards, Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan area director of the office of price administration, said yesterday. He cautioned that the extra allowance would be granted only after extremely careful consideration by the boards and central OPA headquarters. Wasteful or extravagant consumption of fuel oil will not be accepted as grounds for supplemental ration applications, he said.

WOMEN'S HOSIERY STOLEN.

Five cartons of women's hose, valued at $1,500, were stolen from a truck of the Hayes Transfer and Storage company yesterday at 18th and Canal streets, police were told by Harold Sommerfield of Round Lake, the driver.

ACTS AS CITIZEN, SAYS JUDGE, ON PRISON REFORM

Halts Quiz Till March 29; Witness Gets Counsel.

Judge John P. Barnes yesterday indicated that he would make suggestions to state officials on prison reform as a citizen of Illinois and not as a federal court judge as he adjourned hearings until March 29 on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in which John Bongiorno, convicted slayer of a Chicago policeman, is seeking release from a 199 year prison term.

At the same time Judge Barnes appointed Prof. Ernst W. Puttkammer, head of the criminal law division of the University of Chicago, counsel for a convict witness. Puttkammer had asked the judge to request the parole board to reopen hearings in the case of Louis Victor Ferraro who, under parole board rulings, will not come up for consideration for another 10 years. The judge declined to act in his official capacity.

Prison Punishment Studied.

Yesterday as in previous hearings, the inquiry centered in conditions and punishment in the Joliet and Stateville prisons. Ferraro, the chief witness, was sent to prison in 1937 on four charges of armed robbery and one charge of confidence game.

Records show that previously he had served a term at Pontiac for robbery. He was paroled and then joined a robbery gang.

On Wednesday Ferraro refused to testify and explained that he was afraid his testimony might be considered against him when his case again comes before the parole board. Yesterday, however, after conferring with Prof. Puttkammer and Bongiorno's attorney, Charles Liebman, he announced his willingness to take the stand.

Upon taking the stand, Ferraro made the sign of the cross, then launched into what he described as the cruel punishment of solitary confinement and the line [the discipline of making prisoners stand on a painted line in the cell]. Frequently Ferraro sobbed and twice Judge Barnes was forced to call a recess when the convict broke down.

Guards Always Right.

Ferraro testified that soon after he was sent to the prison at Joliet he was stationed as a clerk in the solitary confinement building of the old prison in Joliet. "I didn't like it there," he testified. "I didn't like the way things were done. I couldn't stomach it."

The convict told of the prison court conducted by J. R. Carpenter, captain of the prison guards, and punishment meted out. He said prison guards were always right and that if a prisoner disputed their testimony it meant five more days in solitary confinement.

Ferraro said many prisoners revolted against line punishment and were placed in solitary confinement for 21 days. He said he knew of one case in which a convict was in solitary for 67 days. He said he witnessed a number of cases in which prisoners were beaten by Guard Capt. Carpenter and other guards.

Confers with Officials.

"Then they wonder why I holler," he sobbed, "and they wonder why men go crazy." Judge Barnes called a recess until Ferraro recovered. Later the convict described what he termed insanitary conditions in the solitary cells.

Previous to the start of the hearing, Judge Barnes conferred in chambers for about 20 minutes with T. P. Sullivan, state director of public safety and head of the state prison system; Warden Joseph E. Ragen, and attorneys in the hearing. Judge Barnes refused to comment on the discussion but it was reported he again impressed upon the prison officials the right of any prisoner to send out petitions for a writ of habeas corpus.

CITY DEMOCRATS' SUPPORT ON OIL SAVING PLEDGED

Democratic members of the Illinois legislature from Chicago will support Gov. Dwight H. Green in any plan for the conservation of oil in the Illinois oil fields, Mayor Kelly said yesterday. But, he said, he couldn't speak for "downstate Democrats."

The mayor's comment followed receipt of a letter from Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator, asking the mayor's backing of oil conservation. On Thursday, Gov. Green had received a similar appeal. The governor said he had always favored the necessary legislation, but enactment of legislation had "been blocked by Democratic legislators."

"We are for conservation of oil," said Mayor Kelly. "Some time ago Gov. Green said that the Democrats blocked the plan, but now the state has a Republican legislature, and the Chicago Democrats will go along. But I don't know about the downstate Democrats."

UNEQUAL TAXATION.

Corporations have long been discriminated against in federal taxation. Their income is taxed to the corporation when it is earned and taxed again to the stockholders when earnings are disbursed as dividends. The profits of partnerships and individual proprietorships, however, are taxed only when earned. There is no additional tax when funds are withdrawn from the business by the owners.

Each time a new business is formed, the advantage of limited liability afforded by the corporate form is weighed against the disadvantages of double taxation of profits. When the originator of the business is not a large capitalist, and he rarely is, the corporate form only is available. The sparkplugs in many existing businesses have long yearned to save taxes by changing from a corporation to a partnership, but have been prevented by inability to buy out existing stockholders.

The steeper taxes under the 1942 revenue act have accentuated the disadvantages of the corporate form of business and some enterprises which were long conducted as corporations have been reorganized in one of the unincorporated forms. The appeal of the individual proprietorship is especially strong when a man of large means is able, as he is under present law, to offset profits on one of his personally owned ventures with losses on another. For example, if an exceedingly wealthy man should have a business which showed heavy losses, he might be able to purchase outright the business and property of a corporation making rich profits on war contracts, and offset his losses on the one with the profits on the other. If the corporation has a low excess profits exemption, so that it has to pay nearly all of its earnings as taxes anyhow, a very attractive deal to both parties may be worked out. The profits would be taken as taxes from the corporation, but to the wealthy buyer the profits could offset his losses on his lemon.

This arrangement is frowned upon by writers on taxation as an improper method of tax avoidance. Thus, the Twentieth Century Fund discusses the subject in a book published six years ago, listing as sponsors Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle Jr., former Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard, Prof. Wesley C. Mitchell of Columbia university, and others. We quote from page 178:

"Suppose that a certain individual owns and operates two businesses, a grocery store and a printing establishment, and that the grocery store is losing money while the printing establishment yields profits. If an excess profits tax is applied collectively to the businesses of this particular individual the losses of one business tend to offset the high profits of the other, and no tax may be due. If the tax is applied to each business separately, however, the printing establishment pays a tax. The usual solution of this situation, at least in principle, is to tax each business separately."

In a footnote the problem is further discussed:

"The problem posed in the text has only once been faced in American taxation. The only federal, state, or local unit to levy an impersonal tax on the net income of unincorporated business is New York state in its recently enacted tax on the net income of unincorporated concerns. The tax commission has had to decide whether the loss of one business should be allowed as a deduction from the profit of another business if both businesses are owned by the same person. Its decision has been that the deduction should be allowed—a decision that has obvious, perhaps compelling, administrative advantages but that is not entirely consistent with the idea of impersonality upon which the tax is presumably based."

President Roosevelt on June 1, 1937, sent a message to congress asking for changes in the income tax law to thwart wealthy tax dodgers. He mentioned eight different methods which had been employed. A short time later a joint congressional committee began hearings and legislation was enacted to plug some of the loopholes. Tax dodging by operating several businesses as individual proprietorships so as to offset the gains of some against the losses of others was not among the methods mentioned by the President. He will doubtless want this tax dodge blocked too. As he so well said in his message six years ago, "The example of successful tax dodging by a minority of very rich individuals breeds efforts by others to dodge other laws as well as tax laws."

LAND OF PLENTY.

To the military, naval, and commercial attachés assigned to the embassy at Washington the British not long ago added an agricultural attaché. Prof. J. A. Scott Watson, Britain's first agricultural attaché in the United States, having spent some time here looking us over, returned to London in January and announced his findings.

According to the London News-Chronicle he reported that this country is a land of the greatest plenty. He said that there was so much wheat that it is "being stored in spare bedrooms, town dance halls, and every available receptacle." He said that "so many hogs are being raised in Iowa that you can hardly put your foot to the ground without hearing a squeal."

In the face of such tremendous food resources, the professor said that Americans are puzzled about their rationing and the need for it. The agricultural attaché's explanations for these anomalies are familiar. Rationing "is necessary primarily on account of increased purchasing power in the United States, but also to supply food for lend-lease exports." He might have added that there is increased purchasing power because the administration, having played politics with taxation since taking office, was slow in getting around to taxing those who received the big increases in income. He surely must have observed that the amount of purchasing power is being increased rapidly because the deficit is being financed primarily with inflated bank credit rather than by drawing upon the savings of the people. And it could not have escaped him that our shortages are accentuated because the war, navy, and lend-lease authorities make a practice of buying and storing practically all of some commodities, regardless of any immediate or early need.

MUST MACARTHUR BEG FOR HELP?

The arrival in Washington of seven of Gen. MacArthur's staff officers, headed by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, air commander for the southwest Pacific, has resulted in considerable speculation concerning the purposes of the visit. Gen. Kenney is here fresh from the victory of the Bismarck sea, where his airmen sank all 22 ships in a Japanese convoy, and it may be that he has merely been called home to be decorated, or to describe the methods he used for the edification of other air generals. But that would hardly account for his companions, and, on the whole, the facts support a different conclusion.

The favored theory is that Gen. MacArthur and Gen. Kenney, having put on a convincing demonstration of what they can do with a handful of equipment, are now about to submit their case for being granted the planes, troops, ships, and guns to undertake a full scale offensive against the Japs. If this is correct, MacArthur's mission comes at an opportune time. The lend-lease report transmitted to congress by the President on the day of Gen. Kenney's surprise arrival showed that, whereas 75 per cent of all lend-lease assistance to date has gone to the British empire, only 4.6 per cent of all shipments have been sent to Australia, MacArthur's base of operations.

Operating on a shoestring, MacArthur and Kenney have yet made a more complete and brilliant use of air power than any army with the possible exception of the German. In moving an army and all its equipment over the Owen Stanley mountains in New Guinea, the generals employed air transport on a scale and with a success unprecedented in American military history. Again, in the Bismarck sea action, the brilliance of the achievement might lead to the assumption that MacArthur and Kenney had such a force of planes at their command as to have given them a crushing superiority, whereas the truth was that they scraped the bottom of the barrel to bring together this concentration.

While the Japs have built a string of air bases to fence off their conquests from MacArthur and the Americans in Guadalcanal and our other southwest Pacific bases, MacArthur has lacked the heavy bombers to blast them out of Rabaul and other key points on this guard-chain. The general knows that offensives can't be won if he can't get off the ground to strike at his adversary, for he gave the winning formula weeks ago when he envisioned "swift, massive strokes rather than the dilatory island to island advance that some have assumed to be necessary." But for this advance, he added, strong ground forces and proper naval support would have to supplement air power.

The man who enunciated these theories could point to a record of unfailing performance if anybody chose to question whether the method was sound. But neither he nor Gen. Kenney was ever given the opportunity to put their program to the test. Washington merely ignored them, and the two Americans who had given the most successful demonstration of air warfare turned out to be precisely those who at every turn were denied the means to undertake large scale actions.

All this may serve to explain why MacArthur's deputy has turned up in Washington on what is apparently a begging mission to plead for the means of smashing his country's enemies. But it does not explain why the beggars should be able to see while those to whom they must appeal should all prove blind.

THE ANTI-SLUGGER BILL.

Illinois statutes at present make no distinction between a random punch in a barroom fight and a cruel and deliberate beating by professional sluggers. The deficiency in our law would be remedied by the bill offered by Rep. Alan E. Ashcraft Jr. of Evanston to define a new crime, aggravated assault and battery, with penalties appropriate to the gravity of the offense.

The Ashcraft bill has been on hearing three times in the judiciary committee and in the intervals between hearings its sponsor has made every reasonable effort to amend it to meet objections, most of which come from union labor. Now the bill has been sent to a subcommittee for further investigation. This is the usual procedure to bury a measure, but Rep. David I. Swanson, the chairman of the judiciary committee, pledges that it will not be followed as to the Ashcraft bill.

It must not be. Too many racketeers have gone unpunished for lack of a statute properly fitted to their crime. The persistent opposition to a reasonable and necessary statute raises the suspicion that those opposing it maintain the theory that a union membership card should be regarded as a license to commit violence.

Editorial of the Day

"THE PARTY" IS GETTING MAD.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

The "Washington day campaign committee" of Wisconsin is beginning to get mad. This is the Democratic party shakedown committee for political funds. Some federal employés, it would appear, have had the temerity to neglect to send in their "voluntary" contributions of $25. In a follow-up letter being sent to those who have failed to "kick in," the committee takes off its gloves:

> "We have had no response from you in regard to your voluntary contribution to the Washington day dinner on March 6. The former first assistant postmaster general and now the national vice chairman of the party, Ambrose O'Connell, our speaker at the dinner, will expect your coöperation. I shall expect to hear from you at once."

The letter is signed, "With every good wish," by Thomas R. King of Oconomowoc, Democratic state chairman.

"Voluntary contribution," indeed. This follow-up letter drops the thin veil which covered the original plea for funds. "I shall expect to hear from you at once," says Mr. King, and he means just that. The committee means that it expects to have $25 from every little stenographer, from every minor employé—or else. The thing the committee apparently cannot understand is that any federal employé should have failed to grasp this on receipt of the first letter.

This is disgusting business. It is a holdup, for failure to respond can bring to the recalcitrant federal employé many indignities—poor assignments, forfeiture of promotion, perhaps even loss of job. A political party which stoops to this form of pressure is at low moral ebb. All its public pretensions cannot erase the dirt it piles on itself with such peremptory demands for a cut in the earnings of men and women on federal pay rolls.

Nor can Mr. Roosevelt's quoting of Scripture and sounding of high moral concepts by radio to the assembled dinner donors over the nation take the smell of Tammany from this business.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS TAKES A RECESS.

13th March—Wondered why life seemed empty this week, and then realized I had finished my income tax business and had nothing more to bother me except a column a day, including Sunday, which is regarded by people who don't do it as practically loafing. For a month or more spent my spare time reading books by experts, telling how to prepare my return, and saying it was as easy as rolling off a log if I had a warehouse full of receipts for everything I spent during 365 days.

So I studied and studied, and spent enough time reading those books to learn the Japanese language; and made out my tax return. Then found I had to do it all over again because I had missed a two-line paragraph in one of the books which said I couldn't deduct $3.50 for a dog license.

Have decided this week's empty feeling is a symptom of recovery from an acute fever of regimentation, for invalids do not know what to do with themselves when beginning to get well, and miss the attentions of the nurse and visits of the doctor. Have no doubt, however, that Old Dr. Government will call on me again soon.

Will say nothing about the weather, for every one is so bored by its pranks they are ready to give this town back to the Potawatomis. Went to a theater and was happy to see some blithe spirits of the good old days, such as Taylor Holmes and Lenore Ulric, but the night was bitter cold and I envied the ground hog, who had sense enough to dart back into his burrow six weeks ago with the intention of remaining buried indefinitely. Learned from this play, called "The Doughgirls," that young women in a peck of trouble are no longer rescued by the Canadian mounties or the U. S. marines, but by an invitation to festivities at the White House.

SETTLE THIS ARGUMENT.

Jack Spratt now ate the fat,
His wife now ate the lean;
Said he—the cleaver stationing
Beside the roast—"It's rationing;
If Webster ain't vacationing
That's what it is, my queen!"

Said she: "Don't be impassioning,
My pet, the word is rationing,"
And then in anger ashening:
"I think you're very mean!"

So as they grew cantankerous
Their language grew more rancorous,
Until between the two of them—
To take an honest view of them—
They fought the platter clean.

To Explain the New People.

Regarding the New People [March 9], their aimlessness, their carelessness in dress, their vague expressions: You seemed at a loss to explain the phenomenon. It is really quite simple and more than a little sad. You might call it a theory of soldier relativity. That is, each one of these people has some one dear to him or her in the service. And this is the way it works:

You sternly repress your natural anxieties and loneliness; after all, one mustn't burden others with his private life. You start out briskly, head up, enjoying the beautiful weather, or otherwise, as the case may be. Then, all of a sudden, you aren't walking down a street in the United States of America; you are sitting beside the pilot of a bomber flying over the mountains of India, or the jungles of New Guinea, or the deserts of Africa. Or perhaps you are tossing on the ocean in a flimsy life raft, or starving in a German concentration camp. You stop in your tracks, and wander aimlessly across to a shop window and stare at it vaguely, seeing many things that aren't put in shop windows.

This aberration can strike at any moment. That accounts for the careless dressing, the desultory shopping—it accounts for everything.

THE 13TH GENERAL UNIT.

(Presbyterian Hospital.)

The 13th General Hospital moves out
To serve in foreign seas and foreign lands.
They did not stop to hesitate or doubt—
These men who give their hearts, and hopes, and hands
In double service—once against the foe
And once against disease! It's nothing new;
Their lives they dedicated long ago
In service to the many by the few.
They go, some fifty strong, to wage a war
On two bold fronts. And tho we others try
To keep the world the same, there are no more
Young men like Doctors Harrison and High.
Let's do our share so we may face them when
These gallant medicos march home again!

Washington Square in the Snow.

Whoever writes the history of Washington [Bughouse] square should think of it in the snow of March 10, 1943. Then he would devote a paragraph, or perhaps a page, to its beauty. Every tree and shrub was transformed into the whitest and most delicate of laces. Even the hardest benches were covered with a deep plush of snow, unmarred by the imprint of any one's idleness. No desire, no indignation, no dissenting sects were there—only the calm and voiceless comradeship of people who share beauty. Mantled in the purest white, all the sootiness and sinfulness of North Clark street were asleep for a day. Ralph Noel.

WOUNDS OF THE HEART.

THERE is a reasonably widespread belief that the heart is untouchable. We have all heard the assertion that the contact of any substance with this structure will bring sudden death.

This concept is far from the truth. Naturally, the apparatus cannot stop and await repair. But if a wound has been experienced, prompt surgery may save life.

HOSPITAL AMBULANCE

The power to handle this type of living tissue is a comparatively recent development. American surgeons particularly have devoted much attention to this problem. Our interest in the subject is all the greater because of war casualties. We now know that if the diagnosis can be made immediately, a penetrating laceration may be exposed, hemorrhage stopped, and suitable ligatures applied.

There is, of course, danger that a large amount of blood will be lost. This emphasizes the importance of quick action. By means of a window in the chest wall, the organ can be brought into view, explored thoroly, and handled with impunity. In fact, the operator or his assistants can plug the tear with a finger until the sutures are ready for closure.

A case reported by Blegen is that of a young man of 26 who was stabbed. So much leakage of vital fluid had occurred that the victim was in a coma, altho seen 20 minutes after the accident. When exposed, the heart was beating feebly because the pressure of the escaped blood prevented normal activity. The lesion was located at once and stitched, whereupon the rhythm slowed and became more natural. Within a half hour, the patient regained consciousness, the blood pressure rose with the aid of transfusions, and recovery followed.

Speed seems to be the essential factor. If the circulation is drained away gradually with every beat, there will come a time when nothing can be done. There is little value in giving plasma or a transfusion unless the tear can be mended. The same principle which governs gashes applies to injuries caused by bullets, altho in the latter instance there may be more than one opening to take care of.

In this connection, we may be reminded of the studies of Claude Beck, who demonstrated that the circulation to a damaged pump could be restored by grafting tissue from the sac which houses the organ, directly upon the muscle. In this way, new vessels are made to feed the contracting fibers.

Occasionally, a rupture will be sustained from a blow. Such mishaps have been observed following automobile collisions. The diagnosis is made by the characteristic collapse of the victim, which indicates that the heart itself is bleeding.

While a successful outcome cannot be expected in every instance, conservative estimates point to the fact that instantaneous and expert care can preserve at least half of these patients. Nothing is gained by delay. To fail to find the site of hemorrhage and close the wound is to lessen the sufferer's chances.

COOLING OFF.

Mrs. C. writes: When no physician is available, what can be done to reduce a fever of 103, caused by measles or other illness?

REPLY.

Use lukewarm sponges. Add a little alcohol to the water. A tepid bath is equally effective. Dry quickly and avoid chilling. The procedure may be repeated within an hour or two.

HARDENING.

P. R. writes: What is sclerosis of the eyes?

REPLY.

You probably refer to the blood vessels of the retina, which become sclerosed—narrowed and brittle. In consequence, minute hemorrhages may occur, with dimness of vision.

IN BETWEEN.

Mrs. P. writes: Does an eight month baby have as much chance for survival as one born in the seventh or the ninth month?

REPLY.

More than seven; less than nine.

RUSSIAN BOUNDARIES.

Arcola, Ill., March 6.—There seems to be much alarm over the prospect that Russia will absorb some of the border states at the close of the war. I think it best that Russia should do so. Having been a teacher of history for more than 30 years with world history constantly before me, I have "absorbed" a few ideas, one of which is that the age of small nations is gone.

The people of any of the tiny countries of Europe will be infinitely more secure as part of a great and powerful realm. They have been and will continue to be, if independent, mere footballs of ruthless gangs. It has been tried. At the close of the first World war every little pigeon was put back on his perch, all to no avail. No outside power will or can spring to their relief in time of crisis.

Even "the United States of Europe" is a pipe dream. Let us not allow our altruism to make fools of us again, for it doesn't work. Even the grand little old republic of Switzerland is working night and day for Germany under duress; Portugal is a place of Nazi rendezvous and poor little Andorra is no more than a lost golf ball.

If the Latin American republics could unite for strength it would be "a consummation devoutly to be wished." No, it is not too early to devise plans and cultivate practical sense. J. S. LOZIER.

ALLRED'S JOB QUEST.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 6.—The fight against the confirmation of Allred to the federal bench should be continued in unabated intensity. The sanctity of the judiciary is paramount to the interest of any individual, high or low, political or otherwise. The entire issue was, in fact, very definitely decided by the people of Texas in the election of last summer, following the acrimonious campaign in which this very issue was the dominant factor. Now Allred is reopening that malodorous issue before the most dignified body in the world, and resorting to political showmanship to becloud the issue.

The people of Texas, in the election of last summer, after two bitter campaigns, two opportunities for Allred to prove his fitness, rejected him for an office covering a term of only six years. The sanctity of the judiciary was the determining issue. Should he now be foisted upon the people of Texas for life?

MORTALITY OF EGG CRATES.

Dowagiac, Mich., March 8.—I am a farmer trying to do my bit to help produce food, but every time I send a crate of eggs to Chicago or Pittsburgh the crate comes back wrecked. I do not know how the help is instructed at the postoffice, but it surely does not show much intelligence. If I am forced to buy a new crate every time I ship a few dozen of eggs, I will be forced to quit the poultry business. This experience does not encourage the farmer to ship by parcel post.

NOMINATION FOR THE SUPREME COURT.

Glenview, Ill., March 3.—If, as his new 1 cent postage stamp propaganda implies, Mr. Roosevelt is concerned about safeguarding freedom of speech, then a wise choice for the next Supreme court vacancy should be that judicial minded, outstanding advocate of free speech and its legal protection, Prof. Zechariah Chaffee Jr. of the Harvard law school. J. G. C.

THE INTEGRITY OF POLAND.

Chicago, March 7.—The Russian embassy in Washington has made certain assertions regarding the integrity of Poland's claims to her eastern frontiers, which in justice to both sides require an answer. When Germany attacked Poland in 1939, Russia by a prior agreement occupied roughly the eastern half of the country, with the line of demarcation running from East Prussia in the north to the river San in the south. Incidentally, the territory east of the river San never formed a part of Russia.

Immediately upon the occupation, Russia broke up millions of Polish families by sending the men to factories and concentration camps and the women with small children to Siberia in cold freight cars without food and proper clothing. I speak from personal knowledge, for in my family alone three women with small children were torn from their ancestral homes and exiled to deep Siberia. Since then at least two of the children have died. The crime which they had committed was that they bore Polish names.

The soviet government needed this uprooting of the local population in order to declare these mixed provinces to be White Russian or Ukrainian. It may interest American readers that among internationally known Poles, such men as Kosciuszko, Pulaski, Sienkiewicz, Pilsudski, Mickiewicz, Paderewski, and many others were born in those very provinces.

It is painful to speak of these matters now when Russia, too, feels the tortures of invasion, but accusation of imperialism from a country which for 150 years attempted to exterminate Poland is adding insult to injury and calls for an emphatic protest, even from comrades in arms. The effect of such official soviet pronouncements upon the 30 million Poles in central Europe may be disastrous. Doubtless the Germans will know how to utilize them for their propaganda purposes.

The vast territories of the U. S. S. R. were not acquired altogether by peaceful penetration. Poland has been crucified many times in the past. The strong are not necessarily the wise and the just. Let us bear these facts in mind when the time comes to deal out justice to the world. JOHN M. RADZINSKI.

A VOICE FROM HOME.

Davisville, R. I., March 9.—I would like to express my gratitude to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for the swell paper they publish. My wife has sent me a subscription and it is well read by every Chicago boy beside myself in the Seabees barracks here. It is a familiar from home, and that means a lot to us 'way up here in Rhode Island. I hope to have it still sent to me when we are shipped across.

PARITY IN TAXATION.

Canton, Mo., March 6.—There is a group of several hundred thousand fixed salary workers who have been given little or no consideration by those who are planning new tax legislation. The group includes ministers, stenographers, bookkeepers, clerks, office assistants of all kinds, teachers, and a host of others engaged in work of a similar nature.

Not only have the salaries of this group not been increased, but they have actually been decreased, for each increase in the cost of living means in effect a decrease in salary, so far as purchasing power is concerned.

The injustice of asking or even expecting this group to pay taxes on the same basis as those whose salaries have been doubled, tripled, or, in many cases, quadrupled is apparent to all except those who are planning the new tax laws. We have parity [a more or less meaningless term] on practically everything except that of paying taxes. Why not put taxes on a parity basis on all salaries as of Dec. 7, 1941? The increases in taxation should be borne by those who have had increases in salary since that date.

Taxation on a parity basis would remove the biggest threat of inflation, for it would remove the spending power from those individuals who have no idea of the value of money or what it is for. It would also be a potent factor in preventing absenteeism on the part of that group who are not inclined to work so long as they have sufficient money to supply their immediate needs. L. S. HOPKINS.

END OF A PHILANTHROPY.

Chicago, March 1.—Rationing may be all right for some. As for me, I have found pleasure two to three times a week since 1930 in calling on poor families and distributing canned goods, shoes, and meat among them. This interest has taken away my melancholy and made it a better world for me to live in. I could have sent my check to organizations, but I preferred to make my charity personal. Now it's all over. Martha Moon to Be Bride of Dr. Fareed

BY JUDITH CASS.

FRIENDS of Martha Carr Moon are expecting to hear momentarily of her marriage to Dr. Omar Fareed, a handsome young instructor in medicine at the University of Chicago clinics. Both are in Reno, Nev., where Mrs. Moon was granted a divorce yesterday from Ensign Peter G. Moon, U. S. N. R.

Plans for the marriage are indefinite, and Mrs. Moon told our correspondent in Reno yesterday the ceremony would NOT take place there in the next day or two. However, the wedding might well take place in California, where Dr. Fareed was reared. He is the son of Dr. A. V. Fareed of Glendale, Cal.

Dr. Fareed played on the University of Chicago football team during his undergraduate years. He later was graduated from the university's school of medicine and has been a resident in the clinics for several years. He recently spent three months in Washington, D. C., taking a special course in tropical medicine, which he is teaching at the clinics.

Gay Cocktail Party Given for Out of Town Visitors.

The gayest place in town yesterday afternoon was the Racquet club, where the Frank G. Osbornes and Capt. and Mrs. William A. Little entertained at cocktails for Mrs. Osborne's brother and Mrs. Little's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill Robinson of Montclair, N. J., and for the Julius Forstmanns of Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Robinson, the former Alice May Dickinson, will conclude a two week visit here on Sunday when she returns east, but Mr. Robinson will be in and out of town on business for another week. The Forstmanns will be returning east tomorrow. They are all at the Ambassador East.

Capt. Little, who recently was promoted from first lieutenant, has been in Washington, D. C., for several months, but now is stationed in Chicago and so is back at home in Northfield. The Robinsons, who formerly lived here, will be moving on May 1 to Short Hills, N. J., where they have purchased a house.

Haven Charles ReQuas Parents of Second Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Haven Charles ReQua [Mary Goodrich] are being congratulated on the birth of a second son on Thursday in Michael Reese hospital. The baby and his young brother, Patrick, are grandchildren of the Haven A. ReQuas of Lake Forest and of Mr. and Mrs. George Goodrich, who came from Waukesha, Wis., to welcome the newest member of their family.

Lt. and Mrs. John W. Wastcoat's young son and daughter soon will be sharing their nursery in Durham, N. C., with a baby sister, who was born on March 9 in Durham. Lt. Wastcoat is commander of his company at Camp Butner. The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Burton of Lake Forest and of the R. Washburn Wastcoats of Boston, Mass.

N. U. Settlement Boards Having Benefit Monday.

The various boards of Northwestern University settlement are urging those who do not wish to come into the city on Monday night for a benefit performance of the "Ice-Capades of 1943" at the Chicago Arena to purchase tickets anyway. The ticket committee will see that the seats are occupied by soldiers and sailors in this area.

There will be many Dutch treat dinner parties before the performance. The Frank A. Millers have invited guests to dinner, but won't know until late Monday afternoon if their ration points will stretch to have their friends for dinner at home or whether they will dine out. Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Adams, the Ernst von Ammons, the Herbert Butzes, and Theodore Butz all are arranging parties. Some of the boxholders are the Hugh McCullochs, Mrs. Ruth Jones Jarratt, the Louis Leverones, the Norman Westerholds, the Edward F. Wilsons, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morris, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Warfield III., and Mrs. Charles Bunker.

Friends of Poland Will Open New Offices Soon.

The Chicago chapter of the American Friends of Poland is in a stir of excitement over plans for its new offices, for the reception and tea which will open the headquarters, and for a luncheon which it will give on April 17 for Dr. Francis Swietlik, dean of law at Marquette university. By next week-end the offices which the group has taken in the international center at 84 East Randolph street will be completely redecorated and ready for its new occupants, with Miss Ruth Louise Eastwood, a young Vassar graduate, serving as director. As soon as the "moving in" plans are more certain the chapter will set a date for its opening reception.

Dr. Swietlik, chairman of Polish Relief, Inc., for the United States and of the Polish National alliance, will be entertained at luncheon on April 17 in the Crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. After luncheon he will speak on "Contributions of Poles to American Life."

Foreign Relations Council Schedules Another Talk.

The Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, which already has Walter Lemon's talk on its schedule for March 23, has added an earlier event for March 20 in the Grand ballroom of the Palmer House. On that day the speaker will be A. T. Steele, newspaper correspondent who just has returned from China by way of India and South America. Mr. Steele spoke before the council three years ago just before going abroad, and next Saturday's talk will be his first since his return.

Newly Opened Service Club

Mrs. Fred McManus (left) gets help in locating two soldier relatives from Senior Hostess Ruby Richardson of newly opened service club in unit 1 of army air forces technical training command in former Stevens hotel.

Pvt. William C. Graves and his bride of Oakland, Cal., hold first reunion at service club since his induction last Nov. 18, two days after their marriage.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

From now on, out of town relatives of soldiers stationed at Unit 1 of the Army Air Forces Technical Training command won't have to meet their boys as best they can off the reservation. All they'll have to do is present themselves at the 8th street entrance of the former Stevens hotel and ask for the service club.

The club, a spacious room about 40 feet long, has just been authorized by Gen. Albert L. Sneed, Chicago schools commander. Capt. William A. DeMint, acting special service officer, is general supervisor, and Miss Ruby Richardson, senior hostess, is liaison officer between the thousands of soldiers and their families.

Miss Richardson, who has a background in personnel and recreational work, has brought the woman's touch to the club, by arranging furniture, posters, pictures, and lamps so that family groups may have privacy for their chats. She also clears invitations to dinner in private homes, helps solve various annoying little problems, such as train schedules and living arrangements, and contacts personnel of Units 1 and 2 to advise soldiers when they have guests.

When we were at the new recreation spot early one recent morning, a young bride, who had just arrived from California, was visiting with her husband, who was inducted into the army two days after their wedding. Another woman, from a Chicago suburb, had got up bright and early to come in for a visit with two neighborhood boys stationed at Unit 1.

As the need increases, Miss Richardson will have an assistant hostess and a librarian to share her many duties. These women in war work wear horizon blue uniforms and matching overseas type hats, emblazoned with a rainbow hued, fan shaped insignia signifying all branches of the army.

Women interested in joining this branch should contact the Special Services division of the army at 20 North Wacker drive. Hostess and librarians must be college graduates and between the ages of 25 and 45.

Thirteen women, members of the last class in ordnance inspection to be trained at the Illinois Institute of Technology, will be honored at 11 o'clock today on the institute's west campus, 1951 West Madison street. With their graduation, Illinois Tech will close its ordnance inspection training program. The personnel needs of the Chicago ordnance district have been met, it was said, and the recent government order curtailing ordnance production eliminates future demands.

In the last 20 months, Illinois Tech has trained 1,446 ordnance inspectors, 556 of them women. The course began in the summer of 1941. "The first class had just been graduated when an official of the Chicago ordnance district asked Illinois Tech officials whether they could train ordnance inspectors. "Take them with you," an Illinois Tech spokesman said. "We've just trained 300." The first trainees were so well received that an "earn as you learn" program was started and students received $120 a month while they learned, under civil service.

An intensive recruiting campaign for army nurses will be opened immediately in the 6th service command to fill the expanding ranks of the army nurse corps, according to Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding general. To augment the program now conducted by the American Red Cross, members of the army nurse corps will be assigned to officer procurement district offices in Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The officer procurement service will act in an advisory capacity to assist the nurse corps' officer in conferences, physical examinations, and other activities to speed up the recruiting. An army nurse recruiting officer will be assigned to the officer procurement branch headquarters in room 1100, 20 North Wacker drive.

Three Members to Talk Before Advertising Club

Three members will speak before the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago when the group meets for dinner Tuesday evening in the Chicago Bar association's rooms at 29 South La Salle street. Miss Helen Blume will discuss wartime communications. Miss Marion McKinney will talk on railroads in war time. Man power for successful prosecution of the war will be the topic of Miss Consuela Miller, who is advertising and exhibit manager for the National Safety council.

Virginia Wolf Is Engaged to Army Officer

Mrs. Robert N. Wolf today is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Virginia, to Lt. Lawrence Andrew Doyle of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doyle of Morristown, N. J. Miss Wolf, whose elder sister, Jean, was married to Ensign Francis Corboy Jr. last October, attended St. Mary's at Notre Dame, and Lt. Doyle was graduated from the University of Notre Dame. He is stationed in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Corboy is in San Diego. Mrs. Wolf, a daughter of the late Roger Sullivan, recently moved from her Wellington avenue house to an apartment at 5555 Sheridan road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence William Hitchcock of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Heath, to James Warren Kopriva, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Kopriva of Cicero. Miss Hitchcock attended DePauw and Northwestern universities. Mr. Kopriva, a graduate of the University of Illinois, is entering his senior year in the university's college of medicine, where he will be graduated in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Wheeler of Aurora announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to James C. James Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James of Aurora. Miss Wheeler was graduated from Ferry Hall Junior college. Her fiancé, a graduate of Lake Forest academy, attended Purdue university. He is awaiting his call for meteorology training in the army air forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hopkins of Walnut, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Vera, to Corp. Anton Francis Janicek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Janicek of West Cermak road. Miss Hopkins is a senior student at the Garfield Park hospital school of nursing. Her fiancé is attending an officer training school at Fort Sill, Okla.

Sheer Hosiery Without Seams Rates a Cheer

BY REA SEEGER.

The big idea back of the new seamless hosiery showings is the fanfare about "young looking legs and ankles." This freedom of the perpendicular back seam problem which seems to infuriate gentlemen spectators and critics is therefore banished. With the undeniably smooth, nude look when the stockings are on, there is the added glamor of exquisitely sheer weave, equal to the most flattering of not to be forgotten silk chiffons.

Seamless hosiery of the new and almost perfected rayons and cottons continues to appease and even reconcile the die-hards who remember too well the luxury of all silk. Hosiery makers deserve applause and at least the equivalent of the fashion "E" among the appreciative shoppers, so smooth a job has been accomplished. There's a trick new kind called "ceylon" that's a knockout. Stockings of this mixture have the wearing qualities of nylon with the stretching "give" of silk. The shades are grand all-purpose tints, ready for everyday wear with prints, suits, silks, practically everything in a wardrobe.

If you like lisle you'll go for the new lacy weave, a pattern of alternate plain and fancy ribbing, very effective and slenderizing. These lisles are unbeatable for tailored and spectator sports clothes, and for simple summer cotton clothes to come. Another kind is the rayon stocking, also seamless, that features a slenderizing dull texture and stunning shades, among them one called "glory" that should make fashion history!

Degrees Conferred on 95 at Loyola's Early Graduation

The Very Rev. Joseph M. Egan, S. J., president of Loyola university, conferred 95 degrees yesterday in graduation exercises that would not have been held until June in normal times. The earlier finishing date follows the school's accelerated war program. Nearly all the graduates planned to go into service immediately.

Five graduates won the rarely awarded honors degrees which signify that the candidates have completed special courses in addition to the regular curriculum and have made outstanding scholastic records. The honors men are Hubert A. Homan Jr., Evanston; Leroy W. Gudgeon, Oak Park; James A. Bowman, Oak Park; Richard H. Carter Jr., Chicago, and James H. Fleming, Chicago. Bowman and Carter are going into the navy, Gudgeon into the coast guard, and Homan into the army.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

Elsie Dinsmore Goes to War.

The other day, wondering about the books Chicago is contributing to the Victory Book campaign, we raced down to the book headquarters on East Randolph street, where we found Miss Mildred Bruder of the public library staff so buried in books that only her grime streaked face emerged.

So far this year Chicago has responded magnificently, sending generally splendid books on all subjects. However, a few persons seem to have found in the campaign a happy opportunity to [1] return library books they have sheltered for years and [2] unburden themselves of some choice literary treasures. The latter group includes such extraordinary volumes as "Happy Homes and Hearts That Make Them," "The Casket of Poetical Gems," "Mullerology: The Science of Woman," "Georgianna Finds Herself" [a rival to the Pollyanna series], "The Growth of Chicago Banks," "The Disposal of Land in Iowa," and a fine edition bound in white leather with gold beveled edges of the final memorials to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Each of these, remember, is [or was] destined for the diversion of some lonely American boy in the jungles of New Guinea, on the beach at Casablanca, in a dugout in Tunisia, on a sealed troop train crossing the continental divide, or in the Chicago Beach hospital here. Probably each would make fascinating reading, but the most amazing contribution of the campaign is one copy, in good condition, of "Elsie Dinsmore," that little daredevil of the '70s.

Martha Finley, the misguided lady author who created Elsie, is dead now, but she must have died wealthy, for she wrote 28 books about that loathesome little dear with golden curls and eyes like a bleating calf who, when persecuted by her cruel father, prayed for his salvation and love thru forgiving lips every time he raised his horsewhip at her. And all sold. Few American women who were girls any time between 1867 and 1925 grew up without having the thought of loving little Elsie hound their waking hours, for, altho many homes wisely banned the books, you could borrow copies anywhere and devour them in secrecy. Who, of the favored millions who once read of Elsie, can ever forget her? Elsie, who at the age of 8 could quote the Bible more eloquently than a hardshell Baptist preacher. Elsie, who refused to play the piano on Sunday, preferring to sit seven hours on the piano stool until she fainted. Elsie, who kept turning away wrath with soft answers and turning one cheek and the other until she was a figurative black and blue, but still smiled sweetly. Elsie, so pure, so pious, so perfect, so . . . Elsie.

Well, if some anonymous donor has her way, Elsie now will go to war, her golden curls flying, her childish voice sobbing, "O, I want to be good! I want to be good!"—her saccharine smile piercing some marine's dream as she says, "O, I cannot tell you a fairy story today, for this is the Sabbath. But I'll tell you a Bible story."

The library's Miss Bruder, however, says Elsie will not go to war. Elsie will stay on the home front along with the gifts of "Lady Chatterley's Lover," "Aunt Jane's Nieces," and "Fighting the Traffic in Young Girls." Miss Bruder does not know what will happen to the other books, but Elsie is going to the library's shelf of comic relief.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Dear Boss.

Give me a quiet, smooth-running machine
With keys and the ribbon just right.
Give me an office that's airy and clean,
Roomy and flooded with light.

Give me a smile once a day and a pen
That doesn't stream ink in a jet.
Give me neat files, immune from all men
Who don't know the alphabet yet.

Maybe I'm asking too much—then forgive!
Yet some of these changes contrive
To make and I'll deem it a pleasure to live
In the white collar world—9 to 5!

—Emily.

Our Own Detective Story.

"May I intrude?" a 'mere man' asks. "The following, which appears to be an extract from a personal letter, was found in a telephone booth at the Polk Street station the evening of the 4th of March. The bottom line intrigues me and after I telephoned the number mentioned [to no avail] I decided I was going about my sleuthing in an unromantic manner. If you could find out, thru your column, the story behind this little note I'd be very happy. Maybe this originally was addressed to some service man sent back to recuperate after being wounded in action, huh?"

The excerpt reads: "To answer your urgent request in connection with a visit here [about which the entire personnel of apartment No. 000 is up in arms, meaning 'very excited'] if you arrive between 8:30 a. m. and 5:15 p. m. on any day Monday thru Saturday I'll be at the office, of course, and the number is Andover 0000, extension 00. However, if you arrive between 6 p. m. and 7:45 a. m. any day or all day Sunday, of course, the number would be Longbeach 0000 and please, when you get the number, ask for Miss B——. I am very anxious to see you, needless to say, to find out what the score is and I also promise to teach you how to walk again. Like that?" . . .

What our correspondent wants to know: Did the recipient of the letter call the office? Did he ring the apartment? Did he find Miss B——? And what WAS the score?

Definition.

From E. W.: "A junior white collar girl's definition of work: This morning I got up and discovered the arrival of a blizzard. I ate scrambled eggs, burnt toast and sour milk. Then I waited for a street car for half an hour. I arrived at work late and punched the wrong card. Then I sat and did nothing for four hours. Four hours! Have you ever sat and done nothing for four hours? That is my definition of work!"

Anything to Please.

"Will you oblige a white collar girl and hurry up the warm weather? It's not spring I'm longing for, but socks."—Hoseless H.

Nancy Moulton to Be Married This Afternoon

The chapel of Christ church, Winnetka, will be the scene of the marriage at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon of Miss Nancy Brooks Moulton and William Warren Owens. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Moulton of Winnetka, will give a reception later in the Glencoe Woman's club.

Here for the ceremony are Mr. Owens' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Owens of St. Paul, Minn., who gave the bridal dinner last night at the Georgian hotel in Evanston, and his uncle, Warren Owens of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Owens and his bride will drive to St. Paul and then to Texas, where he is stationed with the army air forces.

Lt. Robert O. Berger Jr. of the army air forces and his mother, Mrs. Martha H. Berger of Glencoe, are in Sacramento, Cal., for the wedding today of Lt. Berger and Miss Dorothy Mary Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Edward B. Rogers and the late Mr. Rogers of Sacramento. The ceremony will take place in the Holy Spirit Catholic church, with a reception following at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Van V. Phinney.

Lt. Berger, son of Robert O. Berger, also of Kenilworth, recently returned from action in the Pacific war zone. He is a graduate of the Lawrenceville school and of Yale university, at which he was a member of the St. Elmo club.

The South Shore Country club will be the scene of the marriage at 4 o'clock today of Miss Ann Albers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Albers of Oglesby avenue, to Corp. Leslie J. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Johnson of Fort Wayne, Ind. The wedding plans were arranged hurriedly when Corp. Johnson was granted a furlough from his army camp at Arcadia, Cal. Miss Albers will have Mrs. James Chapman and Miss Lois Lowe as attendants, and Edward Johnson will be his brother's best man. Both Miss Albers and Corp. Johnson were graduated last June from Northwestern university.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kirby McLaughlin of South Kenwood avenue announce the marriage on March 6 of their daughter, Anne, to Pvt. [first class] David Keen Hillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Hillman of 47th place. The wedding took place in the Chapel of the Holy Grail, with a reception following in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. Robert Strohm of Beverly Hills. Mr. Hillman is stationed at Keesler field, Biloxi, Miss.

Thru the Looking Glass

For lack of time, or lack of gasoline with which to get to the beauty shop, a lot of women who ordinarily entrusted the care and shaping of nails to a professional are trying their skill as home manicurists. Some of them are having trouble, and wondering why.

The secret of the good manicure is not digging or scraping or cutting. It's gentle deftness in every step of the manicure process. Don't go at your nails vehemently. Even in the first step of a manicure, the removal of polish, use gentle pressure with cotton well saturated in a bland, preferably oily remover.

Don't dig under the nail tips with a sharp instrument. You'll just tear the skin and roughen the nail. Wrap cotton around the tip of your implement, with the aim of loosening the grime gently rather than digging it out. When you file, do it lightly and quickly, and remember not to file down too close at the sides.

Keep the cutting of cuticle to the absolute minimum. Persuade it back, using a good cuticle remover and a cotton wrapped pusher; don't snip with scissors if you can possibly avoid it. In time, persuasion and consistent oiling will make it so pliable no cutting should be necessary.

Buffing is good "passive exercise" for finger nails but here again you must be gentle, and don't think for a minute that if some buffing is good a lot is better! Buff quickly and lightly for just a few minutes—20 or 30 strokes should be enough—because buffing that is too lengthy and vigorous can be both painful and injurious to the nail.

Californian Named for National Head of Parents and Teachers

The nominating committee of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers yesterday announced its indorsement of the candidacy of Mrs. James K. Lytle of Los Angeles, Cal., for the presidency. The office is now held by Mrs. William Kletzer of Portland, Ore., whose term expires this spring. As president of the California congress, Mrs. Lytle became a member of the national board of managers in 1938, and she now is serving as national treasurer. Officers serve for a three year term.

The national convention was cancelled this year and the election will be conducted by a mail ballot. Delegates of state Parent-Teacher congresses have from April 25 until May 11 to send in their votes.

Others whose names were presented by the nominating committee are Mrs. L. W. Hughes of Arlington, Tenn., for first vice president; Mrs. H. S. Klein of Huntington, W. Va., for secretary, and J. W. Faust of East Orange, N. J., for treasurer. Voting will not be limited to the candidates proposed by the nominating committee.

"Man Snatcher"

By Nina Wilcox Putnam

Copyright: 1943: By Ines Eliot

SYNOPSIS: Mary Jo Laurence has been happy with her husband, Tony, during their 15 years of marriage, in spite of Tony's deformed foot and his many failures in his work as a builder. A false boom brought them to Key West two years ago and caused them to buy a tract of land they have been unable to sell. At last they have a prospective client, Col. Bassett, a retired army officer, who wants to buy the land and have Tony build a house on it. To help close the deal, Mary Jo has invited Bassett and his wife to dinner. The morning before the Bassetts are to come to dinner, Mary Jo hears a shot and looking out her window she sees a man lying back of Cinqua's tavern, and another man crouching in the bushes nearby. Later when she goes shopping, Sibyl Cartwright, an old actress, comes out of the tavern and informs Mary Jo that Ed Tutwiller, brother of Pop Tutwiller, fisherman and friend of the Laurences, has just shot himself back of Cinqua's. It seems Ed committed suicide because some married women got him into money trouble. Mary Jo decides not to mention the man she saw crouching in the bushes as she might have to testify, and any bad publicity might hurt Tony in his work. At Chan's, her Chinese grocer, she sees a luscious, worthless looking woman selling stolen milk bottles to buy gin. En route home she picks up a letter from her 18 year old brother, Pete, saying that he is coming to Key West to hunt a job. But Mary Jo's dinner is such a success that everything seems bright again. Col. Bassett promises to give Tony a check the next day to close the deal. But shortly after the Bassetts depart, Col. Bassett returns and says he has been called back into service and has to call the deal off. Mary Jo wonders if Tony can work with Don Waterman, a successful but none too scrupulous rival, who is trying to get land to build cheap houses. Tony agrees to try to talk to Waterman that very night, altho it means he must make a round of the bars to find him. Tony comes home, accompanied by Waterman and his girl friend, Mrs. Maisie Bergen, all tipsy. Mary Jo recognizes Maisie as the luscious looking girl at Chan's and notices Tony is smitten with her. Waterman agrees to form a partnership with Tony. Tony drives Waterman and Maisie to a roadhouse but when he returns home, he brings Maisie's 6 year old son, Button, he picked up outside a saloon.

INSTALMENT XII.

A LITTLE CHILD.

"It was a real shock, seeing the kid out alone at that time of night," said Tony, "so I asked him what he was doing there and he said he was waiting for his mother to go home. Imagine! Naturally I asked him what her name was, and when he told me Bergen, I was up against it.

"I knew she was five miles out of town at the Beach club and I knew she was good and tight and I didn't want the kid to see her that way. I gathered from the youngster that she'd sent him to the movies and told him to wait outside Sloppy Joe's when he got thru. Apparently it's not the first time she's done this sort of thing. She has no one to leave him with, I suppose."

Something inside of Mary Jo, the hot viper of her rare indignation which she always thought of as the rattlesnake in her, arose and got ready to strike.

"Then why don't she stay home and mind him?" she snapped.

"Oh, well, she's a young woman! Wants to get out once in a while, I guess!"

"Then she doesn't deserve the child! Well! Go on!"

Tony had discovered by patient questioning that the father might be at home and that home, to Button, was a rather vague place somewhere in the slum district near the old, abandoned railroad terminus, a great deal too far for the child to walk alone at night. He had summarily bundled the protesting Button into his car and after a while they had found the right place, a termite-crippled shack, incredibly shabby in an uncared for yard.

"The father was there all right, but he'd passed out cold," said Tony. "I couldn't wake him up. There didn't seem to be any food in the house and so—well, I brought him home to you."

"I guess there wasn't anything else to do," she agreed, "and it's all right for tonight. But it's dangerous, interfering in families. I'd sooner go down a prairie dog hole and try to settle matters between the owls and the dogs and the rattlers that live there! Better get him home first thing in the morning."

Tony was in bed and asleep within five minutes. But Mary Jo, after she'd put out the light, stood in the moonlight at the window staring up at the limpid sky, trying to find a small face there. Tony couldn't see the tears in her eyes now, and she could let them fall. After a moment she moved softly over to the bureau, opened the top drawer and fumbling in the darkness, found the baby shoes. She held them to her lips tenderly. And then putting them back, paddled across the bare floor and crawled into bed beside her husband.

In spite of the late night Mary Jo awoke early. Ever since her childhood days when she'd had to be at the gate, half a mile from the farmhouse to catch the school bus at 7 o'clock, she had been getting up early, to milk cows, feed chickens, to join the harvesters or later, at her Uncle Tom's place in Arizona, to ride fences with the cowhands.

It seemed as if all her life there had been something on her mind when she went to bed which foreshadowed things to be done early next day. Now it was the child in the house. He must not wake up in strange place and find himself alone or he might run away.

The thought pushed her from her bed on awakening and dressing hurriedly she went down to find him in the living room. He was in exactly the same filthy condition as when she had left him the night before and he was squatting on the floor, his ear close to the radio which was turned down to the lowest possible limit. He didn't notice her approach and she caught the faint murmur of the early morning news.

". . . speaking at a press conference, declared that the United States is ready for war in the Pacific. In Washington the neutrality act was repealed by a narrow margin . . ."

The drums seemed near this morning, beating louder because of the barrier which had been taken down—the barrier against war which had seemed so safe and satisfactory.

"That's bad, that's bad! Now we may really get into it!" Mary Jo thought. But it was an almost subconscious thought—the child's presence was so much more immediate.

"Hello, Button!" she said. "I'm Mary Jo Laurence."

"Hush!" said Button calmly, "I'm listenin' for the Cohen family program. They come on right after this."

"You're a good kid to keep the radio low."

"Mum and pop would nearly kill me if I didn't. We used to have a radio up at our place but it's gone now. I guess they hocked it."

"Well forget the radio and come wash your hands before breakfast."

"No, ma'am!" he said gently, "I didn't eat all day—but I know heaven will provide! That," he added briskly, "is gen'ly good for a quarter!" Mary Jo laughed in spite of herself.

"And what do you do with the quarter?"

"Movies!" he said succinctly, "specially if milk bottles is scarce." Mary Jo remembered what his mother had said about his stealing milk bottles and felt it was a good idea to ignore the subject. But by the time she had sat Button down to a hot breakfast, she found herself watching his every move with interest. You couldn't tell from one minute to the other what he would do. At the table he suddenly lifted his glass of milk with mincing gesture and leaned toward her.

"Do you like Sloppy Joe's better than the Starlight? The Starlight gets a better class, don't you think?" The voice and the gesture were so exactly like his mother's that it was startling.

"Ever meet my mum?" he asked. "That's her, being a lady." For once Mary Jo was at a loss.

"Eat your cereal?" she said sharply.

This was no common kid, and, given half a chance, he might be made tops. Being bred like he'd been, it wasn't to be expected, but it could happen. Take that bay colt that had come in off the range out at Uncle Tom's with that wild mare and nobody knew who'd sired him. That colt grew up to be the finest saddle horse in the county. Mary Jo looked at Button with new eyes. If this boy was gentled right, he might grow up to be something important.

When Tony finally appeared the child ran to him and hugged his legs.

"There's kittens and an old cat under the stove," he informed Tony, "and you mustn't pull their tails, because Mother Jo says it's wrong, but it's really because the old cat has cactus in her paws."

Something in her breast seemed to stop short at the name he had called her. Mother Jo! What on earth had made the young one do that? Did he mean it, or was he just exercising the uncanny insight which made him put on an angel face to wheedle strangers out of movie money? It would be a whole lot easier for her to part with him if she made herself believe this last. After breakfast Tony got her aside.

"I hate to take the kid home to that God-awful shack," he said. "But I suppose the Bergens have got to be told where he is."

"Why don't you take a run out there alone and see how things are, first?" she suggested. "I'll keep Button here with me while you go."

"Okay, that's a good thought!" said Tony. He sounded casual enough, but she noticed that he took the trouble to put on a necktie and recomb his hair before he left, and suddenly Mary Jo was sorry for her suggestion. He didn't have to fix up for that woman. But he had. Well, she'd better hurry up and come to fetch her—her—brat! Mary Jo glared at the child, trying to transfer some part of her dislike of the mother. She spoke crossly.

"Now don't you dare go out of this house," she said, "until I give you leave!"

But the "brat" had no intention of going out. He had already begun a minute inspection of the house, pulling out all the stops of the parlor organ and making weird sounds upon it until forcibly deterred; opening bureau drawers and cupboards and experimenting with the electric toaster. He tagged her about from room to room as she did the housework, asking endless and impertinent questions but never dull ones. Mary Jo couldn't help liking this having him at her heels. It brought something into the little house the lack of which she had not realized, but which must always have been there.

She had decided to make some sample pies to show Chan, and while she worked on them, Button watched her fascinatedly. The third time he put his hand in the sweet pineapple filling after having been strictly forbidden Mary Jo got really angry.

"If I was your mother I'd slap you for that!" she said. Button raised big eyes to hers and smiled blandly.

"If you was my mother, I wouldn't mind it," he said.

Any American homemaker who thinks she is having a difficult time planning menus under war time rationing, should take a look at what the British housewife is accomplishing under far greater restrictions. No fresh eggs, scant supplies of milk, no citrus fruits, very little meat—these are some of the handicaps she must face.

Potatoes, being the most plentiful food in England right now, are served for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. For example, here's a day's menu officially recommended for the person who cooks for himself alone. Breakfast: Porridge, savory potato on toast, national bread [a dark loaf, but nutritious], margarine, jam and tea; dinner: Cheese pudding, baked jacket potato, watercress, fruit charlotte; supper: Potato and cabbage milk soup, parsley sandwiches, tea.

Observe how the vitamins A and C are provided by watercress, cabbage, and parsley. Protein is furnished by cheese pudding instead of meat; porridge, dark bread and potatoes furnish thiamin [vitamin B-1], as well as carbohydrates. These meals may not seem appealing, but they do provide the basic dietary essentials for the protection of health. Lack of milk and eggs causes the most difficulty in planning such a diet. Small quantities of dried milk and eggs are available, fortunately.

Don't take food out of the mouths of babies! America's bumper baby crop needs all of the canned baby foods now packed. It isn't very nice of families who have no babies to make soup out of infant foods, just because they have a low point value. There should be some means of protection for babies. I'm in favor of baby foods being sold only in exchange for coupons which come from a book registering the owner's age as two or younger. In other words, only families which have babies should be able to buy baby foods. Possibly some exception should be made for certain invalids whose diets require strained or finely chopped foods.

Less than a year ago there was such a surplus of cheese that persons in my profession were exhorted to "push it" and push it hard. Now cheese is to be rationed along with meat. It is such an excellent concentrated protein food that a little cheese will go a long way. A little goes a long way in flavor, too. We may not be able to have all the Welsh rabbits, souffles and fondues we like, but there'll be cheese to top our vegetable casseroles, and for dessert now and then.

We can have the kind of cheese rabbit which is mostly white sauce, even if we have to forego the one which is all cheese. We'll eat our cheese on the day we don't have meat or dried beans, for it's a good alternate dish.

War Time Menu for Monday

BREAKFAST

Fresh Applesauce
French Toast, Sirup
Milk Coffee or Cereal Beverage

LUNCH

Toasted Tomato, Bacon, and Lettuce Sandwiches
Creamy Tapioca Pudding
Milk

DINNER

Lamb, Beef, or Veal Stew with Onions, Carrots, Potatoes
Salad Bowl of Greens, Radishes, and Green Pepper
Baking Powder Biscuits or Cornbread
Orange and Grapefruit Cup
Milk Tea or Small Coffee

For a nutritious diet, try to include these foods every day:

1. At least three cups of milk for children, at least one or two for adults.
2. An egg for each child [three or four a week for adults]. French toast and tapioca pudding supply egg for today.
3. A serving of meat, poultry, fish or dried beans.
4. A citrus fruit or tomatoes or raw cabbage for vitamin C, and at least one other fruit.
5. Two or more vegetables, stressing green [especially leafy] and yellow ones.
6. Whole grain cereals or enriched or whole wheat bread.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Noodle and Tongue Ring Mold.

[Serves four.]

[Use leftover parts of tongue which do not slice well.]

½ pound bread noodles
2 cups diced cooked tongue
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon onion juice
½ cup buttered bread crumbs [optional]
Salt and pepper to taste

Boil noodles in salted water until tender, drain, and blanch in cold water. Add diced tongue. Combine eggs, milk, onion juice, salt, and pepper and add to noodles. Pack into well greased ring mold. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderately hot [350 degrees] oven until firm, about 30 minutes. Serve with center filled with a cooked vegetable.

The Stage

By Cecil Smith

Ruth Chatterton is in that remarkable state of suspended animation experienced only by an actress who is weighing the merits of a new play script. After she has finished with her performance in "Private Lives" these nights she broods about the new script, which she adores because it is, so she says, subtle, literate, and highly moving. Not having asked her permission, I do not feel free to reveal either the author's name or that of the play; but I can guarantee that the undertaking will be one of distinction if it is carried to fruition.

The greatest obstacle in the way of preparing a play nowadays is the crucial and growing shortage of leading male actors. There was a hopeful but haunted look in Miss Chatterton's eye when she asked me whether I had any talented 4-F's to recommend—as tho she had not been thru the list a dozen times herself. I probably ought to whisper the name, so that nobody else can steal the idea, but she did ask me what I thought of William Gargan, the movie actor. The part in question would not fit Ralph Forbes, tho there may be another good part in the play for him.

Miss Chatterton's preoccupation with this manuscript indicates, as I have told you before, that she is all thru toying with "The Incredible Woodhull," which at one time she had thought of doing this season. The script, it seems, was not well enough written, and revisions served only to destroy its originally amusing quality. In its first rough state "The Incredible Woodhull" was a farce comedy laid in the '80s, dealing with Victoria C. Woodhull, the only woman ever to run for the Presidential office in the United States. She still sounds like a superb subject for a comedy, and since the facts of her life are in public domain some one may write a satisfactory play about her some day.

If and when the new play sees the light of day, Miss Chatterton would like to try it out here before taking it to Broadway. She likes playing in Chicago, as well she may, in view of the city's unmistakable enthusiasm for her art. She likes it better than playing in New York, or at least she liked it better last week when she was elated by first reports of the box office success of "Private Lives." I was hardly prepared for her reason, however; when I inquired why she preferred the response of a Chicago audience she said, "It is quicker on the uptake."

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Recently I reported a deal in which a defender who had what appeared to be two sure trump tricks, cannily refused to double a slam contract, and I pointed out that the result certified his philosophy. In today's deal a defender belonged to a different school.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
5 diamonds	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 spades	Double	Pass	Pass
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

When West opened the club queen and, after dummy's king had covered, East showed up with the ace, declarer could feel certain that the only conceivable justification for West's double must be two potential trump tricks, the king and jack guarded. Thus, altho declarer had no fewer than ten trumps at his disposal, he did not naïvely lay down the ace, expecting a break, but launched a much sounder, tho more devious, plan. Ruffing the opening lead, he entered dummy with a low heart to the queen and ruffed a second club, then reentered dummy with the diamond jack and ruffed the last club. He next cashed the ace and king of hearts and the ace and king of diamonds. Now all declarer had to do was lead his last diamond and ruff in dummy, then return a spade and make West a present of the trick by playing the ten-spot. West won with the jack but now, reduced to the K-6 of trumps, he had to return one of them directly up to declarer's major tenace.

The most important observation to be made about such a hand as this is that speculative slam doubles do not pay. Obviously, without the double, declarer never could have chosen such a roundabout method of playing the hand, a method which risked adverse ruffs of heart and diamond tricks. But when declarer located the club ace in East's hand, it was almost a sure thing that West's double had been predicated on the holding of the king and jack of trumps, hence the ambitious plan chosen offered greater security than an attempt to "break" the trumps.

Parents Should Teach Children Orderly Habits

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

I've seen children grow up in homes where order, "that first law of heaven," is unknown. Continual chaos reigned. I've seen children grow up in homes where, almost literally, nothing was ever out of place and the furnishings looked as if they were never used.

Neither extreme makes for a full, happy home life, nor, for that matter, for an attractive home. A real home is one that is used and lived in to the full. It is only a setting—the people in it are the important thing. The home exists for people; the people do not exist for it.

In thinking about helping our children to be orderly, that is something we should bear in mind. It will help us to form our own picture of what we want our home to look like, how much we want it to be used, and consequently, in a general way, what degree of order we are going to expect of our children.

It stands to reason that several things have to be taken into consideration. One is whether you live in city or country, with the advantage the latter provides for much outdoor play. Another is the size of your home, small apartment, large apartment, or house. To me, the larger your living quarters, the easier it is to preserve order. And the third element to consider is the age of your child.

In making the following suggestions I'm taking for granted that you want your home to be a lived in place, one that the children feel belongs to them.

1. Don't regard it as disorder if the materials the children need to play with, work with, or which are used in the pursuit of a hobby or talent are in evidence. There will have to be a clearing up time, but you can't have things look "apple pie" every hour of the day.

2. Expect a different degree and kind of orderliness from the little ones than from the older ones.

3. Try to provide a place for everything, so when clearing up time comes it is business like.

4. Make that place fit your child's size and muscular skill, shelves and hooks and closets and so forth of the right height and availability.

5. If children are deep in some play or other project, give them "warning" or time to finish [or at least to stop] what they're doing, and put their materials away.

6. Use explanations, friendly reminders, and praise to accomplish your purpose, avoiding nagging and scolding and reproach.

Household Forum

By Louise Bargelt

[Have you some household help that lessens labor or saves on materials? Is there some special convenience you would like? Address Louise Bargelt, The Chicago Tribune.]

Mrs. John Anderson, Chicago: The time has passed when I throw away a cauliflower's large leaves. These can be cooked until tender and make an appetizing dish when served with a little butter.

Mrs. Arthur G., Chicago: My husband presented me with a big help. He inserted a vertical partition in my galvanized cleaning pail and now I can tote clean and sudsy water around with me in the same bucket.

Anna T., Lima, O.: Wouldn't it be helpful to housewives if soap cartridges were manufactured, on the order of insect sprayers? I could use one of these with my garden hose when porches, walks and outsides of windows are to be washed.

Ellen B., Chicago: It took my husband some time to learn never to plane off edges of sticking doors while the weather is damp. Now he just rubs edges with soap or paraffin and waits for the weather to dry!

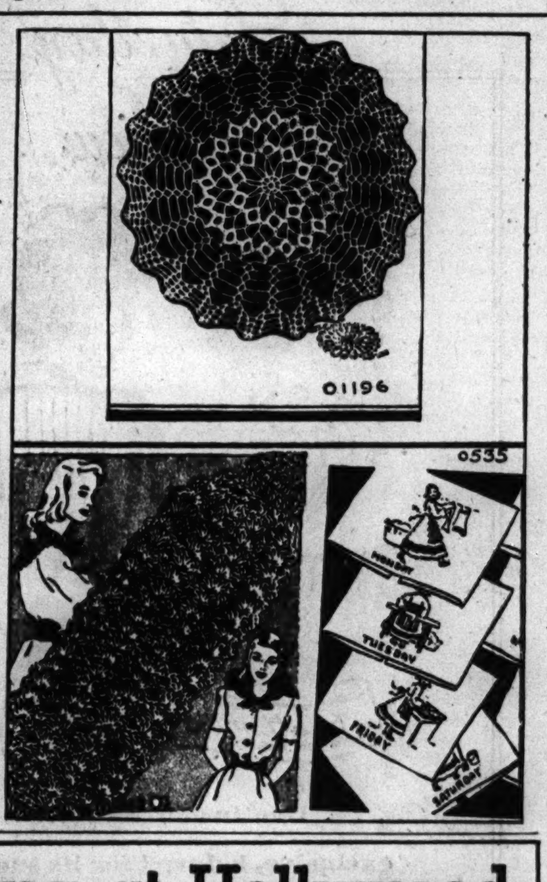
Now—please—your idea!

Designs for Needlework

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

An interesting needlework trio includes 01196, an unusual crocheted round doily with a reticella motif in the center. No. 01201 is a crocheted scarf and belt set which may be done in soft wool or fine mercerized cotton. This accessory group is simple to make and attractive on wool dresses. Cross-stitch embroidery motifs, No. 0535, for towels offer 7 interesting figures. These measure approximately 4 by 6 inches.

EACH pattern costs 10 cents. Send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.



Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., March 12.—The lack of stars isn't what's upsetting producers nowadays. It's lack of interest stars are taking in their work. Since the salary ceiling, our biggest players are working for nothing. And you'd be surprised to know how many of them are taking advantage of that fact. When they're called for work at 9 a. m., they show up at 3 p. m., pay no attention to rebukes of the directors, and say, "Well, what the heck! We're not getting anything for it." . . . Well, that's the wrong attitude. There's such a thing as having pride in your work. That's where stage stars have it all over our pampered darlings. They'd no more think of getting out on a stage and giving a sloppy performance than they would of cutting their own throats, because, by doing it, they'd be cutting their throats. Yet an indifferent performance by a screen star is seen by millions, where a stage performer is seen by thousands.

Still Doing It.

Joan Crawford is wearing a wrist watch set with rubies and diamonds at the exact hour she met her husband, but no works inside. . . . Ina Claire's helping form a canteen in San Francisco, so Gilbert Miller's on his way there to talk her into doing his play "A Month in the Country." . . . Carol Bruce headed this way for a vacation—and Perc Westmore. . . . Happy that Mme. Chiang Kai-shek hasn't canceled her Los Angeles appearance. It's been postponed one week. . . . Gloria Bristol calls Paulette Goddard "our glow girl." . . . Charlie McCarthy has had a special Mexican uniform made — Mortimer Snerd will be outfitted as a peon. Edgar Bergen accepted for his two "sons" President Camacho's invitation to be his guests in Mexico.

Everybody Busy.

Sam Wood put on a search for a dwarf with personality for "Saratoga Trunk," but Jerry Austin did his own searching and wound up with the part. Jerry's spent a lifetime in vaudeville, theater, circus. When he read the book, he decided he had to play the part, and kept right on making a pitch for it until Sam saw him. Then it was a deal. . . . Now Cameraman Ernie Haller is searching for a masseuse to take the kinks out of his neck. You may think it's a soft job to upsie and downsie a camera which will take in Austin, who's a snip over 3 feet, and Cooper, who's 6 feet plus, at the same time. It couldn't be a funnier combination. They have many scenes together. . . . When Ingrid Bergman was cast as Cleo, a few sourpusses said, "O, yes, she's a good actress, but she hasn't fire enough to play that part." Well, they'll have to eat their words. In a black wig and a bustled dress, she'll probably outdo Vivien Leigh in "Gone with the Wind."

Good Part Did It.

Cedric Hardwicke, about to leave movies for theater, was cast in "The Moon Is Down." Now he's gotten his release from the Shuberts, returns here to begin "Mr. Bullfinch." . . . Recently Dinah Shore won first prize for a photographic contest, but sent it back and said, "Please give it to second winner. It may help her get a start." Elissa Landi couldn't find a play, so decided to write her own.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

We, whom the war has touched only lightly, have no idea what bravery goes on in the world. "In Which We Serve" is illuminating. It gives new meaning to the phrases "love of country" and "noblesse oblige."

A British destroyer—H. M. S. Torrin—is the heroine of Noel Coward's great movie. Her story is largely told in retrospect, the while her captain and some of her men cling to a rubber lifeboat in the waters off Crete where the Torrin had made her greatest fight and gone to her last rest beneath 1,500 fathoms of water, along with about half of her gallant crew.

The waves wash against the weary survivors. Overhead, Nazi planes swoop and spit bombs. . . . The men's minds mirror the past. And you live it again with Capt. Kinross, the destroyer's first skipper, awaited by a wife and two children; with Petty Officer Hardy, who had lost his wife and mother-in-law in the bombing of Plymouth; with Seaman Shorty Blake, whose son was born during the same blitz. . . .

You learn of how a panic stricken youngster grew courageous and met a hero's death. . . . Of how class distinctions become submerged in common need, peril, and valor.

From the moment of her launching the Torrin is in the thick of it. . . . She serves on many seas. . . . She convoys on the North Atlantic. . . . She evacuates the trapped British expeditionary forces at Dunkirk. . . . She must sometimes put into the home port for repairs and in the few hours she lies there, captain and crew do a lot of living.

Noel Coward's Capt. Kinross is one of the great characterizations of motion picture history. With sympathy and restraint he portrays a great fighter who also is a great gentleman, who wants the Torrin to be a "happy and efficient" ship because she can't be one without being the other, who is never lax in discipline nor afraid to be kind, who symbolizes to his men all that they are fighting for.

In every way "In Which We Serve" is a notable production. It's terrible—but it's beautiful. . . . It makes you GLAD to belong to the human race—which is something of a new sensation these days.

See you tomorrow.

White to meet the occasion. If your business day runs into evening—or simply if you prefer to be well turned at any time, you'll not go wrong in selecting our Velvet Glo white shirt. Seven different collar styles — some with French cuffs. 2.95

Champagne Crepe glorified by large doses of pattern—definitely a neckpiece that will make your spring suit hum and your spirits sing. Just the right weight for firm knotting and wrinkle resistance—the silk tipping gives it body and a mannerly hang. A variety of patterns. 1.50

Lightly but firmly name tags the feel and fit of the "Cross Country" by Dobbs. Yielding felt that responds to the snap sports-minded men are bound to admit in their turnouts. To be worn pinch-front or crater-crown. All the new spring shades. 6.50

Emphasis on Casualness. Whether you're a full time defense worker or a member of the 9 to 5 office brigade, you'll find good use for this shirt. Of a jersey type rayon, it has long sleeves, and the California style collar. In blue, white, yellow, sand, and rust. S, M, L. 5.00

Made from ostrich leather, this belt is just as unique as the extraordinary bird from whence it came. Sturdy, supple and limber, it has endless wearing qualities. Suspenders to match, if you like. Belt, 5.00 Suspenders, 3.50

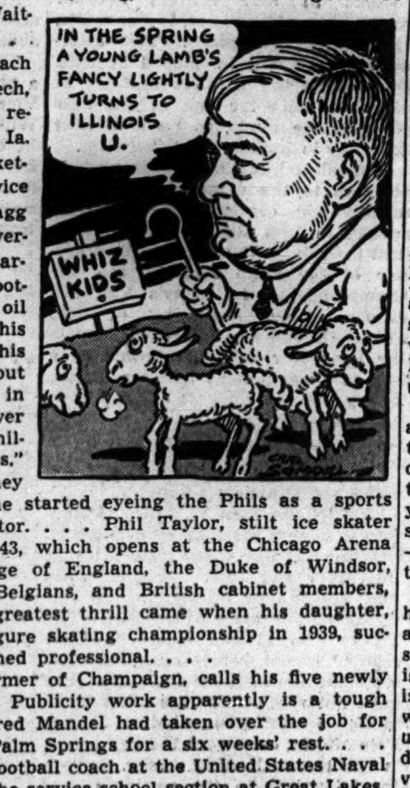
CROWN CITY HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPIONS TODAY

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

WONDER WHY the Hot Stove dopesters have had so little to say about Heinz Becker, one of the Cubs' first base candidates. . . . He is 26 years old, is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 200, is a switch hitter, was at bat 500 times for Milwaukee last season, making 76 runs, 170 hits for 242 bases. . . . He batted in 94 runs and had an average of .340. . . . If figures mean anything, looks as if he ought to be the man, especially with Eddie Waitkus recently joining the army. . . . Lt. J. R. Kitts, former football coach at Rice institute and Virginia Tech, is athletic director at the naval reserve aviation base in Ottumwa, Ia. . . . When Kitts was coaching basketball at Athens, Tex., his team twice won the championship of the Stagg national tournament at the University of Chicago. . . . George P. Marshall, Washington laundry and football magnate, is having fuel oil trouble. . . . He can't make up his mind whether to move into one of his laundries or take the dirty shirts out to the family manse and do them in the basement. . . . An interviewer of Bill Cox, new owner of the Phillies, says he has "arrogant eyes." . . . We timidly suggest that they must have got that way before he started eyeing the Phils as a sports bonanza, or even a vanity pulsator. . . . Phil Taylor, stilt ice skater now touring in Ice-Capades of 1943, which opens at the Chicago Arena Sunday night, taught King George of England, the Duke of Windsor, and Leopold, tragic king of the Belgians, and British cabinet members, how to skate. . . . He says his greatest thrill came when his daughter, Megan Taylor, won the world's figure skating championship in 1939, succeeding Sonja Henie, who had turned professional. . . .



IN THE SPRING A YOUNG LAMB'S FANCY LIGHTLY TURNS TO ILLINOIS U.
WHIZ KIDS
CARL SOMDAL

Bob Zuppke, the celebrated farmer of Champaign, calls his five newly born lambs the Whiz Kids. . . . Publicity work apparently is a tough racket. . . . Three weeks after Fred Mandel had taken over the job for his Detroit Lions he had to go to Palm Springs for a six weeks' rest. . . . Lt. Comm. H. J. Hardwick, former football coach at the United States Naval academy, recently was assigned to the service school section at Great Lakes. . . . Col. John Shuman, who has succeeded Col. Walter Jeffrey as army emergency relief director for the 6th service command, is a boxing fan. . . . Norville Wallach, 230 pound tackle on Missouri's 1940 Sugar Bowl team, is a lieutenant in a tank buster corps, which sounds reasonable. . . . Several different figures have been printed in the last few days, each purporting to be the total attendance at Blackhawk home games this season. . . . Now comes Joe Farrell, Hawk annotator, with his count—322,797. . . . Not so many as the world record 351,944 set in the 1941-'42 season, but there was no gas or tire rationing in 1941-'42.

What Price Honor?

When promise stretched out her white arms to him
And all the world was one dream of delight,
He sailed off to the far horizon rim
To help his country wage a deadly fight.
Maimed in the very springtime of his life,
Before the bud had broken into bloom,
He could not ask a girl to be his wife
But limped alone in silence to the tomb.
The worldly tell us each man has a price
At which his honor can be bought for gold,
But look upon this soldier's sacrifice
And let this everlasting truth be told:
The coffers of the whole wide world have not Sufficient gold to buy a patriot!

Those I-Make-It-You-Take-It-Blues.

Now Item 10, Fiduciary income. . . . Honey, did we have any fiduciary income in 1942? . . . No? . . . Okay, zero there. . . . Hey, what is a fiduce? . . . Hm? . . . Well, why the heck don't they say so to begin with? . . . Now Item 8, Exchange of Capital Assets. . . . Honey, did we exchange any capital assets last year? . . . Hm? . . . O, y' wouldn't count trading in an old chair for a new overstuffed. That's . . . Well, sure, it's an asset, but you don't put it down unless you gain by the exchange, so . . . [And right there Dorothea says you gain by anything that suits your ends better. And right there I quit asking her questions and decided to finish the darn thing myself.]

The Letter Writer.

She writes to the boys in the service
And the long list is growing still—
She sends them news and cakes and sweets,
And each one gets a thrill.
She starts her letter in this way:
"Dearest Bill [Tom, Dick or Joe],"
And ends them all, "Forever yours."
[I think she's piling up some woe.]
She has their photos in her room,
A gallery of heroes brave—
They're giving all for Uncle Sam—
About each one she'll sigh and rave.
But what will happen when the war
Is won and peace is here?
Will they come storming at her door,
Each anxious to claim his dear?
—Anne C. Korpics.

Journey's End.

A girl-about-town was buried today
From the funeral chapel just down the way,
Only a handful of people there
To mark the passing of one so fair;
The lonely cortège made its way
Thru the city streets, wintry and gray.
But butterflies must have warmth and light,
They are seldom found on the edge of night.

Annie Mullin was buried today
From the old rock church just over the way,
The aisles were crowded, middle and side,
With neighbors and friends from far and wide;
She'd lived all her days in this one neighborhood,
Calmly, quietly, just doing good;
Isn't it strange, when a simple life ends,
It brings a deep sense of sorrow to countless friends!
—JAZBO of Old Dubuque.

RECORD FIELD LINES UP TODAY IN TECH RELAYS

36 Schools Put Their Best in Big Show.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The 15th annual Illinois Tech relays, the largest indoor meet of the 1943 track season, will be held this afternoon and evening in the University of Chicago fieldhouse. The games will open at 3:30 p. m. with the college 2 mile relay in which nine schools are entered.

Following this event, preliminaries and semi-finals will be held in both the college and university sections of the games in the 70 yard dash, the 70 yard low hurdles, and the 70 yard high hurdles. Twelve universities and 24 colleges—a record entry—will send 421 athletes to compete in the 12 events in each division.

Preliminaries in the pole vault, high jump, and shot put will start at 7 o'clock while the first championship event, the 70 yard college dash, is scheduled at 7:30 p. m. The meet is scheduled to end 2½ hours later with the mile relays for college and university teams. Michigan State is defending team champion in the university section and Loyola university of Chicago was the 1942 winner in the college group.

Wright's Conqueror to Compete.

Nine athletes are back to defend 1942 Illinois Tech titles. In addition are all 11 of the individual champions of this year's Central Collegiate indoor meet, eight of the 12 Western conference champions from last Saturday's meet, and four champions from the Big Six conference. The latter are from the University of Missouri.

Eight of the nine champions from the Michigan State relays and two stars of the National A. A. U. meet round out the record field. The A. A. U. point winners are Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace, who finished second in the 70 yard National A. A. U. low hurdles, defeating Bob Wright of Ohio State, and Billy Moore, Drake university freshman, who vaulted 14 feet to finish behind Cornelius Warmerdam, world record holder.

College Teams Listed.

Notre Dame, team champion of the Central collegiate and undefeated this year, and the University of Michigan, Western conference champion, head the field of universities. Others are Illinois, Indiana, Marquette, Chicago, Drake, Michigan State, Missouri, Northwestern, Purdue, and Wisconsin.

In addition to Loyola, the teams in the college division are Albion, Augustana, Baldwin-Wallace, Bradley, Carleton, Central Michigan, Cornell, Grinnell, Illinois Tech, La Grange, Lawrence, Miami, Michigan Normal, Millikin, Monmouth, Morton, North Central, De Kalb Teachers, North Park, Macomb Teachers, Western Michigan, Wheaton, and Wilson.

The battle for the university shot-put championship will revolve around Jim Delaney of Notre Dame, who won the Central collegiate title with a mark of 50 feet 5⅞ inches, and Lou Saban of Indiana.

Eddleman to Compete.

The high jump field includes Herb Matter of Illinois and Bob Hodgell of Wisconsin, who tied for the Big Ten title at 6 feet 2 inches; James Milne of Michigan State, defending champion, and Ed Taylor, Western Michigan freshman, who won the Central collegiate at 6 feet 3 inches. Dwight Eddleman, Illinois freshman, who is making his only varsity appearance before reporting to the army, is another outstanding candidate in this event.

The university mile matches William Scott of Michigan State, and Ollie Hunter of Notre Dame. Hunter's best distance is two miles, but this event is not on the program.

Ken Heintzelman Ordered to Report for Induction

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 12 (AP).—Ken Heintzelman, 26 year old southpaw pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, notified the club today he had been ordered to report next Wednesday for induction into the army at Jefferson barracks, Missouri.

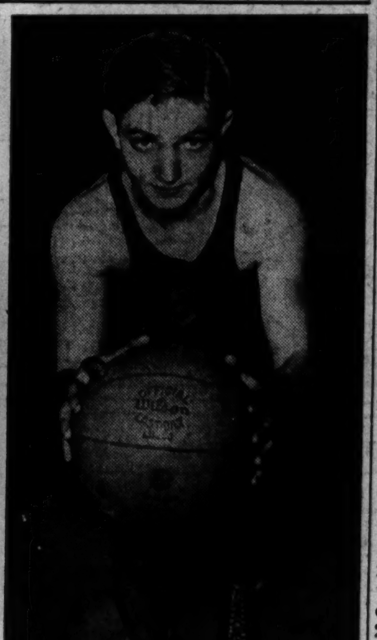
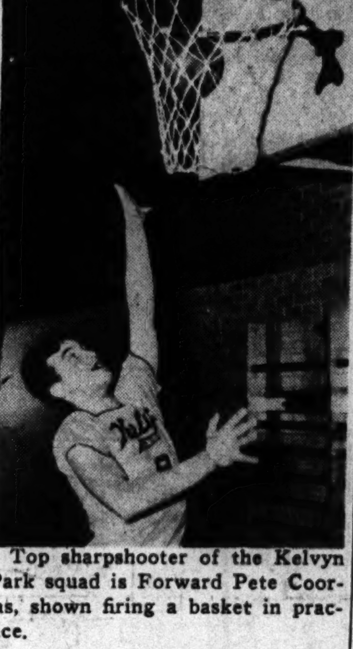
THEY'RE ALL TITLE-MINDED

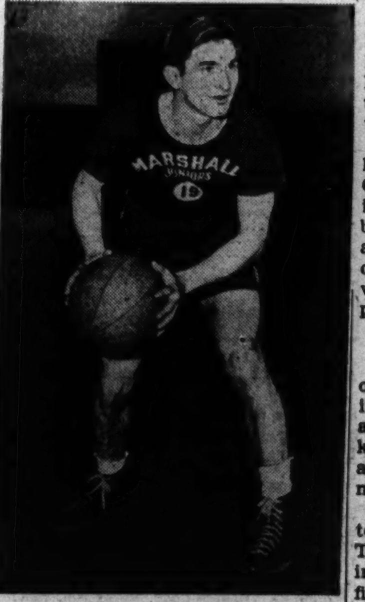
Chicago high school basketball fans will know by dinner time tonight the identity of the teams which will wear the junior and senior crowns for the year. One of the semi-finalists is Lindblom, defending champion, which will meet Kelvyn Park at Lane Tech for the senior title. The Lindblom players are (left to right, seated): John Hriljac, Carl Ohrm, and George Klupchek. Standing: George Scalamera, Charles Molnor, Wilbur Vander Ploeg, and Coach Maurice Swiryn. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



One of the stars of the Harrison quintet, finalist in the junior division, is this forward, Phillip Zimmerman. Harrison will meet Marshall in the Chicago Teachers' gymnasium. Both games will start at 2 p. m.



Top sharpshooter of the Kelvyn Park squad is Forward Pete Coorlas, shown firing a basket in practice.



Marshall, which has won three straight junior titles, is counting heavily on this forward, Hyman Tadelman.

Irish Defeat Detroit, 52-43, to End Season

Notre Dame, Ind., March 12 [Special].—The Notre Dame basketball team tonight closed one of the most successful seasons in its history when it triumphed over Detroit, 52 to 43, for its 18th victory in 20 games. The team also broke the all-time Notre Dame scoring record for a season by finishing with 1,071 points. The previous record of 1,062 was established in the 1940-'41 season in 22 games.

Capt. Charley Butler, playing his final game, paced the Irish with six field goals and six free throws for 18 points. Bobby Faught, junior center, retained the individual scoring championship of the squad by getting 14 points tonight for a season total of 196. Bobby Rensberger, senior guard who had led the team all season, made only two points tonight and finished third for the season with 185.

BIVINS DEFEATS MAURIELLO; ROSS ACCEPTS TROPHY

New York, March 12 [Special].—Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland hammered out a decision victory over Tami Mauriello of New York in a 10 round heavyweight bout in Madison Square Garden tonight. The attendance—19,982—was the largest of the year. Gross receipts were $74,715.

The match featured a card which also included the acceptance by Barney Ross of the New York Boxing Writers association's Edward J. Neill trophy presented annually to "boxing's man of the year." The presentation to the marine hero of the fighting on Guadalcanal was made by Jimmy Walker, former mayor.

OAK PARK UPSETS NEW TRIER, 41-39

Plays Elgin Five Tonight in Sectional Finals.

Oak Park High's basketball team succeeded last night where it previously had failed three times this year, beating New Trier of Winnetka, 41 to 39, in the first round of the Elgin sectional. Tonight Oak Park will meet Elgin in the finals and the winner will qualify for the state finals in Champaign next week.

Oak Park and New Trier carried identical records into the meet, 14 and 5, but the three former meetings between the two members of the Suburban league had resulted in New Trier triumphs.

In the other game Elgin, Big Eight champion, whipped Aurora West of the same conference, 37 to 28. The winners led, 19 to 8, at the half, and coasted in.

JOLIET DOES IT AGAIN.

Joliet High school pulled its second straight victory out of the fire with less than a minute to go when Center Joe Pohlman personally escorted his team to a 30 to 29 triumph over Bradley for the right to advance to the state finals next week. Bradley was leading with 40 seconds to play when Pohlman scored a field goal to tie the count at 29 to 29. He was fouled on the play and slipped in the free throw to give his team its own sectional tournament title. During the evening he scored seven baskets and two free throws for 16 points.

Lindblom and Marshall Will Defend Titles

Marshall vs. Harrison!
Kelvyn Park vs. Lindblom!

That's the setup this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the championship games in the junior and senior divisions of the City High School Basketball league. Marshall, defending junior champion, will oppose Harrison at Chicago Teachers' college, 68th street and Stewart avenue, and Kelvyn Park will meet Lindblom, defending senior champion, on the Lane Tech court at Addison street and Western avenue.

The Commandos from Marshall, junior champions for the last three years, and Kelvyn Park's Panthers, both west section titleholders, have been installed as favorites. Victory for the west siders would enable them to meet the Catholic league champions for city-wide titles March 27 in the Stadium. The games, under the sponsorship of Mayor Kelly, will be played for the benefit of the Chicago Service Men's centers. The senior winner will compete in the state tournament beginning Thursday in Champaign.

Opponents Have Plans, Too.

But Harrison and Lindblom, runners-up in the junior and senior classes, respectively, of the central section, have other ideas pertaining to the west siders' ambitions. Harrison offers a record of 17 victories against two defeats in comparison with the Commandos' astonishing total of 79 straight victories. Twenty-one victories in Marshall's string have been registered this season. It has not been defeated since 1939 and last year whipped Tilden Tech, central section winner, 28 to 24, for the title.

Lindblom, always a slow starter, has been brought along carefully by Coach Maurice Swiryn and, after losing to Manley in a league game, has built up a record of 18 victories against 5 defeats. Lindblom avenged one of its four practice game defeats when it eliminated Hirsch from the playoffs.

Kelvyn Park Has Fine Record.

Kelvyn Park, under the direction of Phil Brownstein, has piled up an impressive record of 22 victories against a single defeat. Kelvyn Park knocked Manley out of the playoffs and Manley was the only team to administer a league defeat to Lindblom.

Coach Lou Weintraub's Marshall team, with Morrie Kaplan, Pee Wee Tadelman, and Chickie Zomlefer leading the attack, seems too well fortified for Harrison, which will depend upon Johnny Todoroff, Martin Wayda, and Augie Granzig for its scoring punch. Zomlefer, rated the best guard in the junior division, undoubtedly will be assigned to cover either Todoroff or Wayda. Harrison is coached by Earl Carlson, who assumed his present duties about a month ago when Bill Schaeffer was transferred to Lane Tech.

Seniors Expect Close One.

The score of the senior game should be a bit closer than that of the junior contest. The Panthers' Pete Coorlas, first choice for a forward on all-star teams, and Gordon Gillespie, topnotch center, should match Lindblom's George Scalamera and Charles Molnor. Kelvyn Park will pick up a decided advantage in the rest of its lineup, which includes Dick Suchor at forward and George Leddy and Franny McGinley at guards. Each is a good shot and rates over Wilbur Vander Ploeg, George Klupchek, and John Hriljac of Lindblom.

BOB KENNEDY AT IOWA CITY FOR CADET COURSE

Iowa City, Ia., March 12 [Special].—Bob Kennedy, who played third base for the Chicago White Sox for the last three seasons, has reported at the Iowa Navy pre-flight school for training as an aviation cadet, public relations officials announced today. Kennedy will be here three months, during which time most of his training will be physical conditioning, and then will be sent on to a flight base.

GOLDEN GLOVES FANS COUNT 5 FIGHTS IN BAG

Need Only 4 More to Whip New York.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago boxing fans are counting five bouts already in the bag in the Intercity matches with New York, which will be held in the Stadium March 31. If their confidence is vindicated, the local boys will need only four victories out of the other eleven bouts to make the nine necessary to regain the Intercity championship which they lost last year in Madison Square Garden.

The five fighters upon whom the Chicago fans are counting so heavily are Tony Janiro, Chuck Hunter, Morris Corona, Reedy Evans, and Jackie Graves. The first four named are champions in the 126, 135, 147 and 175 pound divisions, respectively. Graves is runner-up to Janiro among the featherweights.

No Match for Graves.

Most of the fans believe that the four title holders can cope with the four champions of those weights which emerge from New York's tournament which will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. They also are confident that no alternate the easterners can send into the ring will be any match for Graves.

Graves already has proved that he can win in Intercity competition when competing in the championship class. Fighting last year in Madison Square Garden as Chicago's bantamweight title holder, he whipped his eastern rival, Al Turner. Because of Graves' experience, ruggedness, and hitting power, Janiro's chances look all the better. This youngster took a decision over Graves in the finals of the recent Golden Gloves tournament in the Stadium.

Eastern Coach Confident.

New York's boxing coach, Bill Bradley, saw the Chicago finals and he commented on the strength shown in this featherweight class, but he was brave enough to predict that he would bring out a champion who could beat Janiro. He wasn't quite so confident, however, that he could find an alternate strong enough to whip Graves, because this lad is definitely championship caliber. The New Yorkers will have to produce something pretty good, however, to live up to their coach's confidence for a victory over Janiro because this boy, who hails from Cleveland, never has been beaten in 27 fights.

Chicago fans have good reason for backing Corona's chances, for this veteran of Golden Gloves competition never has looked better than he does right now. In beating Tony Ancona in the quarter-finals and knocking out Charles Busalacchi of Milwaukee in the final, he showed that his timing, hitting power and ring generalship are better than ever. He was captain of Chicago's Intercity team last year and he beat his New York opponent. In 1942, he won the Barney Ross sportsmanship trophy.

Count on Hunter.

Hunter, another Cleveland boy, is being counted on to overthrow his New York adversary in the lightweight class. Hunter, who is National A. A. U. champion, is conceded to be one of the best amateur boxers in the country including all weights.

Evans, who will carry Chicago's chances in the light heavyweight class, has displayed such heavy punching power that it will be a major surprise if the easterners bring out anyone who can beat him. He knocked out both of his opponents in the semi-final and final of the recent Golden Gloves tournament.

Chicago lost the title to New York last season by a score of 9 to 7. If these five fighters come thru as expected, the local fans feel sure that they'll get it back this year.

Three Maroon Athletes Ordered to Active Duty

Three University of Chicago athletes have been ordered to report for active duty in the V-7 program of the naval reserve April 28. Those who received their orders yesterday were Dave Durkee of the basketball team, and Lindsay Leach and Fred Beattie of the swimming squad.

THEY RING THE BELL!

Remember that day at the county fair when you won the nickel cigar? There's a bigger reward in store for you when the opening gong sounds for the 16th annual Intercity Golden Gloves bouts in Chicago Stadium the night of March 31. If you have the forethought to order tickets now you'll witness an evening of boxing you'll long recall.

Sixteen bouts are on the program matching Chicago's champions, drawn from 23 states, against New York's best, survivors of tournaments involving the entire eastern seaboard. The battles are sure to carry that extra punch, for Chicago will seek to avenge a 9 to 7 defeat absorbed last year.

Tickets are on sale in the Tribune Public Service offices, Tribune Tower, and 1 South Dearborn street. The Tower is open until 5 p. m. and the Dearborn street office until 7 p. m. daily. The prices:

$3.30—$2.20—$1.65—$1.10—55 Cents

HAWKS DEFEND LEAN 4TH PLACE LEAD TONIGHT

Play Confident Canadiens in Montreal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 12.—Montreal hockey fans today were awaiting what they hope will be the successful climax of a long, bitter chase—tomorrow night's battle in the Forum between the Canadiens and the Chicago Blackhawks.

The Frenchmen still trail the fourth place Hawks by a full game in the fight for fourth place and a Stanley cup playoff berth, but they now feel the advantage is all theirs, as a result of the rally with which the Canadiens overtook their rivals in Chicago Stadium Thursday night for a 4 to 4 tie.

The first spot in the playoffs already has been determined, thanks to Detroit's Thursday evening capture of the league championship with a decision over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Second place also has been decided, with Boston's Bruins in that position.

Leafs in Danger, Too.

The Leafs hold third place by only half a game over the fourth place Hawks. Toronto has two games in which to cling to third place, but both are against the Wings. The Canadiens and Blackhawks still have three remaining. And there's the reason for cheer in Montreal today. The first of the three brings the two together tomorrow.

After tomorrow, the Canadiens go to Boston, returning to meet the New York Rangers on Thursday. The Hawks, on Sunday, will visit the Rangers, and then close the season against the champion Wings in Detroit Thursday.

Wings May Help Hawks.

The Hawks' hopes are based on a double defeat for Toronto in its pair against Detroit. If this should happen, and the Hawks can gain one victory out of their three road games, Toronto would drop to fifth place, and the Hawks would be certain of a playoff rôle.

The local citizenry was somewhat disturbed to hear that the Hawk party which left Chicago this morning included one Earl Seibert. The big defense star, who has been out of action with an instep injury since Feb. 27, made the trip, but Manager Paul Thompson doubted that Earl would be ready for tomorrow's match.

UNIVERSITY HIGH EASILY RETAINS SWIMMING TITLE

University High school successfully defended its title in the Private School league swimming meet in the University of Chicago pool yesterday, almost doubling the score on its nearest rival.

The University High swimmers won six of the seven events, losing only in the diving, to capture 61 points. Francis Parker was second with 31 points, North Park third with 32. Luther scored 12 points and Morton, 2. Summaries:

11 p. m.—Zion of Lyons vs. First Bethlehem of Chicago.

Mt. Carmel Seniors Win Section Title

Mount Carmel clinched the senior championship in the south section of the Catholic league last night with its 10th victory in 11 games by beating St. Rita, 53 to 31, on the latter's court. With only one league game remaining on its schedule, Mount Carmel cannot be tied by either Leo, defending champion, or De La Salle, which are tied for second place with seven victories and three defeats.

Mount Carmel also went into a first place tie in the junior division with Catholic High of Joliet, by defeating St. Rita, 38 to 18, in the junior game. It was the Carmelites' ninth victory in 11 games.

St. Mel dropped St. Philip into a tie with St. George for the senior lead in the north section by defeating the latter, 19 to 17. It was the second defeat for St. Philip in 11 games. It has one more sectional game to play.

Weber St. Philip Win.

The Weber and St. Philip juniors continued in a first place tie in the north section with victories last night. Weber routed De Paul, 66 to 33, on the Weber floor and St. Philip beat St. Mel, 33 to 22, on the latter's floor. The defeat dropped St. Mel out of a three way tie for first place.

Weber and St. Philip close their sectional schedule Tuesday, the former playing Fenwick and the latter Loyola academy.

PHILLIES MAY ASK LANDIS TO CANCEL NICK ETTEN DEAL

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12 (AP).—The deal that sent First Baseman Nick Etten from the Phillies to the New York Yankees several months ago may be canceled, it was disclosed today. Etten was traded by the Phillies' former president, Gerry Nugent, for Pitcher Allen Gettell, First Baseman Ed Levy, and an undisclosed sum of money, generally supposed to be $15,000.

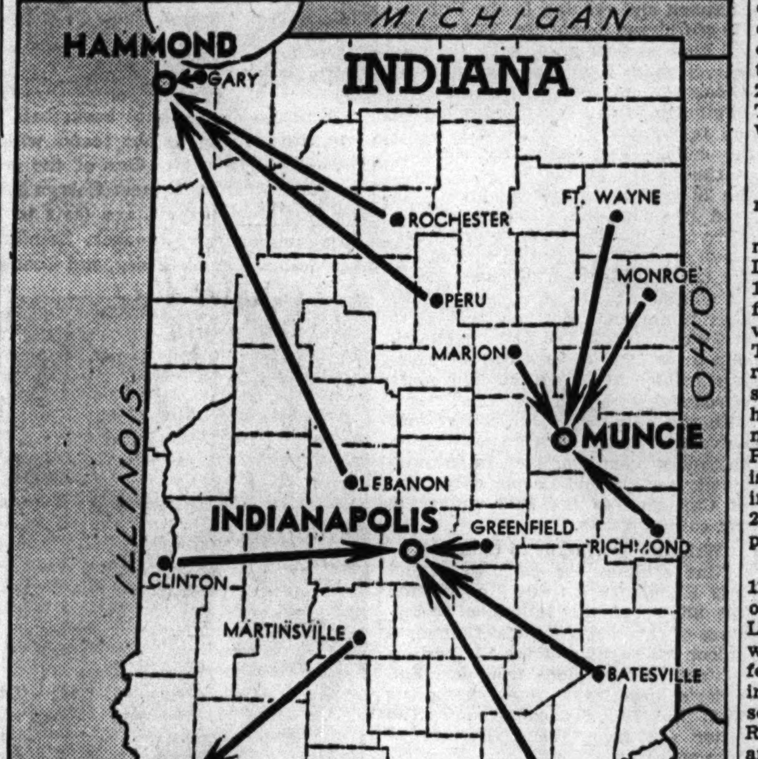
Today, however, Manager Bucky Harris of the Phils said he had received word from Gettell that he has decided to stay on his farm near Norfolk, Va. In addition, Harris said he hasn't heard from Levy; that Bill Anske, rookie catcher, has been inducted into the army, and that the veteran pitcher, Johnny Allen, has returned his contract unsigned. Allen was obtained from the Brooklyn Dodgers in exchange for Rube Melton and $30,000 in another deal arranged by the former Nugent régime.

If Gettell and Levy fail to report, it was hinted that the Etten transaction may be taken to Commissioner K. M. Landis for a ruling.

Detroit Pros Sign Three Irish Stars for Tourney

Dutch Dehnert, coach of the Detroit Eagles basketball team, last night announced the signing of three University of Notre Dame seniors, Capt. Charles Butler, Robert Rensberger, and Ralph Vinciguerra. The Irish stars will report to the Eagles in time for tomorrow afternoon's Detroit-Akron game, opening the fifth annual pro tournament in the armory, Michigan avenue and 16th street.

It's Showdown Time in Indiana



Indiana, where basketball is a year 'round obsession, reaches the boiling point today as 16 quintets, survivors of preliminary tournaments, battle in the semi-finals in the four centers upon which the arrows converge. The winner in each tourney will go to Indianapolis next week-end to play for the state championship.

Chicago Fives Open Victory PinMeet Today

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Outstanding bowling teams have been placed on each of the four squads that are to compete today and tomorrow in the first Victory tournament in the Auditorium theater service men's bowling center—for the benefit of the center. Competition will start at 1 o'clock this afternoon when the first 12 of the 48 teams go on the alleys. Tonight's show starts at 7 o'clock. The prize list totals $4,800, with $2,000 as first prize.

The opening squad today will include teams that currently are doing some of the best shooting in Chicago. It is headed by the Joseph L. Gills, Classic league leaders, and also lists the Chapin & Gores of the North End Traveling league and Edelweiss Beer of the Greater Chicago Traveling league. The only team from out of town listed on the squad is the Employers' Mutual of Milwaukee.

Schwoegler's Team in Action.

As the order in which the teams will go on is to be reversed tomorrow, today's opening squad will conclude the tournament tomorrow, going on at 9:15 p. m. Each team on it will roll three games across six alleys today and three more across the other six of the center's 12 lanes tomorrow.

Today's second squad starts bowling at 3:15. It lists Schwoegler's alleys of Madison, Wis., featuring Connie Schwoegler, who won the national match game championship on those same lanes in the All-Star tournament in December. Also on the team are his father, Tony, and brother, Mel. On the same squad are the Budweisers of Chicago and of St. Louis, which finished No. 1 and 2 in the last American Bowling congress tournament. A fourth team is the Paris Cleaners of Detroit, anchored by Johnny Crimmins.

Strohs Bowl Tonight.

Tonight's first squad includes the Stroh Bohemians of Detroit, match game champions; Linsz Recreations of Cleveland, challengers elect for the Strohs' title; Monarch Beers of Chicago; Mineralites of Chicago; Bowes Seal Fasts of Indianapolis, and Ace Woodworking of Philadelphia.

The lineup for tonight's last squad, going on at 9:15, includes the Hermann Undertakers, St. Louis; Smalley Liquors, Milwaukee quintet which has rolled the season's highest score; Thompson Restaurants of the Chicago Classic league, and Silver Seal Sodas, St. Louis.

16 Fives Open New Bids for Indiana Title

Today's Pairings

PAIRINGS for today's semi-final games of the Indiana High school basketball tournament follow:

AT HAMMOND—Lebanon vs. Rochester; Gary Lew Wallace vs. Peru.
AT MUNCIE—Monroe vs. Fort Wayne Central; Richmond vs. Marion.
AT INDIANAPOLIS—Batesville vs. Madison; Greenfield vs. Clinton.
AT VINCENNES—Martinsville vs. Jasper; Bedford vs. Evansville Central.
First games start at 1:30 p. m., second at 2:30 p. m.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The perennial daffiness sometimes identified as the Indiana High School Basketball tournament reaches the penultimate phase this afternoon and evening, when the semi-finals will be decided in four centers thruout Hoosierdom—Hammond, Indianapolis, Muncie and Vincennes. Two afternoon games will be played at each point, with the winners battling in night contests for one of the four rôles in the finals, to be held next Saturday in Indianapolis' Coliseum.

Immediate interest for Chicago fans attaches to the doings in the Hammond civic center, out of which sprang in 1940 Hammond Tech, the first team from the northwestern corner of the state ever to win the championship. In today's first afternoon game, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, Lebanon's Tigers will battle the Rochester Zebras, followed by a 2:30 p. m. argument between Peru's Tigers and the Hornets of Gary Lew Wallace.

Here Is the Lowdown.

Capsule records of the four Hammond semi-finalists follow:

LEBANON—Paul W. [Butch] Neuman is now in his 13th year as coach. Lebanon has won three state titles, in 1912, 1917 and 1918, but this is its first appearance among the 16 survivors of the state since 1934. The Tigers won 13 and lost 4 in their regular season, before sweeping their sectional and regional tourneys. They have not met any of the other Hammond semi-finalists before today. Pete Mount, center for the third year, is the team's leading scorer, delivering 57 points in the sectionals and 25 in the regionals, a total of 82 points in those six games.

ROCHESTER—Clyde Lyle, in his 11th season as coach, is, like Lebanon's Neuman, a product of Piggy Lambert of Purdue. The Zebras have won a total of 21 against two defeats, including the five victories leading to today's set. Peru is the only semi-finalist at Hammond which Rochester has met, winning, 33 to 31, and then suffering its worst defeat of the season, 48 to 34, in the return game. Rochester has played in 12 state tournaments, including the inaugural year of 1911 in Bloomington. Their best previous efforts have been two semi-final appearances. Dick King, 6 foot 4 inch center, leads his mates with 276 points for the season.

Peru Coach in Fourth Year.

PERU—Clare Holley, who first gained fame in the tournament in 1939, when he took little Ossian to the semi-finals, is in his fourth year at Peru. This marks the first time the Tigers have gained the final 16. Before the tournament proper started they had lost 8 out of 18 games, but their improvement as the big show approached was rapid. Outstanding performance was the aforesaid 48 to 34 triumph over Rochester, then rated No. 1 contender in the state. The scoring has been evenly distributed, with no single player outstanding. Dick Milroy, smallest man on the team, made 18 points in one regional game, but in the final against Monticello, Don Jarrett, 6 foot 2 inch center, led his mates. Peru has the best defensive record of 16 teams, allowing opponents only 22 points in tournament play.

GARY LEW WALLACE—Coach Dick Polk, now in his 13th season, has brought the Hornets to their first sectional and regional titles in history. They whipped Washington Township, Gary Emerson, Gary Froebel, and Valparaiso in the sectional and then beat Hammond Clark and Michigan decisively in the regional. Lew Wallace has the top tournament scoring average of the 16 survivors, with a rating of 52 points per game.

WRIGHT RETAINS JUNIOR COLLEGE SWIMMING TITLE

Wright retained its state junior college swimming championship yesterday in the Wilson Junior college pool as its swimmers won every event and scored 62 points while Wilson, the nearest rival, was scoring 31. Herzl was third with 17 points.

Dick Oluff of Wright and Glen Stears of Wilson divided individual honors by placing first and second, respectively, in the 40 and 100 yard freestyle events. No records were broken in the meet.

Holmer Leaves Boston U. for Lieutenancy in Navy

Boston, Mass., March 12 (AP).—Walt Holmer, who became football coach at Boston university when Maj. Leroy [Pat] Hanley joined the United States marine corps more than a year ago, today was sworn into the navy as a senior grade lieutenant. Holmer, a product of Northwestern university and a former Chicago Bear full back, will report at the North Carolina pre-flight school for basic training.

LATE, PERHAPS, BUT DYKES WILL BE HERE FOR A DAY

Sox Manager Now Is Due in Chicago Wednesday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago welcome of Jimmy Dykes, like that of several other notables of national or world fame, has been postponed. The doughty and convalescent manager of the Chicago White Sox was to have made a triumphant appearance in our hospitable city next Monday after his magnificent California victory over those seven pernicious gallstones. But, alas, Jim sent word to the committee yesterday that he won't be able to keep the date. Something about railroad reservations.

The committee was in something of a panic at first but inquiry made of Vice President Harry Grabiner of the White Sox revealed that Jim will be here Wednesday, arriving at the Dearborn station at approximately high noon, or some 33 hours before President Grace Comiskey and her entourage, including James, leave for French Lick, Ind., where the Sox will be housed during their spring training stand at nearby West Baden.

They'll Steal Away Quietly.

It is likely that what ever homage is paid to Dykes will be on the occasion of his Wednesday arrival, rather than at the time of the getaway Thursday. As a matter of fact, the getaway isn't going to be anything like the show the event precipitated when a sizable squad of players departed for California on a streamliner. These departures were celebrated with radio broadcasts from the station platform, with presentations of flowers to the ladies in the party and candies and other goodies for the players, with occasional gifts of books to players known to enjoy reading.

Thursday's party will be distinguished but not abundantly athletic. There will be President Comiskey, her daughter, Gracie Lou, Dykes, Traveling Secretary Joe Barry, Coach Muddy Ruel, Rookie Catcher Vincent Castino, Second Baseman Donald Kolloway, and Pitcher Orval Grove. Thirty-four other players are supposed to be at French Lick some time within a few hours after Dykes' arrival.

Wilson May Greet Sox.

No word has come as to whether there are to be welcoming ceremonies at French Lick. It may be that Manager Jim Wilson will be asked to head a committee down there. The Cubs aren't due in French Lick until March 22, but Wilson, who doesn't play rummy, is said to be getting tired of sitting around the Pink Poodle room at Wrigley field and is figuring on going to the Hoosier spa Monday night.

The Cub Chicago party will include 14 players, these to be herded by Traveling Secretary Bob Lewis.

3 CLUBS ENTER PURDUE MEET'S BASEBALL DASH

Lafayette, Ind., March 12 [Special].—Entries for the special baseball dash to be held in connection with the Purdue relays here Saturday, March 27, have been received from the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Cincinnati Reds, it was announced here today.

In addition to the trio of entries already assured, Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, has informed Purdue authorities that he would discuss plans for a Cleveland entry when the squad arrives here Monday to start training in the Boilermaker fieldhouse. Negotiations are still under way with the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox, the other two teams which will train in Indiana this spring.

MAJOR LEAGUES TO DISCUSS NEW BASEBALL TODAY

William Harridge, president of the American league, and Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, will meet with Commissioner K. M. Landis today to discuss the adoption of a war time baseball.

The proposed ball would have a balata rubber-cork center rather than a pure rubber core. For the last week Landis has been studying reports of the new ball submitted by the bureau of standards in Washington.

Girls' Round Robin Basket Meet to Be Held Today

Four girls' basketball teams, two from the University of Chicago and two from Mundelein college, will meet in a round robin tournament starting at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Ida Noyes clubhouse on the Midway. The two Chicago teams will comprise an honor squad of 20 girls selected from the best of 160 competing in intramurals.

Mize Stays Home; Awaits Word from Draft Board

St. Louis, Mo., March 12 (AP).—Johnny Mize, New York Giant first baseman, said tonight he would remain at his St. Louis home to await further word from his draft board instead of going east to start training at Lakewood, N. J.

ALL CORN PLACED UNDER CEILING; CHICAGO BASIS IS $1.02 A BUSHEL

Affects Grain from Time It Leaves Farmers' Hands.

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The office of price administration today imposed dollars and cents price ceilings on corn, the country's biggest farm crop. Effective at once, the new regulation puts maximum prices on all varieties and types of corn from the time it leaves the farmers' hands until sold by retail dealers. It also fixes futures quotations.

A typical ceiling price under the new order is $1.02 a bushel for No. 2 yellow corn at Chicago, key grain exchange city. This price is the same as the previous ceiling at Chicago, as laid down in the temporary regulation issued two months ago pegging the ceilings at each individual seller's highest quotation on Jan. 11.

The new ceilings will remain in effect until April 30. Thereafter the maximum prices will go up ½ cent a bushel on the 1st and 15th of each month until Sept. 30. On Nov. 1, when the new crop season opens, the ceiling prices will go back to the May 31 level.

Adopt Seasonal Pattern.

On the futures exchanges, a similar seasonal price pattern has been adopted. There are only four delivery months in futures—May, July, September, and December.

The maximum price for May futures was set at $1.01 per bushel, based on the No. 2 yellow ceiling at Chicago on May 31, less the normal discount of 2 cents. July futures will have a $1.03 ceiling; September, $1.05. Next December, however, the futures ceiling will be $1.01, or the May price.

These futures maximums will apply for the entire period during which futures trading is carried on in any May, July, September, or December contracts.

OPA also advanced the price ceilings of manufacturers of dry corn milling products, such as corn meal, corn flour, and hominy grits for table use. This action was said to be necessary to relieve a "squeeze" on processors caused by the advance in corn prices since last November, when ceilings were placed on these products.

Other Provisions Unchanged.

The dry corn products ceilings, originally based on 90 cents a bushel for No. 2 yellow corn and $1.05 for No. 2 white corn at Kansas City, Mo., were moved up to reflect corn prices of 99 cents for No. 2 yellow and $1.14 for No. 2 white. The actual new ceilings are $2.37 a hundredweight for yellow and $2.81 for white dry corn milling products respectively. Other provisions of the dry corn milling order were not changed.

OPA said the new corn ceilings in general reflect the ceilings under the temporary freeze, but iron out inequities in those cases where sellers were "frozen" at below average ceilings. Covered are transactions by farmers, truckers, local elevator and terminal market operators and retail dealers.

Exempted are seed corn, pop corn, sweet corn, grain sorghums, broom corn, ground corn, cracked corn, and corn used for canning purposes.

Divided Into 10 Zones.

For pricing purposes, the country was divided into 10 zones drawn to preserve normal marketing channels.

The maximum prices at leading terminal basing points for No. 2 yellow corn follow: Chicago, $1.02; Duluth and Superior, $1.01¾; Kansas City, 99 cents; Milwaukee, $1.02; Minneapolis and St. Paul, 98 cents; Omaha and Council Bluffs, 95 cents; Peoria, $1.01; St. Joseph, Mo., 99 cents; St. Louis and East St. Louis, $1.02¾; Sioux City, 94 cents.

The ceilings at any interior producing point area are fixed, OPA said, at "the appropriate terminal price basing point [the one resulting in the highest maximum price at the interior point] less one cent per bushel and less freight charges from the interior point to the terminal price basing point."

Going back one step beyond this interior point "on track" price, OPA set the ceiling on sales by producers at producing points 2 cents below the "on track" quotation.

Differentials Specified.

A farmer selling corn raised on his own farm to another farmer may charge the "on track" price for the nearest shipping point at which he usually sells.

The new order specifies that No. 1 yellow corn will have the same ceiling as No. 2 yellow, and other yellow corn will bring the following discounts from the No. 2 yellow price: No. 3 yellow, ½ cent; No. 4 yellow, 1 cent; No. 5 yellow, 1½ cents; sample yellow, 2 cents. Discounts also are provided on corn with excessive moisture.

Because white corn is a premium grade and comparatively scarce, price premiums are allowed. The ceilings for white corn at the terminal price basing points follow:

Chicago, $1.23½; Duluth and Superior, $1.21¾; Kansas City, $1.14; Milwaukee, $1.23½; Minneapolis and St. Paul, $1.18; Omaha and Council Bluffs, $1.14; Peoria, $1.22½; St. Joseph, Mo., $1.14; St. Louis and East St. Louis, $1.21¾; Sioux City, $1.14.

OPA CONSIDERS CEILINGS FOR SEED POTATOES

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Temporary price restrictions on seed potatoes, now exempt from price ceilings, were reported under consideration by OPA today in order to discourage sales of seed potatoes for table consumption. Altho no official decision has been made, it is understood that such action may be taken after price administration officials hold a long conference with producers and shippers of seed potatoes.

PREDICTS PRICE PEG WILL TIE UP TRADING IN CORN

Philip R. O'Brien.

Chicago grain trade spokesmen last night described the new permanent corn ceilings fixed by the office of price administration at less than parity as "the worst possible action the government could take at this time." They said that, at a time when demand for corn is heavy and the volume reaching market relatively small, they could not understand the government's failure to raise ceilings to an extent that would induce farmers to market the grain. The trade had expected ceilings equivalent to parity, or $1.08 a bushel, Chicago basis.

Philip R. O'Brien, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, asserted that the new ceilings would prove unworkable. He said that altho corn futures maximums are raised, prices are certain to rise to the ceilings immediately and stay there, resulting in a frozen market. He predicted, however, that the Bankhead bill, which would prohibit federal agencies from fixing ceilings at less than full parity, will become a law and nullify the new maximums.

No Incentive to Sell.

"With corn fed to hogs bringing a return of $1.50 a bushel," O'Brien said, "these new ceilings, which give the farmer a return of less than a dollar a bushel for commercial corn, certainly offer no incentive to ship to market. They discriminate between corn for hog feed and commercial corn. If corn were permitted to rise in a free market, the farmer would have the incentive both to produce for commercial purposes and ship to market."

Other grain trade representatives predicted the new ceiling order, which allows a ½ cent a bushel increase twice each month from May thru September, will tie up more corn on farms by "paying the farmer to store his corn." They said the producer, because of the heavy demand, would run little risk of receiving less than the ceiling in holding his corn off the market for several months. It was predicted that both futures and cash markets will stagnate.

Processors Get Loan Corn.

It was reported that important commercial corn processors are running short and that the Commodity Credit corporation has been obliged to sell them loan corn to keep them operating. Feed manufacturers are said to be particularly affected by lack of supplies.

The grain trade had not been optimistic that even raising ceilings to full parity would result in any material increase in corn marketings because of the large profits from feeding to hogs.

At the time the parity ceilings were reported to be under serious consideration agricultural groups said the production of beef, milk, and poultry products was in "deadly peril" because of the acute shortage of market supplies of corn. They asserted that the then current temporary ceilings kept corn on the farms or in storage and out of the hands of feeders, except hog producers. The new ceilings generally reflect the temporary maximums.

GRAIN FUTURES DROP ON LIFTING OF LAKE PERMITS

Liquidation by holders of grain futures developed yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after announcement that the office of defense transportation had eliminated the permit system of moving grains by lake during the early part of the navigation season. This move, which was a surprise to the grain trade, was expected to release many millions of bushels of cash wheat, oats, rye, and barley for the use of the American trade.

Wheat broke about 2 cents and rye about 2½ cents before short covering checked the decline. Final sales were slightly above the bottom. Wheat lost 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents. Oats declined 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents and rye was 2⅛ cents lower. There was no trading in corn futures and the close was unchanged at the ceiling prices.

Butter Ration Plan Held Unfair

Too many foods, most of them unrelated as to supply sources and production factors, are included under a single set of ration coupons in the new plan covering meat, cheese, butter, and fats, officials of the National Dairy union, Chicago, said yesterday.

C. S. Paton, secretary of the organization, said dairymen believe the new rationing order is "part of a plan to revamp dietary habits of the American people, with emphasis upon substitutes." He predicted that consumer confusion leading to unbalanced purchases will result from having several important foods grouped together.

Would "Influence" Use.

Paton said rationing on the basis of available supplies rather than "in a manner to influence consumer utilization in relations to other foods" had been recommended by the dairy industry. He said that in the past the consuming public has used more than six times as much butter as substitutes, but that under the new rationing program, the estimated ratio will be 3.4 to 1.

"Indications are that in grouping butter with oleomargarine and other fats under point rationing, butter will be assigned a higher point value," said Paton. "The purpose of rationing should be to assure each consumer a fair share of the available stock of those foods which are in short supply."

"No Valid Excuse."

Paton said the government has no valid excuse for encouraging the use of vegetable substitutes for butter, because the shortage of vegetable fats and oils is at least as acute as that of milk products. He asserted that under the new rationing, butter is being taken out of its proper food field. The National Dairy union recommends that butter be rationed as a staple individual food as have coffee and sugar, he added, or at least linked with related foods such as cheese.

The dairy union and other industry representatives approved butter rationing as a means of distributing equitably the small supply available for civilians and advocated allocation of milk supplies to improve the situation of milk supplies to improve the supply situation.

Strike Threat Rises in Coal Wage Parley

New York, March 12 (AP).—Spokesmen for various United Mine Workers districts today threatened to strike April 1 if a contract providing a $2 a day wage increase for 450,000 miners in the northern and southern Appalachian bituminous areas is not signed by March 31. The threats were made at a meeting of the joint northern Appalachian wage conference.

Asked later if he indorsed the strike threats, John L. Lewis, UMW president, said: "I wouldn't have any comment at this time at all."

John P. Busarello, president of district 5, said "We want $2 [more] a day, and we won't take less. The demands are more than reasonable and the United Mine Workers expects to get them."

Consequences Disregarded.

Asserting that the operators were "hiding behind the skirts of the war labor board," James Mark, president of district 2, said:

"No matter what the labor board says or does, if the men don't get a contract by March 31, they won't go into those mines April 1. We're out to get a substantial wage increase and we're going to get it no matter what the consequences."

John Seddon, spokesman for district 5, told the operators that if the demanded wage increases were not granted, many miners would go to other industries. He added: "From your refusal of our demands could come results drastic and unpredictable."

Reject Contract Extension.

Earlier, UMW representatives voted down a proposal made by the Southern Coal Producers' association to recess the southern Appalachian joint wage conference until three months after the end of the war.

The proposal was made at the start of negotiations for a new southern mine contract by former United States Sen. Edward R. Burke, president of the producer association. It also proposed that present agreements remain in full force.

Maj. Percy Tetlow, president of UMW district 17, West Virginia, declared that the miners could not sacrifice their right to a frank discussion of problems, even in the emergency, and said miners have just as much at stake in the war as others.

Northern operators, meeting separately, gave a flat "no" yesterday to the UMW request for wage increases.

LIGHT SUPPLIES CAUSE ADVANCE IN HOG MARKET

Farmers again held back hog supplies yesterday because of the midweek price slump which resulted from the announcement that the price administrators had agreed on a program for placing ceilings on hog prices. The light supply forced prices 5 to 15 cents higher.

Buyers paid a 10 cents higher average of $15.45, which was 20 cents above midweek, but 20 cents below last week's close. Top loads advanced 15 cents to $15.65.

Farmers shipped only 46,000 hogs to 11 large markets, 35,000 less than Friday of last week and 13,000 less than a year ago. The Chicago arrivals at 14,000, including direct shipments to packers, compared with 23,167 a week ago.

A light supply of steers and yearlings sold mostly from $13.50 to $15.00, about steady. The best brought $16.25.

Cereal Institute Offices Opened in Field Building

Andrew Duncan, managing director of the Cereal institute, recently organized by several large breakfast food manufacturing companies, yesterday announced the opening of headquarters in the Field building. The institute was formed to coöperate with the national nutritional program.

ONE COMPANY PAYS 42 MILLIONS FOR NEW QUARTER TAX RECORD

New York, March 12 (AP).—A check for 42 million dollars as the first quarter payment of a corporation's income tax, the largest individual payment ever received in the 2d district office, was accepted today by Collector William J. Pedrick.

The payment came in the midst of the greatest taxpaying rush experienced in years by the district which has jurisdiction over the richest income tax territory in the world—the area south of 23d street in Manhattan, which includes the Wall street district. Pedrick said that he could not disclose the identity of the payer.

Private Firms Get 1st Call on War Housing

BY AL CHASE.

Private home builders yesterday were assured by the national housing agency that if they could supply the needed living quarters for workers in the big new war plants under construction in the Chicago area no public housing would be built by the government.

Builders also were told that if the long delayed war man power commission report on Chicago labor reaches Washington today or tomorrow, as expected, the promised "interim quota" of housing priorities may be announced early next week.

Willard F. Day, regional representative of NHA, offered these assurances to a delegation of members of the Metropolitan Chicago Home Builders association who visited his office in an effort to learn what had happened to the "interim quota" promised them last week in Washington by John B. Blandford Jr., administrator of NHA. This is considered an emergency measure to help relieve the Chicago housing situation.

"Only as a Last Resort."

Charles Joern, Chicago builder, asked if there was to be any public housing around the new war plants. Day replied that only as a last resort would public housing be built. Joern assured him that Chicago builders could handle the local housing demand if given the priorities.

Joseph Merrion, president of the home building group, headed a delegation to Washington last week, carrying a demand from Mayor Kelly for priorities for 30,000 new homes in Chicago. The NHA administrator told them that the office of defense transportation in this city had reported that 20,000 new homes were needed adjacent to the new plants.

Basing his statement on that report, Blandford told the builders he would grant an "interim quota" of priorities at once to carry them along until a final quota could be fixed.

Two Plants Need Housing.

Inquiry yesterday at the three biggest war plants now under construction disclosed that homes are urgently needed near the Douglas and Aluminum plants but not at the Dodge-Chicago plant.

John C. Buckwalter, assistant manager of the Chicago Aircraft Assembly plant, to be operated by Douglas Aircraft company, said at least 2,000 new homes should be built in the vicinity of that plant to care for the midsummer peak in the active hiring program now under way.

He said the 300 homes being built with "recaptured" priorities will fill the gap in living accommodations only for the present.

It is known that at least 1,000 housing units are needed near the sheet mill of Aluminum Company of America which is nearing completion. Vacant land is available near by for housing. Practically every home within a 10 mile radius of the plant is occupied.

C. B. Cornell, director of personnel in Chicago for the Dodge-Chicago plant, said employés already have their homes and there is no need for new construction. They drive cars or ride buses to work now, and street car service is planned later.

WMC AID URGES STREAMLINING OF LABOR REQUESTS

Chicago employers were urged yesterday by Walter E. Parker, assistant director of the war man power commission's service in Illinois, to streamline their requests for labor. He spoke before the Chicago Association of Commerce war problems school at the Hotel La Salle.

Altho labor in the Chicago area is now "in balance" there is certain to be a big demand for workers later, Parker asserted. He urged employers to ask for workers having minimum instead of maximum qualifications—in other words, don't ask for a highly skilled technical man when a simple operator will do.

Parker also urged employers to hire more women and handicapped workers. He said both have been doing well, women setting new production records and handicapped persons proving more careful.

BELL AIRCRAFT PLANE OUTPUT TO BE BOOSTED

Income of 1942 Sets New Record.

Production in 1943 of new and improved Airacobra fighter planes and ordnance devices by the Bell Aircraft corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., will widely exceed that of 1942, President Lawrence D. Bell predicted yesterday in a letter to stockholders.

The letter accompanied the company's annual report which showed net income for the year ended Dec. 31 increased to $4,203,583, after taxes and reserve for contingencies, the highest in the company's history, from $1,970,645 the preceding year. Bell said the 1942 profit was subject to the effect of contract renegotiations. Sales also were the highest on record, totaling $130,763,227, against $46,414,444 in 1941.

The aircraft executive said the company has continued to concentrate on the production of the Airacobra as well as "products manufactured in our ordnance division, which are used in nearly every type of American bomber; and our B-17 division, which includes production, under subcontracts, of component assemblies for the Flying Fortress."

Bendix Aviation Earns More.

Net earnings of the Bendix Aviation corporation increased to $3,873,195, or $1.83 a common share, in the quarter ended Dec. 31, compared with $3,113,328, or $1.47 a share, in the corresponding 1941 quarter. Provision for federal taxes increased to $37,453,164 in the 1942 quarter, compared with $14,207,335 a year ago.

American Telephone and Telegraph company, reporting to the federal communications commission, announced that January net income increased to $1,871,646, compared with $734,311 in January last year. Gross income for the month was $21,081,967, against $14,398,406 in 1942.

Both net earnings and net sales of Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, Chicago, declined in 1942, the company's annual report disclosed. Profits were down to $1,952,094, or $3.28 a common share, from $2,036,887, or $4.28 a share, in 1941. Net sales declined 11.8 per cent to $18,337,799 from $20,796,823 in the preceding year.

Outlook Termed Unfavorable.

R. F. Bensinger, president, commented in the report that "restrictive orders of the war production board and other government agencies make the outlook for 1943 unfavorable" despite the progress made in recent years, particularly in the bowling division.

The National Cash Register company, Dayton, O., disclosed net income in the year ended Dec. 31 dipped to $3,136,562, compared with $3,257,446 in 1941. Earnings per common share, after preferred dividend requirements, totaled $1.93 and $2 respectively.

Union Electric Company of Missouri, St. Louis, announced net income of $7,763,000 in 1942, equal to $2.39 a common share, compared with $8,232,000, or $2.67 a share, in 1941.

Chicago Area War Financing Drive Gets an Early Start

Set Up Machinery

Organization for the 7th reserve district's part in the forthcoming treasury campaign to obtain 13 billion dollars is getting off to an early start, Clifford S. Young, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, disclosed yesterday. He said a district advisory committee to coördinate work of the victory fund committee organization and the war savings staff is being formed in accordance with treasury instructions and that its personnel will be announced soon.

The new advisory group will be known as the district United States treasury war finance committee. Young, as president of the reserve bank, will be the 7th district chairman. This and similar committees in other districts, will work with the national treasury war finance committee in Washington, which in turn will act in an advisory capacity to the treasury.

Utilizes Two Groups.

These advisory committees will seek to utilize the combined services of the war savings staffs and victory fund committees in the sale of all types of government securities. Up to now war savings staffs concentrated on sale of E bonds and stamps, and the victory fund committees concentrated on regular treasury issues.

Except for these changes, and creation of a small liaison committee to assist Young in his contacts with the two organizations, the district campaign structure will be the same as during the successful December drive in which 12 billion 906 million dollars was obtained nationally.

Francis F. Patton and Nathan D. McClure, managers of the district victory fund committee, are organizing the new 7th district advisory committee.

The 29 members on the committee will include the war savings staff administrator and deputy administrator of each of the five states in the district, and the citizen head of the staff in each state. The victory fund committee will be represented by the six volunteer regional chairmen [one from each state and one from Chicago metropolitan area], the six regional managers, and the two managers of the district committee.

Patton said that 13 billions is "not an impossible goal," but warned that the necessity for hard work by thousands of volunteer workers who will participate cannot be minimized.

Report Banks Ready

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, said today the nation's banks had the "strongest asset position of record" and with peak deposits of 90 billion dollars were "ready to meet any war demands which may be made."

In an analysis of banking developments since the March, 1933, financial holiday, Crowley also said the outlook for increased banking profits was good and suggested that increases be kept in capital accounts available "to finance conversion of industry to peacetime activities" after the war.

The analysis was prepared at President Roosevelt's request and the chief executive released it at his press conference with the remark that the figures were amazing.

Crowley reported that the FDIC provides protection for 65 million bank accounts and since its establishment in 1933 "has saved from loss more than 1,250,000 depositors [99.8 per cent] in 390 insured banks."

Stock Average Sets New Peak in Fast Trade

New York, March 12 (AP).—The stock market set a 34-month average peak today in one of the fastest sessions in more than a year.

The list extended Thursday's rally at the start and, tho many favorites finished at the highs with gains of 2 or more points, large-scale profit taking on the upswing reduced prices in numerous instances at the close.

Revival of speculative and investment demand tended to offset the cloudier Russian war news.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 46.7, a top since May 11, 1940. Transfers totalled 1,972,060 shares compared with 1,429,710 Thursday and were the fourth largest since Dec. 30, 1941.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Chicago Stock exchange prices rose yesterday on turnover of 56,000 shares. Of 123 issues, 88 advanced, 12 declined, and 23 were unchanged. Chicago corporation, the volume leader, was unchanged. Other active stocks included Peabody Coal, up ⅛ to a new 1942-'43 high of 3⅝; Libby, McNeill & Libby, up ¼; Electric Household, up ¼ to a new high of 5¼, and Middle West corporation, up ¼ to 7⅛ after a new high of 7¼. Thirty-one issues reached new highs.

RAIL BONDS SET HIGHS.

New York, March 12 (AP).—In an active session marked by frequent flurries of profit taking, the bond market kept a good balance today and many rails attained the highest price in recent years.

Demand was heavy for three Central of New York issues which resulted in gains of 2 to 3 points, various loans of the Monon pushed up 1 to more than 2 points, North Western loans added 1 to nearly 2 points.

U. S. TAKES OVER BIG WAREHOUSE SPACE FOR ARMY

The government yesterday took over 1,173,000 square feet more of warehouse space in the central manufacturing district in condemnation proceedings before Federal Judge William H. Holly. The army signal corps and quartermaster division will occupy the space. The army previously had taken 1,920,000 square feet of warehousing in the district.

Space taken includes the 40,000 square feet of the Auto Sales and Service company one story building at Pershing road and Armitage avenue, 570,000 square feet in the Central Storage buildings "A," "B," "C," and "D" at 1935 to 2027 West Pershing place, 463,000 square feet in units "E" and "F" now occupied by Goldblatt Brothers at 1901 West Pershing place, and 100,000 square feet in the Goodyear building at 1901 to 2031 West Pershing road.

BROWN STUDIES SETTING UP OPA APPEAL 'COURTS'

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, has under consideration the establishment of a "court of appeals" to aid in administering price ceilings and rationing it was learned today.

Under the proposal, Brown himself would sit on the highest court, along with representatives of the public and possibly labor. "Lower courts" would be drawn from business men, lawyers, and consumers. Members of the "courts" would be called to Washington from time to time to consider price and rationing problems.

Brown was represented as believing that lawyers called upon to aid him should be "gray haired," presumably to offset criticism that OPA has too many young attorneys.

SELL 6.4 MILLION OF COOK COUNTY TAX WARRANTS

The sale of $6,400,000 in tax anticipation warrants on the 1943 county tax levy was approved yesterday by the county board. The funds will be used to operate the county, the forest preserve, and the highway department.

Indicative of a current easy money market the county will pay a 1.07 per cent interest rate on 6 million dollars of the issue and 1.12 per cent on the remaining $400,000. The low bidder was the Illinois Company of Chicago and a syndicate of six other investment companies.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, said the interest rate of 1.07 per cent compares with 1.38 per cent last year.

Details of Pay Changes Not Required of Companies

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—The internal revenue bureau has ruled that corporations need not file complete records of wage changes since Oct. 3 in connection with their 1942 income and excess profits returns. Instead, bureau officials said, they need only file a summary of the facts concerning wage changes since Oct. 3 and keep complete records available for later inspection by internal revenue agents.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK ORDERS 2 50 CENT EXTRAS

Ordinary Earnings Provide Funds.

Edward E. Brown.

Directors of the First National Bank of Chicago yesterday declared two extra dividends of 50 cents each, along with two regular quarterly payments of $2.50 each, representing a total distribution of $1,800,000 on the 300,000 shares of stock outstanding. The bank paid $10 a share in each of the last two years.

The increased disbursement was forecast last November by Edward E. Brown, president, but indications at that time were that the added payment would take the form of a dividend in stock rather than cash.

Not Ruled Unconstitutional.

Bank officers, in explaining the cash distribution, said the board's decision was prompted by the recent United States Supreme court ruling on the nontaxability of stock dividends, together with the impossibility of predicting whether congress in the 1943 tax bill would specifically permit levying income taxes on dividends paid in stock.

The high court, in effect, merely ruled in a recent oil company case that congress had not changed tax laws to specifically authorize taxes on this type of income. The court did not find such a tax to be unconstitutional when it reaffirmed its earlier decision, made in 1920.

No Commitment Made.

As an indication of the trend of bank earnings it was announced that funds for the extra disbursements came from regular banking sources. The decision to pay in cash rather than stock does not represent a commitment for or against future action with respect to possible dividends in stock, it was said.

The stock distribution had been anticipated thru realization of funds from liquidation of the trust which holds stock of the First-Chicago corporation, a former underwriting affiliate of the bank that has been in process of liquidation for several years. Brown said last November that the bank eventually would realize more than 9 million dollars from this source.

Directors of the Maine Central railroad authorized a dividend of $4.50 to apply against accumulations on the prior preferred stock.

Increases in Plantings of Tobacco Permitted

Washington, D. C., March 12 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard announced today that farmers will be allowed to increase planting allotments for flue cured, burley, dark air cured, and fire cured tobacco by 5 per cent or a tenth of an acre, whichever is more.

DICK TRACY
Rural Scene
THAT'S HIM - THAT'S MY BOY! I'VE GOT TO TAKE HIM AND GET OUT OF HERE BEFORE—
HERE'S ANOTHER CUP OF COFFEE.
WHY, YOU'RE SHAKING ALL OVER. AND YOU KEEP STARING AT THE LITTLE FELLER. DO YOU KNOW HIM?
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1943, by The Chicago Tribune.
MEANWHILE - A COUPLE OF MILES DOWN THE ROAD, DICK TRACY AND PAT PATTON COME NEARER TO THE FARMHOUSE IN THEIR SEARCH FOR JOHNNY.
KEEP YOUR EYES ON THE SNOWBANKS, PAT.
YES. HE MIGHT HAVE BEEN COVERED UP, TRACY.
CHESTER GOULD
WHILE A RURAL MAIL CARRIER, FIGHTING HIS WAY THROUGH THE STORM, PULLS UP FROM THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION TO THE FARMER'S MAILBOX,— HM! THIS PACKAGE IS TOO BIG FOR HIS MAIL BOX. I BETTER DRIVE UP TO HIS HOUSE.

SMITTY
Likewise
STILL SORE, BOSS?
YES, I CANT GET OVER HOW THAT LITTLE GUY TRICKED US..
BUT IT WAS GREAT OF GEORGE, THE INDIAN GUIDE, TO SEND THOSE SUPPLIES TO US -- HE'S ONE INDIAN IN A MILLION
MARCH 13
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1943, by The Chicago Tribune.
-- ONE INDIAN IN A MILLION I SAID !!
BERNDT
ME LIKE, HIM TOO! GULP!

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Glad to See Snow.

THE snowstorm Wednesday turned the farm into a Christmas card. The wet flakes clung to the trees and shrubs, piled high on the fence posts, and quilted the ground in white. It was appreciated, however, not solely from an esthetic standpoint, but as a warm blanket for the hayfields and as the "poor farmer's manure."

The usual March tricks of freezing and thawing are in full swing. Seedings of clover and alfalfa are in their usual danger of being heaved from the ground and the fields rendered worthless.

Snow Provides Warmth.

There was not enough snow on the ground to protect the seedings when the month began, so the workers were glad to see the blanket arrive. The snow acts as a cover, and helps to maintain a certain warmth in the ground.

In unprotected spots the subzero weather drove the frost back into the ground. In covered places the frost has not penetrated so far, and the ground will be workable much sooner.

The chief object of concern among the fields is the 31 acres which were in clover last year. The last cutting was allowed to go to seed and then was combined. Weather and other developments joined to delay the work long after it should have been done. As a result many of the plants shattered and dropped their seed to the ground.

The field was not fall plowed because it was hoped enough seed fell to do a complete job of reseeding. Bad weather now might destroy any possibility of the field being used for hay this summer.

This method of seeding a field is not normal nor could it be approved in other than war time. However, with help scarce, labor and money will have been saved if there is a good catch of clover when the snows vanish.

If a check shows that there will not be a good stand, the field will be plowed and put into either corn or soy beans.

More Corn Planned.

The farm manager has almost completed his final plans for cropping the farm this year, and as soon as his map is finished it will be reproduced here. There will be a heavy accent on corn with less pasture acreage. Small, odd patches which have been in lawn or lain idle will be put to work this year as pastures for the beef cattle and other stock.

The men have been able to get a corn sheller and recently shelled out 500 bushels of corn. The beef steers were getting too much ground corn and cob and several started to scour. The men believe that if some of the ground feed is replaced by shelled corn the trouble will stop. The shelled corn also is needed for the brood sows.

NOT TAXABLE.

Is the money sent home to a dependent by a person in military service considered taxable income? How about the amount the government adds, is that taxable? We have had many inquiries and no one seems to be sure of the correct way to handle this item.—B. E.

Answer: The dependent is not required to report as income any amount received from some one in military service. The soldier or sailor, however, reports this money as part of his taxable income and may be required to pay a tax on it. The amount added by the government is a gift and is not subject to income tax.

CAN'T PAY.

Because of heavy expenses in connection with my illness last year I may not be able to pay the first installment of my income tax in full. What am I to do about this?—C. E.

Answer: Pay what you can and write to the Collector of Internal Revenue, U. S. Courthouse, Chicago, explaining why you cannot pay the full quarterly installment due March 15. The collector will probably arrange a conference to see what solution can be worked out. In computing your income tax you are entitled to deduct medical expenses to the extent that they exceed 5 per cent of net income before taking such expenses into account.

WORTHLESS IN 1941.

Some years ago I purchased 10 shares of A preferred stock of the Wabash Railway company, now the Wabash Railroad company as a result of a reorganization. Can I deduct the cost of this stock from my 1942 taxable income?—S. M.

Answer: The A preferred stock of the Wabash Railway became worthless in 1941 for income tax purposes, therefore you cannot take any deduction against your 1942 income. You may, however, file an amended return for 1941 in order to take advantage of the capital loss incurred when the stock became worthless.

NOT DEPENDENT.

My sister keeps house for me, and I pay all her expenses altho she receives no salary. She pays a federal income tax on the dividends and interest she receives from investments. Am I considered the head of the amily?—W. E.

Answer: You do not qualify as the head of the family for income tax purposes, unless your sister is unable to support herself because of physical or mental disability. If she is incapable of self-support, you may claim the head of family exemption.

A Bouquet from Mrs. Clifton Woodall and a Bouquet to her from Dean's
One Quart
Dean's
Bottled in the Country
Grade A
Pasteurized-Homogenized

"We've tried at least 4 other brands of milk—and Dean's, we find, is best"

That's how Mrs. Clifton Woodall reported her family experience seeking better milk. "My husband," she continued, "is very fond of milk and says that Dean's is so distinctive in character that he can always tell the difference. He particularly appreciates its greater richness and fresher flavor. My children, also, enjoy Dean's. It will be our preferred milk for many years to come."

* * *

Buy a quart of Dean's today and compare! Until you compare you will never realize what a difference there can be in milk. Remember that Dean's is bottled in the country with all the cream left in. That makes a difference. Dean's is pasteurized immediately upon receipt at the dairy—never tank trucked 50, 60 or 70 miles before pasteurization. That, too, makes a difference. And the difference between Dean's and others will be noticed when you take your first taste. And you'll say to yourself: "Here, at last, is real country milk—and it's wonderful!"
